Scarabs, Chronology, and Interconnections Daphna Ben-Tor, 2007 Anhand der Fossilien des Pillendreher Skarabaus erforscht Daphna Ben Tor die Beziehungen zwischen Agypten und der Levante im Zeitraum der 12 und 13 Dynastie Schon vor langerer Zeit wurde die Bedeutung von Skarabaen Fossilien zur historischen Rekonstruktion des Verhältnisses zwischen Agypten und der Levante entdeckt Doch die Kontroverse über die Typologie von Skarabaen schloss sie als verlässliche historische Quelle aus Diese Studie schlägt eine neue Typologie der Pillendreher für die erste Hälfte des zweiten Jahrtausends v Ch vor die sich an den Erkenntnissen zu ägyptischen und levantischen Keramik Sammlungen orientiert Basierend auf diesen Forschungen kann das Alter der Erdschicht bestimmt werden in welcher die Skarabaen und Abdrucke in beiden Regionen gefunden wurden und die Verbindung zwischen der zweiten mittleren Periode in Agypten und der mittleren Bronzezeit IIB in der Levante nachgewiesen werden Der prinzipielle methodologische Unterschied zwischen der heutigen und der früheren Forschung liegt im Verständnis der ägyptischen und palastinensischen Skarabaen als zweier statt vormals einer Gruppe Die neue Sicht erlaubt eine systematische Unterscheidung ägyptischer und kanaanitischer Skarabaen dieser Zeit und führt zu einer separaten stilistischen und chronologischen Typologie für jede Gruppe. Die Schlussfolgerungen, welche in dieser Studie präsentiert werden, zeigen die Signifikanz der Skarabeaen als Hauptinformationsquelle für die Rekonstruktion der Geschichte der 12. und 13. Dynastie.

Giving the Sense Michael A. Grisanti, 2003. This collection of essays covers the four major periods of Israel's history and explores the theological, literary, historical and archaeological dimensions of each era. Tell el-Hesi W. J. Bennett, Jeffrey A. Blakely, 1989. The Tell el Hesi site comprises a 25-acre walled city from the Early Bronze III period. It is located on the southeastern edge of the Mediterranean coastal plain, 26 km northeast of Gaza in Israel. Tell el Hesi was the first Palestinian site at which the principles of ceramic chronology and of stratigraphic excavation were applied and at which the relationship between pottery and stratigraphy was shown to be significant. In 1890 W. M. Flinders Petrie excavated at Hesi and produced a general picture of its occupational history. In 1891-92 F. J. Bliss excavated stratigraphically through each successive level of the mound and identified eleven occupational levels which he grouped into eight strata or cities. In 1970 The Joint Archaeological Expedition to Tell el Hesi, sponsored by the American Schools of Oriental Research and a consortium of educational institutions, entered the site with the objectives of investigating in greater detail and with more refined methods the stratigraphic divisions identified by Petrie and Bliss. This book appears as the third volume in the Joint Expedition's series of final publications regarding their field experience and findings. The Joint Expedition completed excavation of four distinct Persian Period occupation sequences from the acropolis area, Field I of Tell el Hesi. This volume presents and attempts to interpret all of the stratigraphic and artifactual material associated with the Stratum V occupation at the site. It is a significant addition to the limited body of literature on Persian Period remains in the Levant. Walls of the Prince:

Egyptian Interactions with Southwest Asia in Antiquity Timothy P. Harrison, Edward B. Banning, Stanley Klassen, 2015-09-17. Walls of the Prince offers a series of articles that explore Egyptian interactions with Southwest Asia during the second and first millennium BCE, including long-distance trade in the Middle Kingdom, the itinerary of Thutmose III's great Syrian campaign, the Amman Airport structure, anthropoid coffins at Tell el Yahudiya, Egypt's relations with Israel in the age of Solomon, Nile perch and other trade with the southern Levant and Transjordan in the Iron Age, Saite strategy at Mezzad Hashavyahu and the concept of resident alien in Late Period Egypt. These are complemented by methodological and typological studies of data from the archaeological investigations at Tell el Maskhuta, the Wadi Tumilat and Mendes in the eastern Nile delta. Together they reflect the diverse range of Professor Holladay's long and distinguished scholarly career.

language literature and the visual arts Delivered in a highly readable style with students and scholars of both Egyptology and Graeco Roman studies in mind Provides a chronological table at the start of each volume to help readers orient chapters within the wider historical context     The Pentateuch John Van Seters,2004-08-23 This overview of the Pentateuch reviews the various historical critical attempts to read it that arise from notions about the social evolution of Israel s religion and culture Is the Pentateuch an accumulation of folk traditions a work of ancient historiography a document legitimizing religious reform The present book in dialogue with competing views advocates a compositional model that recognizes the social and historical diversity of the literary strata It argues that a proto Pentateuchal author created a comprehensive history from Genesis to Numbers that was written as a prologue to the Deuteronomistic History Deuteronomy to 2 Kings in the exilic period and later expanded by a Priestly writer to make it the foundational document of the Jerusalem temple community     Cities of the Delta William D. E. Coulson,Albert Leonard,Karen L. Wilson,John S. Holladay,American Research Center in Egypt,1981     Israel in Egypt James K. Hoffmeier,1999-03-18 Scholars of the Hebrew Bible have in the last decade begun to question the historical accuracy of the Israelite sojourn in Egypt as described in the book of Exodus The reason for the rejection of the exodus tradition is said to be the lack of historical and archaeological evidence in Egypt Those advancing these claims however are not specialists in the study of Egyptian history culture and archaeology In this pioneering book James Hoffmeier examines the most current Egyptological evidence and argues that it supports the biblical record concerning Israel in Egypt     Trouble in the West Stephen Ruzicka,2012-04 This volume provides an account of the Persian Egyptian War a conflict that continued for nearly the 200 year duration of the Persian Empire     The Transport Amphorae and Trade of Cyprus Mark L. Lawall,John Lund,2013-12-31 Placed as a stepping stone on the sea route between Europe and the New East Cyprus has always been a meeting place of many cultures Though rarely united politically through many millennia of history and for extended periods subject to foreign rule the island nonetheless managed to maintain specific and unique identities This publication seeks to throw new light on important aspects of the economy of Cyprus between c 700 BC and AD 700 through a concerted study of the transport amphorae found in and around the island These standardised containers of fired clay were commonly used for shipping foodstuffs from their places of production to the consumers in antiquity Completely preserved or found only in fragments such vessels are a prime source of information about the island s exports and imports of agricultural products and ultimately about the fluctuations in the economy of Cyprus through a crucial millennium and a half of her history The jars thus contribute both to our understanding of the changing intensities of Cypriot connections with other centres around the Mediterranean and to the documentation of regional patterning within the island itself     Proceedings of the 20th International Congress of Papyrologists, Copenhagen, 23-29 August, 1992 Adam Bülow-Jacobsen,1994 This volume presents over ninety papers in English French German and Italian from the Congress held at Copenhagen in 1992     Tell El-Dab'a XV Graham Philip,2006 Tell el Daba in

The Phoenician Diaspora Philip C. Schmitz, 2012-04-12 In this approachable and articulate study Philip C Schmitz offers close interpretations of six ancient texts four previously published Phoenician and Punic inscriptions and two Phoenician inscriptions published for the first time The author selected the previously known texts because readings of their letters and interpretation of their grammar and syntax are not yet well established Each of the selected texts stands as an original source concerning Phoenician settlement in the western Mediterranean Phoenician activity in Egypt or the economic life and religious beliefs and practices of ancient Carthage Chapter 1 rapidly surveys the history of Phoenician Punic epigraphy and offers a limited inventory of recent publications of epigraphic texts Chapter 2 undertakes a new reading and translation of the Phoenician stele from Nora Sardinia CIS I 144 Chapter 3 edits and translates the larger Phoenician inscriptions from Abu Simbel in Egypt CIS I 112 Chapter 4 concerns the paleographic analysis of selected Phoenician graffiti from Tell el Maskhuta Chapter 5 publishes an overlooked dipinto inscription on an amphora excavated at Carthage An appendix by Joann Freed contextualizes the amphora Chapter 6 takes a text critical look at CIS I 6068 an enigmatic Punic inscription on lead thought since its discovery to be a curse text Schmitz argues that it is not a curse but a quittance for debt Chapter 7 is a new reading and translation of CIS I 6000bis a Punic epitaph from the Hellenistic period of Carthage Among the features of this book that may interest students and scholars are new translations and interpretations of important inscriptions the translation and interpretation of which have been disputed previously unpublished photographs of inscriptions illustrating difficult readings author's hand drawings of difficult readings and grammatical analysis with reference to other known texts and standard reference works

Changing Perspectives 1 John Van Seters, 2014-10-03 The volume brings together forty years of agenda setting scholarship in Israelite and Judean history The historical essays gathered here were among the first to raise serious questions about the patriarchal age the exodus from Egypt and the conquest of Canaan and the temple of Solomon The literary essays on the Pentateuch challenged both the classical Documentary Hypothesis and the more recent modifications that support the notion of an extensive Deuteronomistic redaction of the Pentateuch The final set of essays examines biblical notions of patriarchal religion myths of human origin and the legendary origins of Passover within a broad comparative context     Out of the Desert William H. Stiebing, 2012-07-03 Two of the best known stories in the Bible are those of Moses leading his people out of Egypt and Joshua's conquest of the Promised Land. Indeed, they form one of the cornerstones of the Judeo-Christian tradition. But is the Bible a reliable source of information for Israel's early history? Are the Exodus and Conquest actual historical events? And if they are, when and where did they occur? Out of the Desert rigorously examines accounts of these historic events and traces the authenticity, dates, and explanations for the Israelites' departure from Egypt and subsequent conquest of Canaan. Clarifying these events in a straightforward, informative manner, Out of the Desert includes a generous number of charts and illustrations. William H. Stiebing Jr. places the Exodus within its cultural context during the beginning of the Iron Age (1200-1100 B.C.), a time of drought, famine, and collapse of social order, which gave way to the emergence and dominance of the tribes that joined forces to become the confederation of Israel. Many conventional ideas concerning the Exodus and Conquest are radically challenged in Out of the Desert. Stiebing's accounts of archaeological digs and rival theories make the narrative lively and engrossing. His unique insight into the field of modern archaeology provides a rare glimpse into the wonders of man's history.
