Inclusive Cities Kalpana Markandey,B. Srinagesh,2014-01-01 The present study is an effort to delve into the housing market in Hyderabad where a gap between the demand and supply is very obvious It is found that while the houses of the upper and upper middle class continue to boom the middle class is found wobbling for want of housing the lower echelons of the socio economic strata again have some amount of assistance by way of governmental schemes to provide housing The shift from independent houses to multistoried complexes is also very much evident in Hyderabad over a period of time The recommendations that flow out from this study are that land meant for housing the underprivileged should be supported and funds at low rates of interest should be provided for construction purpose Home loan rates should be lowered as also the Income Tax exemption limit on home loan interest repayment Development of integrated township in the area which can also house information technology firms can be taken up The development of the township can be undertaken in the private public partnership The poor can be provided access to safe drinking water and drainage Also pollution control and personal safety in slums can help the poor This will cut down the health costs of the less privileged Inclusiveness in housing can be brought about by providing reasonably priced housing and also by guarding rental housing and ensuring that people are not displaced due to reasons beyond their control This is apart from providing a well knit society more so that which is assorted from the religious cultural and caste point of view giving a multi cultural touch to the society which will be healthy tolerant and nationalistic independent The new leaders of the nation formulated many goals for India's speedy development Among these was the promise to provide all urban citizens with decent housing and thus to clear all slums This promise structures this book It is divided into two sets of questions The first one refers to the past It was apparently necessary to express concern about the poor housing and sanitary provisions for many citizens before 1947 What was hence the situation of urban living during the approximately 150 years of colonial rule What measures were taken or not taken for improvement The promise to provide decent housing in independent India structures the second part of this book through a second set of questions What were the public actions to bring the promise nearer by What has been realized what faded away finally The analysis ends in the mid 1960s when the role of public actors with regard to housing and the living environment diminished and the idea of self help and just marginal improvements of hut areas gained ground Finally some answers to the question why Indian society has as yet not been able to find adequate answers to the lack of decent housing for a majority of its citizens are formulated The book brings detailed in depth knowledge on urban housing and sanitation on several Indian cities together in a comparative manner and places this local knowledge in a broader context crossing urban borders Please note This title is co published with Manohar Publishers New Delhi Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka The Indian Geographical Journal ,1991 Journal of the Madras Geographical Association ,1992 Includes Proceedings of the conferences and annual meetings of the association Urbanization and Urban Development in India Meera Kosambi,1994
