Art History: The Key Concepts Jonathan Harris,2006-10-16 A comprehensive critical guide Art History The Key Concepts considers the full range of issues facing the field today drawing on related areas such as cultural theory and media studies     The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students

Competitive Archaeology in Jordan Elena Corbett, 2015-01-15 An examination of archaeology in Jordan and Palestine Competitive Archaeology in Jordan explores how antiquities have been used to build narratives and national identities Tracing Jordanian history and the importance of Jerusalem within that history Corbett analyzes how both foreign and indigenous powers have engaged in a competition over ownership of antiquities and the power to craft history and geography based on archaeological artifacts She begins with the Ottoman and British Empires under whose rule the institutions and borders of modern Jordan began to take shape asking how they used antiquities in varying ways to advance their imperial projects Corbett continues through the Mandate era and the era of independence of an expanded Hashemite Kingdom examining how the Hashemites and other factions both within and beyond Jordan have tried to define national identity by drawing upon antiquities Competitive Archaeology in Jordan traces a complex history through the lens of archaeology's power as a modern science to create and give value to spaces artifacts peoples narratives and academic disciplines It thus considers the role of archaeology in realizing Jordan's modernity drawing its map delineating sacred and secular spaces validating taxonomies of citizens justifying legal frameworks and institutions of state determining logos of the nation for display on stamps currency and in museums and writing history Framing Jordan's history in this way Corbett illustrates the manipulation of archaeology by governments institutions and individuals to craft narratives draw borders and create national identities

Art - Ethics - Education , 2020-08-03 This book can be viewed as a series of investigations into the ongoing imbrications of the practices of art ethics and education as conducted within each author's specific context of practice as artist educator researcher It constitutes an international anthology of explorations that are by no means exclusive but conscious of the ongoing iterations mutations and individuations of relations between art ethics and education which in turn seek to expand how we might conceive these terms as practices This ongoing evolution reminds us that as practices art ethics and education are always incomplete processes affected by and affecting their specific milieus and environments Chapters within the book cover a wide range of ethical questions and educational contexts broaching subjects as varied as higher education artificial intelligence animal ethics transcultural encounters collaborative art the education of senior citizens and experiences of conflict Art ethics and education are not conceived in terms of established orders representations ideals criteria or bodies of knowledge and practice but rather in terms of dynamic relational processes and their potentialities that arise within specific locations cartographies and ecologies of practice The notions of art ethics and education are viewed in terms of assemblages that have the capacity to generate new modes of practice that may question established values and advance new overlappings of aesthetic ethical and political relations Contributors are Dennis Atkinson Hashim Al Azzam John Baldacchino Bazon Brock Carl Peter Buschkhle Sahin

A Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture, 2 Volume Set Finbarr Barry Flood, Gulru Necipoglu, 2017-09-13 The two volume Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture bridges the gap between monograph and survey text by providing a new level of access and interpretation to Islamic art. The more than 50 newly commissioned essays revisit canonical topics and include original approaches and scholarship on neglected aspects of the field. This two volume Companion showcases more than 50 specially commissioned essays and an introduction that surveys Islamic art and architecture in all its traditional grandeur. Essays are organized according to a new chronological geographical paradigm that remaps the unprecedented expansion of the field and reflects the nuances of major artistic and political developments during the 1400 year span. The Companion represents recent developments in the field and encourages future horizons by commissioning innovative essays that provide fresh perspectives on canonical subjects such as early Islamic art, sacred spaces, palaces, urbanism, ornament, arts of the book and the portable arts, while introducing others that have been previously neglected, including unexplored geographies and periods, transregional connectivities, talismans and magic, consumption and networks of portability, museums and collecting, and contemporary art worlds. The essays entail strong comparative and historiographic dimensions. The volumes are accompanied by a map and each subsection is preceded by a brief outline of the main cultural and historical developments during the period in question. The volumes include periods and regions typically excluded from survey books, including modern and contemporary art, architecture, China, Indonesia, Sub-Saharan Africa, Sicily, the New World, Americas.
