Dreamkeepers A Spirit Journey Into Aboriginal Australia:

Dreamkeepers Harvey Arden, 1994 Looks inside the world of the Australian aborigines focusing on their cultural traditions their spirit journey and the concept of the Dreamtime Travel Writing from Black Australia Robert Clarke, 2015-11-19 Over the past thirty years the Australian travel experience has been Aboriginalized Aboriginality has been appropriated to furnish the Australian nation with a unique and identifiable tourist brand This is deeply ironic given the realities of life for many Aboriginal people in Australian society On the one hand Aboriginality in the form of artworks literature performances landscapes sport and famous individuals is celebrated for the way it blends exoticism mysticism multiculturalism nationalism and reconciliation On the other hand in the media cinema and travel writing Aboriginality in the form of the lived experiences of Aboriginal people has been exploited in the service of moral panic patronized in the name of white benevolence or simply ignored For many travel writers this irony the clash between different regimes of valuing Aboriginality is one of the great challenges to travelling in Australia Travel Writing from Black Australia examines the ambivalence of contemporary travelers engagements with Aboriginality Concentrating on a period marked by the rise of discourses on Aboriginality championing indigenous empowerment self determination and reconciliation the author analyses how travel to Black Australia has become for many travelers a means of discovering new and potentially transformative styles of interracial engagement

Donlan,2009 Many people believe in the Power of Positive Thinking but no one has succeeded in credibly explaining how mere thoughts can tangibly influence future occurrences To explain the connection this book presents a new paradigm of nature and couples it with a convincing explanation of how our right brain hemispheres have a unique ability to tap into the hidden domain of the metaphysical To support this premise the reader is lightly exposed to the divergent worlds of physics and metaphysics and is then introduced to a new view of nature that undeniably links mind to matter Important to its charge the new perspective makes the case that the future can only be created with thoughts In the final analysis the author brings his readers through the necessary steps to put this knowledge to work to help them create their own realities Travels

Donlan,2009 Many people believe in the Power of Positive Thinking but no one had succeeded in credibly explaining how mere thoughts can tangibly influence future occurrences To explain the connection Joseph Donlan presented highly plausible theories in two preceding books Each of these books presents a new paradigm of nature and couples it with a convincing explanation of how our right brain hemispheres have a unique ability to tap into the hidden domain of the metaphysical This final book in the series also supports these premises however it does so at a higher more condensed level so that readers with no background in science can gain enough information to appreciate the divergent worlds of physics and metaphysics and gain a view of nature that undeniably links mind to matter

The Postsecular Sacred David Tacey, 2019-07-16

In The Postsecular Sacred Jung Soul and Meaning in an Age of Change David Tacey presents a unique psychological study of the postsecular adding a Jungian perspective to a debate shaped by sociology philosophy and religious studies In this interdisciplinary exploration Tacey looks at the unexpected return of the sacred in Western societies and how the sacred is changing our understanding of humanity and culture Beginning with Jung's belief that the psyche has never been secular Tacey examines the new desire for spiritual experience and presents a logic of the unconscious to explain it Tacey argues that what has fuelled the postsecular momentum is the awareness that something is missing and the idea that this could be buried in the unconscious is dawning on sociologists and philosophers While the instinct to connect to something greater is returning Tacey shows that this need not imply that we are regressing to superstitions that science has rejected The book explores indigenous spirituality in the context of the need to reanimate the world not by going back to the past but by being inspired by it There are chapters on ecopsychology and quantum physics and using Australia as a case study the book also examines the resistance of secular societies to becoming postsecular Approaching postsecularism through a Jungian perspective Tacey argues that we should understand God in a manner that accords with the time not go back to archaic rejected images of divinity The sacred is returning in an age of terrorism and this is not without significance in terms of the explosive impact of spirituality in our time Innovative and relevant to the world we live in this will be of great interest to academics and scholars of Jungian studies anthropology indigenous studies philosophy religious studies and sociology due to its transdisciplinary scope It would also be a useful resource for analytical psychologists Jungian analysts and psychotherapists
