Working in the Archives Alexis E. Ramsey, Wendy B Sharer, Barbara L'Eplattenier, Lisa Mastrangelo- Do Not Use, 2009-12-14 Archival research of any magnitude can be daunting With this in mind Alexis E Ramsey Wendy B Sharer Barbara L Eplattenier and Lisa Mastrangelo have developed an indispensable volume for the first time researcher as well as the seasoned scholar Working in the Archives is a guide to the world of rhetoric and composition archives from locating an archival source and its materials to establishing one's own collection of archival materials This practical volume provides insightful information on a variety of helpful topics such as basic archival theory processes and principles the use of hidden or digital archives the intricacies of searching for and using letters and photographs strategies for addressing the dilemmas of archival organization without damaging the provenance of materials the benefits of seeking sources outside academia and the difficult yet often rewarding aspects of research on the Internet Working in the Archives moves beyond the basics to discuss the more personal and emotional aspects of archival work through the inclusion of interviews with experienced researchers such as Lyn e Lewis Gaillet Peter Mortensen Kathryn Fitzgerald Kenneth Lindblom and David Gold Each shares his or her personal stories of the joys and challenges that face today's researchers Packed with useful recommendations this volume draws on the knowledge and experiences of experts to present a well rounded guidebook to the often winding paths of academic archival investigation These in depth yet user friendly essays provide crucial answers to the myriad questions facing both fledgling and practiced researchers making Working in the Archives an essential resource

Rhetoric in the Twenty-First Century Nicholas J. Crowe, David A.

Frank, 2016-04-26 This book arises from a symposium held in Oxford to consider the most fruitful trajectories of rhetoric in the 21st century The gathering comprised an international delegation of leading scholars convened to assess from an array of perspectives the various possible futures of the ancient discipline of rhetoric as it responds vitally to the evolving contexts of the new millennium This collection commemorates that event by extending its scrutiny into a number of specific fields of inquiry It includes a foreword by Prof James J Murphy an introductory article by the editors and six further articles commissioned from among the participants The introduction provides a detailed account of the symposium and foregrounds the delegates articles with a r sum of their arguments and consequent relevance to the overarching theme Each contribution is a freshly minted and original piece of scholarship true to the generative and interactive spirit of the enterprise and speaking pertinently to the field of international rhetoric studies at the present time Rhetoric in the Twenty First Century addresses a spectrum of concerns Scholars and students of rhetoric and language use will naturally find much of interest here and the inclusive ambit of the work will also appeal to students of ethics religion comparative literature intercultural studies and the growing field of communication studies The Oxford Handbook of Biblical Studies J. W. Rogerson, Judith M. Lieu, 2006-03-16 Presents a survey of research in this technical and diverse field that is useful for scholars and students who need to command linguistic historical literary and philosophical skills This title includes forty five contributions that review and analyse thinking and work and examines the progress and direction of the debates A New History of Classical Rhetoric George A. Kennedy, 2009-07-01 George Kennedy s three volumes on classical rhetoric have long been regarded as authoritative treatments of the subject This new volume an extensive revision and abridgment of The Art of Persuasion in Greece The Art of Rhetoric in the Roman World and Greek Rhetoric under Christian Emperors provides a comprehensive history of classical rhetoric one that is sure to become a standard for its time Kennedy begins by identifying the rhetorical features of early Greek literature that anticipated the formulation of metarhetoric or a theory of rhetoric in the fifth and fourth centuries b c e and then traces the development of that theory through the Greco Roman period He gives an account of the teaching of literary and oral composition in schools and of Greek and Latin oratory as the primary rhetorical genre He also discusses the overlapping disciplines of ancient philosophy and religion and their interaction with rhetoric The result is a broad and engaging history of classical rhetoric that will prove especially useful for students and for others who want an overview of classical rhetoric in condensed form A Handbook of Persuasive Tactics Joan Mulholland, 2003-09-02 Most people have to communicate with colleagues every day and persuade them to understand their opinions or to accept their views This handbook is intended for anyone who is interested in such goal oriented language It extracts 300 persuasive tactics from research findings in communication linguistics pragmatics and related fields and presents them in a clear concise and consistent manner Such tactics as analogy argument presentation humour and metaphor are included Each tactic is presented on a separate page with an analysis of its persuasive value Two indexes one by persuasive need and the other by tactic allow readers full flexibility to use the handbook in their own way This work should be of interest in courses which deal with the management of interaction pragmatics discourse analysis and communications Subject Catalog training in writing and delivering speeches was a fundamental part of renaissance culture and education It is concerned with a wide range of issues connected with style argument self presentation the arousal of emotion voice and gesture More than 3 500 works on rhetoric were published in a total of over 15 000 editions between 1460 and 1700 The renaissance was a great age of innovation in rhetorical theory This book shows how renaissance scholars recovered and circulated classical rhetoric texts how they absorbed new doctrines from Greek rhetoric and how they adapted classical rhetorical teaching to fit modern conditions It traces the development of specialised manuals in letter writing sermon composition and style alongside accounts of the major Latin treatises in the field by Lorenzo Valla George Trapezuntius Rudolph Agricola Erasmus Philip Melanchthon Johann Sturm Juan Luis Vives Peter Ramus Cyprien Soares Justus Lipsius Gerard Vossius and many others

Conversational Rhetoric Jane Donawerth, 2011-11-28 Much of the scholarly exchange regarding the history of women in rhetoric has emphasized women s rhetorical practices In Conversational Rhetoric The Rise and Fall of a Women s Tradition 1600 1900 Jane Donawerth traces the historical development of rhetorical theory by women for women studying the moments when women produced theory about the arts of communication in alternative genres humanist treatises and dialogues defenses of women s preaching conduct books and elocution handbooks She examines the relationship between communication and gender and between theory and pedagogy and argues that women constructed a theory of rhetoric based on conversation not public speaking as a model for all discourse Donawerth traces the development of women s rhetorical theory through the voices of English and American women and one much translated French woman over three centuries She demonstrates how they cultivated theories of rhetoric centered on conversation that faded once women began writing composition textbooks for mixed gender audiences in the latter part of the nineteenth century She recovers and elucidates the importance of the theories in dialogues and defenses of women s education by Bathsua Makin Mary Astell and Madeleine de Scud ry in conduct books by Hannah More Lydia Sigourney and Eliza Farrar in defenses of women s preaching by Ellen Stewart Lucretia Mott Catherine Booth and Frances Willard and in elocution handbooks by Anna Morgan Hallie Quinn Brown Genevieve Stebbins and Emily Bishop In each genre Donawerth explores facets of women s rhetorical theory such as the recognition of the gendered nature of communication in conduct books the incorporation of the language of women s rights in the defenses of women s preaching and the adaptation of sentimental culture to the cultivation of women s bodies as tools of communication in elocution books Rather than a linear history Conversational Rhetoric follows the starts stops and starting over in women s rhetorical theory It covers a broad range of women s rhetorical theory in the Anglo American world and places them in their social rhetorical and gendered historical contexts This study adds women s rhetorical theory to the rhetorical tradition advances our understanding of women s theories and their use of rhetoric and offers a paradigm for analyzing the differences between men s and women s rhetoric from 1600 to 1900 Resources in Education ,1996-04 A

Briefer Practical Rhetoric John Scott Clark, 1891 The Joy of Teaching Peter Filene, 2009-11-13 Gathering concepts and techniques borrowed from outstanding college professors The Joy of Teaching provides helpful guidance for new instructors developing and teaching their first college courses Award winning professor Peter Filene proposes that teaching should not be like a baseball game in which the instructor pitches ideas to students to see whether they hit or strike out Ideally he says teaching should resemble a game of Frisbee in which the teacher invites students to catch ideas and pass them on Rather than prescribe any single model for success Filene lays out the advantages and disadvantages of various pedagogical strategies inviting new teachers to make choices based on their own personalities values and goals Filene tackles everything from syllabus writing and lecture planning to class discussions grading and teacher student interactions outside the classroom The book s down to earth accessible style makes it appropriate for new teachers in all fields Instructors in the humanities the social sciences and the natural sciences will all welcome its invaluable tips for successful teaching and learning
