Art And Architecture Of Turkey:

The Art and Architecture of Turkey Ekrem Akurgal, 1980 The Cambridge History of Turkey Kate Fleet, Suraiya Faruqi, Reşat Kasaba, 2006 Publisher Description Art and Architecture in Turkey (Istanbul) and Iran Hossein Manoochehri, Dr Hossein Manoochehri Ph D, 2016-09-07 Many architectural features in Turkey are similar to those in Iran Both countries have mosques, bazaars and residences built by the use of bricks The historic city of Istanbul however lies in the European part of Turkey and therefore has many architectural features similar to European countries A comparative pictorial introduction of the architectural features in Istanbul Turkey to the architectural features in the historic cities of Iran is the main focus of this volume titled A Comparative Pictorial Introduction of Art and Architecture in Turkey Istanbul and Iran Turkish Art and Architecture in Anatolia & Mimar Sinan Selçuk Mülâyim, 2005 This book is an attempt to outline the development of art and architecture in Anatolia While covering the works made possible by this genius who holds an unsurpassed position in the history of Turkey as well as the handicrafts of the same period each in their own sections the book tries to highlight both the architectural currents existing prior to Sinan and those architectural creations in Post Sinan periods that remained faithful to his legacy The final section rounds out by discussing such traditional art forms as woodworking metal working tilemaking cloth miniatures carpets hat calligraphy and tezhip gold gilding or illumination which served as complementary elements of architecture Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World (2 Vol. Set) Susan Sinclair, C. H. Bleaney, Pablo García Suárez, 2012 Following the tradition and style of the acclaimed Index Islamicus the editors have created this new Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World The editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all European languages except Turkish between 1906 and 2011 This comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in Muslim societies Turkish Art and Architecture Giovanni Curatola, 2010-11-02 This vibrantly illustrated volume chronicles nearly a millennium of Islamic art and architecture in Turkey Illustrated with some 250 attractive and well chosen color photographs Turkish Art and Architecture is fascinating reading for anyone with an interest in Turkey and an essential reference for any student of Islamic art and architecture The Anatolian peninsula one of the oldest seats of civilization has been ruled by a succession of great powers including the Romans and their successors in the East the Byzantines Its Islamic era began in 1071 when the Seljuk Turks nomads from Central Asia who had already taken control of Persia defeated the Byzantine army at Manzikert and moved west creating a new sultanate in Anatolia The Seljuks were eventually succeeded in this region by the Ottoman Turks who crossed the Bosphorus to conquer an exhausted Constantinople in 1453 and went on to extend their power far beyond the borders of modern Turkey establishing an empire that endured until the early twentieth century Ruling over a land that had always been at the crossroads of east and west these Islamic dynasties developed a cosmopolitan art and architecture As art historian Giovanni Curatola demonstrates in this insightful new book they combined elements of the prestigious Persian style and memories of their nomadic past with local Mediterranean traditions and also adopted local building materials such as stone and wood Curatola introduces us first to the new types of buildings introduced by the Seljuks like the caravansary and the tomb or mausoleum and then to the sophisticated architectural achievements of the Ottomans which culminated in the great domed mosques constructed by the master builder Mimar Sinan d 1588 He also traces the history of the decorative arts in Turkey which included lavishly ornamented carpets manuscripts armor and ceramics Turkish Art and Architecture Oktay Aslanapa, Atatürk Supreme Council. Atatürk Culture Centre, 2004 Turkey Sibel Bozdoğan, Esra Akcan, 2013-02-15 Turkey Modern Architectures in History offers a journey through the iconic buildings of Turkey that begins with the end of World War I when the new Turkish Republic was born out of the disintegration of the Ottoman Empire includes its democratization in the midst of the Cold War s competing ideologies and concludes with the present day in which Turkey continues to be dramatically transformed through globalization economic integration and a renewed appreciation for its Islamic and Ottoman heritage Sibel Bozdoğan and Esra Akcan explore modern institutional masterpieces and architect designed buildings through the decades Their focus includes informal residential plans and they discuss how these have evolved from small settlements to colossal urban quarters that exist at a slippery threshold of legality This richly informative history of Turkey s built environment goes beyond typical surveys of Western modern architecture and is unique in tackling the issue of the modern and contemporary periods that are often omitted in studies of Islamic art and architecture Offering a perceptive overview of modern Turkish architecture this book places it within the larger social political and cultural context of the country s development as a modern nation in the twentieth century TURKEY [Turkiye] (Istanbul) And IRAN Hossein Manoochehri, PH D, 2023-08-02 Architectural features such as the forms designs and decorations of buildings are major attractions for all people around world Although a few thousand years ago very few individuals were able to travel to other nations at the present a majority of populations are able to travel to other countries to get knowledge about other cultures other peoples and other architectural features Today millions of people travel to other countries just to see how peoples foods living environments and forms and designs of buildings in other countries look like The present series is a contribution to make available for all people around the world to see in pictures the architectural features i e forms designs decorations of buildings in selected countries It is a comparative pictorial introduction of architectural features in six selected countries to show the talents skills and masterships of builders in creation of architectural forms and designs in the selected countries More specifically there are two main architectural styles in Europe as well as in mountainous countries such as Armenia and Georgia and in Iran While a stone architecture is common in Europe and in the mountainous countries a clay architecture is used in Iran A comparative display of the two styles the stone vs clay architecture therefore is the main theme of the series titled A Comparative Display Of Art And Architecture The third volume of this series is about architectural styles in Turkey

Turkiye Istanbul and Iran Using a functional equivalency approach the series focuses on architectural features from Europe and mountainous countries and Iran that while structurally are different functionally are similar or have similarity with each other For example both a church and a mosque are religious buildings with similar functions but with different structures Although there are numerous published books about art and architecture in Europe or in Iran separately but none makes a comparative introduction using a functional equivalency approach The present series therefore should be regarded as the first original work that seeks to present a comparative pictorial introduction of two different architectural styles stone vs clay architectural styles by displaying their main features side by side For example the illustrations are grouped into several categories Introduction i e 1 Historic or Heritage Buildings 2 Stone Khachkar vs Brick or Tile decorations and 3 Religious Buildings Churches vs Jam a mosques Otherwise assuming that the images collected and presented in this volume are also presented randomly in some other books about art and architecture in Armenia or in Iran an estimated 50 to 100 books on the subjects of art and architecture in either Turkey Turkiye or Iran should be browsed over here or there to find similar images collected in this volume Volume III of this series compares architectural features in Turkey Turkiye Istanbul to similar clay architectural features in Iran Many architectural features in Turkey are similar to those in Iran Both countries have mosques baazaars and residences built by the use of bricks The historic city of Istanbul however lies in the European part of Turkey and therefore has many architectural features similar to European countries The work is expected to make available for the readers a quick and an easy comparative views of the architectural forms and designs in Turkey Istanbul as compared to their similar clay architectural features in historic cities of Iran

Architecture in Translation Esra Akcan, 2012-07-12 Esra Akcan describes the introduction of modern architecture into Turkey after the Kemalist political elite took power in 1923 and invited German architects to redesign the new capital of Ankara. Entangled Histories of the Balkans - Volume Four Roumen Dontchev Daskalov, Diana Mishkova, Tchavdar Marinov, Alexander Vezhenkov, 2017-02-06 The present volume is the last in the Entangled Balkans series and marks the end of several years of research guided by the transnational entangled history and histoire croisée approaches. The essays in this volume address theoretical and methodological issues of Balkan or Southeast European regional studies, not only questions of scholarly concepts, definitions, and approaches, but also the extra scholarly ideological, political, and geopolitical motivations that underpin them. These issues are treated more systematically and by a presentation of their historical evolution in various national traditions and schools. Some of the essays deal with the articulation of certain forms of Balkan heritage in relation to the geographical spread and especially the cultural definition of the Balkan area. Concepts and definitions of the Balkans are thus complemented by self representations that reflect on their cultural foundations
