Blood at the Bookies Simon Brett, 2009 The ninth Fethering mystery featuring amateur detectives Carole and Jude. The bets are on whodunnit when a body is found at the bookies. Jude has never been averse to a bit of a flutter, her friend Carole on the other hand thinks that the local betting shop is a den of iniquity. But when Jude stumbles upon the body of Polish immigrant Tadeusz Jankowski the race is on to find his killer. The odds aren't looking good. No one seems to know anything about the mysterious Tadek even his sister can't shed any light on what he was doing in Fethering. Who was the anonymous woman in the bookies who seems to have vanished? Why was Tadek interested in the local university? And who is the Fifi Tadek spoke of with his dying breath? As they question the local residents Carol finds an unexpected friend in an inveterate gambler and Jude finds herself in potentially more trouble than she can handle with a lecherous and charming drama professor. In this race there can only be one winner but with no leads and several suspects in the running will our lady detectives be pipped at the post by a cold and calculating killer?

Death and the Decorator Simon Brett, 2022-07-05 Neighbours Carole and Jude uncover more than they bargained for when Jude decides to redecorate her cottage in this lighthearted cosy mystery. An edgy cozy filled with dry wit and deft plot twists. Booklist Starred Review. Having decided to redecorate Woodside Cottage Jude has engaged the services of local man Pete who has painted and decorated the homes of Fethering residents for many years. Pete is currently working on Footscrow House a large Victorian building which is being converted into holiday flats by a local developer. Having arranged to meet at Fiasco House as it is known locally due to the many failed business enterprises over the years Jude and Pete make a surprising discovery behind a wall panel a woman's handbag. The casual discovery becomes serious when the police identify the handbag's owner as Anita Garner a young woman who vanished in suspicious circumstances twenty years earlier. Determined to find out what really happened to Anita all those years ago Jude and her neighbour Carole's investigations plunge them into a maze of deception and murder as they uncover a number of uncomfortable secrets beneath the serene surface of Fethering life.

An Untidy Death Simon Brett, 2021-08-01 When the body of a prospective client is discovered in her burned out home declutterer Ellen Curtis is drawn into a baffling investigation where nothing is as it first appears. My mother's going to kill herself. That is if I don't kill her first. When Alexandra Richards approaches professional declutterer Ellen Curtis to ask her to help sort out her mother's chaotic flat Ellen gets the impression Alexandra doesn't like her mother very much. But when Ingrid Richards' body is discovered in her burned out home Alexandra's exasperated words don't seem such a joke. Due to the hazardous state of the victim's overcluttered residence the police are inclined to dismiss her death as an unfortunate accident. Ellen's not so sure. Could Alexandra's resentment towards her mother have escalated into outright violence? The more she discovers about the dead woman's remarkable past the more convinced Ellen becomes that there's something decidedly suspicious about her death. At least she can console herself that clearing out widower Edward Finch's bungalow will be a straightforward job in
