Drug Use And Social Policy:

Drug Abuse and Social Policy in America Barry Stimmel, 2014-01-21 Illicit drugs despite the war waged by the United States government remain a tremendous drain on the American economy and continue to take their toll on the lives of countless Americans A comprehensive text with an instructor's manual Drug Abuse and Social Policy in America analyzes why current US policy on the use of licit and illicit mood altering drugs has failed This groundbreaking book addresses differences between decriminalization legalization and zero tolerance areas and philosophies that are poorly understood and suggests a multipronged approach to diminish inappropriate drug use Physicians health care providers teachers law enforcement officers policymakers social service providers and students of public policy and health will gain a better understanding of substance abuse as a societal problem rather than an individual problem and see that the billions of dollars spent on law enforcement would be better spent on education prevention treatment and providing alternatives to drug use Currently the leading risk factor associated with the transmission of HIV illicit drugs continue to destroy the fabric of life in many inner city communities Yet drugs are a problem for Americans from every corner of society from suburban teenagers to pro athletes to homeless people Author Barry Stimmel demonstrates in Drug Abuse and Social Policy in America that the drug problem is not being addressed adequately because of a lack of commitment from the majority of Americans and government leaders The issues Drug Abuse and Social Policy in America asks readers to confront include Why do we provide insufficient treatment facilities and incarcerate users yet wonder why more prison space is needed Why do we readily agree to build more prisons rather than community centers that provide alternatives for youths Why are we concerned with teenage smoking and drinking yet allow advertising of these substances Why do we advocate rehabilitation but not hire people in recovery Why do we ask pregnant women with drug problems to seek help then try to take custody of their children rather than provide social support while they receive treatment Drug Abuse and Social Policy in America challenges academics practitioners and future social service providers and policymakers to rethink their entire conception of the problem of substance abuse in America with a cutting question Have we made any substantial progress in diminishing the use of nicotine the excessive consumption of alcohol or the inappropriate use of prescription drugs all of which are responsible for more illnesses and societal costs than all illicit drugs combined Identifying this as the place where all efforts to curb drug use must start Drug Abuse and Social Policy in America offers readers many ways that individuals communities organizations and society can take action and be more effective in convincing both those who consume drugs and those who profit from their sale that their actions are inappropriate and unacceptable

Understanding Crime and Social Policy Emma Wincup, 2013-05-30 Understanding crime and social policy explores the interface between crime and social policy drawing upon international theoretical developments and empirical research from within Criminology and Social Policy Written by an experienced author it uses analysis of policy making under the New Labour and Conservative Liberal Democrat governments to reflect upon the multiplicity of influences which shape the formulation and delivery of crime control policies the changing nature of government and governance in neo liberal societies and the enhanced role of the welfare state in solving crime problems A unique feature of the book is the inclusion of policy examples including the resettlement of prisoners problem drug use and troubled families Understanding crime and social policy encourages readers to reflect upon the close connections and sometimes tensions between crime reduction and social policy agendas and is aimed at two audiences The first is students on courses in criminology criminal justice and social policy The second is practitioners from across the public private and voluntary sector Drug Addiction and Drug Policy Philip B. Heymann, William N. Brownsberger, 2001-07-15

Do drug addicts have an illness or is the addiction under their control Should they be treated as patients or as criminals Challenging the conventional wisdom the authors draw on recent debate in law public policy medicine and biopsychology to show that these standard dichotomies are themselves false AIDS and Social Policy in

GROUPS: A SOCIAL POLICY PERSPECTIVE Deniz SAY ŞAHİN, Sevinç PEHLİVAN SÜTLÜ, 2022-01-19 Universal Declaration of Human Rights begins as All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights and Everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration without distinction of any kind such as race colour sex language religion political or other opinion national or social origin property birth or other status But some segments of the society have more rights and freedoms than others Although the Others have been given names such as Groups that Need Special Protection they are now called Disadvantaged Groups and include children young people addicts the elderly the disabled immigrants minorities ex convicts women single parent families the poor Considering that the majority of the world's population consists of children young people women and the elderly it is obvious that the problems of disadvantaged groups are actually the problems of society Although the groups are counted individually a person is in more than one group The disadvantaged poor child can grow up to be a woman who becomes a single parent Drug Abuse Prevention and Treatment Legislation, 1975

Social Policy for Children and Families Jeffrey M. Jenson,Mark W. Fraser,2011 Rev ed of Social policy for children families a risk and resilience perspective 2006      The Politics and Morality of Deviance Nachman

Ben-Yehuda,1990-01-01 The Politics and Morality of Deviance develops a theoretical framework and then applies it to four different and specific case studies in an explicit attempt to put the sociology of deviance back into mainstream sociology It argues that deviance should be analyzed as a relative phenomenon in different and changing cultures vis a vis change and stability in the boundaries of different symbolic moral universes It also argues that the legitimization of power should be thought of in terms of a moral order that in turn defines the societal boundaries of different symbolic moral universes Mills concept of motivational accounting systems is utilized throughout the text in order to illustrate how the micro and macro levels of analysis can be integrated      Applying Social Policy to Criminal Justice Practice Clive Sealey,2023-09-12

This book aims to make clear the interconnections between social policy and criminal justice practice bringing together key social policy concepts within a framework for reducing reoffending rates The book focuses on the key social policy issues of employment health and mental health low income and poverty housing and family It shows how understanding and treating these as issues interconnected to criminal justice outcomes can and does lead to improvements in criminal justice practice This book enables students and criminal justice practitioners to understand how a social policy focus can better inform practice with those involved in the criminal justice system It features a 10 point summary of key points for learning chapter heading questions to support independent learning tables and graphs to illustrate the text      Black Women, Cultural Images and Social Policy Julia S. Jordan-Zachery,2009-01-13 Black Women Cultural Images and Social Policy offers a critical analysis of the policy making process Jordan Zachery demonstrates how social meanings surrounding the discourses on crime welfare and family policies produce and reproduce discursive practices that maintain gender and racial hierarchies Using critical discourse analysis CDA she analyzes the values and ideologies ensconced in the various images of black womanhood and their impact on policy formation This book provides exceptional insight into the racing gendering process of policy making to show how relations of power and forms of inequality are discursively constructed and impact the lives of African American women

Social Policy and Social Change Jillian Jimenez,Eileen Mayers Pasztor,Ruth M.
