Citizenship East And West:

Citizenship East and West Daniel Warner, Andre Liebich, Jasna Dragovic, 2012-10-12 First Published in 1995 The outcome of the political transition in Eastern Europe depends not only on the politics pursued but on the understanding of politics in the countries involved A key aspect of such understanding is the notion of citizenship an ancient term of striking contemporary relevance not only in Eastern Europe but in the West as well What then are the dynamics of citizenship in Europe s new democracies and how do emerging solutions to the question of citizenship there respond to the concerns that the issue of citizenship has raised and continues to raise elsewhere These questions prompted the project which has led to this volume Conceived in 1991 it focussed on Poland Hungary and what was then Czecho Slovakia as countries already grappling with the issue of post communist citizenship

Citizenship for the 21st Century Cogan, John (Professor of Education, University of Minnesota, USA), Derricott, Ray (Director, Centre for Continuing Education, University of Liverpool), 2014-05-01 Civic and citizenship education have emerged as major areas of discussion debate and action regarding their place in the school curriculum in many nations This text sets out to show the importance of citizenship education with examples and contributions from around the world

Gender and Citizenship in the Middle East Suad Joseph, 2000-11-01 The essays in this work illustrate the various ways in which women in the Middle East fall short of being vested with the rights and privileges that would define them as fully enfranchised citizens They offer an examination of national legislation on personal status penal law and labour

Citizenship for the 21st Century John J. Cogan, Ray Derricott, R. Derricott, 2000 Civic and citizenship education have emerged as major areas of discussion debate and action regarding their place in the school curriculum in many nations This text sets out to show the importance of citizenship education with examples and contributions from around the world

Citizens, Democracy, and Markets Around the Pacific Rim Russell J. Dalton, To-ch'ol Sin, 2006-11-02 East Asia is one of the most dynamic areas of political change in the world today what role do citizens play in these processes of change Drawing upon a unique set of coordinated public opinion surveys conducted by the World Values Survey this book provides a dramatically new image of the political cultures of East Asia Most East Asian citizens have strong democratic aspirations even in still autocratic nations Most East Asians support liberal market reforms even in nations where state socialism has been dominant The books findings thus provide a new perspective on the political values of Asian publics We demonstrate that the dramatic socioeconomic changes of the past several decades have transformed public opinion altering many of the social norms traditionally identified with Asian values and creating public support for further political and economic modernization of the region Political culture in East Asia is not an impediment to change but creates the potential for even greater democratization and marketization

Comparative Politics is a series for students and teachers of political science that deals with contemporary government and politics The General Editors are Max Kaase Professor of Political Science Vice President and Dean School of Humanities and Social Science

International University Bremen Germany and Kenneth Newton Professor of Comparative Politics University of Southampton

The series is produced in association with the European Consortium for Political Research     Democratic Consolidation in Eastern Europe: Volume 2: International and Transnational Factors Jan Zielonka, Alex Pravda, 2001-06-14 This is the second volume in a two volume series of books on democratic consolidation in Eastern Europe The first volume focused on the issue of institutional engineering This second volume analyses the external parameters of democratic consolidation in thirteen Eastern European countries how different international actors and various economic cultural and security types of transnational pressures have shaped democratic politics in the region The aim is to contrast a set of democracy theories with empirical evidence accumulated in Eastern Europe over the last ten years The volume tries to avoid complex debates about definitions methods and the uses and misuses of comparative research Instead it seeks to establish what has really happened in the region and which of the existing theories are helpful in explaining these developments The volume is divided into two parts The first part presents a conceptual and comparative frame of analysis the second consists of detailed studies of individual countries undergoing democratic consolidation Case study chapters deal with the following countries Estonia and Latvia Hungary Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia Romania Bulgaria and Macedonia the states of former Yugoslavia Belarus and Ukraine and finally Russia The concluding chapter identifies a set of variables responsible for the enormous impact of external factors on democratic consolidation in Eastern Europe It conceptualises the interplay of internal and external factors impinging upon democracy and shows the interplay of different positive and negative types of external pressures It also evaluates the conscious Western effort to craft or engineer democracy in Eastern Europe     Gender and Identity in Central and Eastern Europe Chris Corrin, 1999 This collection highlights elements of the decade of changes in Central and Eastern Europe since 1989 from the perspectives of gender and identity     Routledge Handbook of Global Citizenship Studies Engin Isin, Peter Nyers, 2014-06-27 Citizenship studies is at a crucial moment of globalizing as a field What used to be mainly a European North American and Australian field has now expanded to major contributions featuring scholarship from Latin America Asia Africa and the Middle East The Routledge Handbook of Global Citizenship Studies takes into account this globalizing moment At the same time it considers how the global perspective exposes the strains and discords in the concept of citizenship as it is understood today With over fifty contributions from international interdisciplinary experts the Handbook features state of the art analyses of the practices and enactments of citizenship across broad continental regions Africas Americas Asias and Europes as well as deterritorialized forms of citizenship Diasporicity and Indigeneity Through these analyses the Handbook provides a deeper understanding of citizenship in both empirical and theoretical terms This volume sets a new agenda for scholarly investigations of citizenship Its wide ranging contributions and clear accessible style make it essential reading for students and scholars working on citizenship issues across the humanities and social sciences     Citizenship After Orientalism Engin Isin, 2015-10-14 This collection offers a postcolonial critique of the ostensible superiority or originality of Western political theory and one of its fundamental concepts citizenship The chapters analyse the undoing uncovering and reinventing of citizenship as a way of investigating citizenship as political subjectivity If it has now become very difficult to imagine citizenship merely as nationality or membership in the nation state this is at least in part because of the anticolonial struggles and the project of reimagining citizenship after orientalism that they precipitated If it has become difficult to sustain the orientalist assumption the question arises how do we investigate citizenship as political subjectivity after orientalism This book was originally published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies

The Reconceptualization of European Union Citizenship Elspeth Guild, Cristina Gortázar Rotaeche, Dora Kostakopoulou, 2014-01-09 This book maps out from a variety of theoretical standpoints the challenges generated by European integration and EU citizenship for community membership belonging and polity making beyond the state It does so by focusing on three main issues of relevance for how EU citizenship has developed and its capacity to challenge state sovereignty and authority as the main loci of creating and delivering rights and protection First it looks at the relationship between citizenship of the Union and European identity and assesses how immigration and access to nationality in the Member States impact on the development of a common European identity Secondly it discusses how the idea of solidarity interacts with the boundaries of EU citizenship as constructed by the entitlement and capacity of mobile citizens to enjoy equality and social rights as EU citizens Thirdly the book engages with issues of EU citizenship and equality as the building blocks of the EU project By engaging with these themes this volume provides a topical and comprehensive account of the present and future development of Union citizenship and studies the collisions between the realisation of its constructive potential and Member State autonomy

International Higher Education in Citizen Diplomacy Shingo Hanada, 2022-10-20 This volume presents the impacts of international higher education on citizen diplomacy Based on the assumption that international higher education is a key driving factor of citizen diplomacy the empirical studies in this book examine the learning outcomes of five mobility programs of international higher education inbound study abroad outbound study abroad international service learning international internship and online study abroad in cultivating students intercultural competence empathy and goodwill towards people in the host country It contributes to increasing awareness of international higher education by providing insights about its functions in citizen diplomacy

Rethinking Australian Citizenship Wayne Hudson, John Kane, 2000-06 The notion of citizenship is now being taken up internationally as a way to rethink questions of social cohesion and social justice In Europe the concept of national identity is under close scrutiny while the pressures of globalizing markets and the power of transnational corporations everywhere raise questions about the true place and meaning of citizenship in civil society In Australia a traditional view of citizens belonging to a single nation made up of one people with a special relationship to one land has been thrown open to challenge by a range of differing perspectives Rethinking Australian Citizenship considers the major debates Some chapters look at contemporary theoretical debates while others reinvent Australian citizenship from a particular perspective on civil life The result is a rich and coherent volume that shows the diverse ways in which Australian citizenship can be rethought

Migration, Work and Citizenship in the Enlarged European Union Samantha Currie, 2016-04-22 Drawing upon socio legal research this insightful book considers labour migration within the context of eastward European Union enlargement Specifically this volume explores the legal rights of accession nationals to access employment their experiences once in work and their engagement with broader family and social entitlement By combining analysis of the legal framework governing free movement related rights with analysis of qualitative data gained from interviews with Polish migrants this volume is able to speculate on the significance the status of Union citizenship holds for nationals of the recently acceded CEE Member States Citizenship is conceptualised not merely as rights but as a practice a real lived experience The citizenship status of migrants from the CEE Member States is shaped by formal legal entitlement law in action as it is implemented by the Member States and accessed by the migrants and social and cultural perceptions and experiences on the ground

The Soviet Union as Reported by Former Soviet Citizens Report, 1951

Paternalism, Conflict, and Coproduction: Learning from Citizen Action and Citizen Participation in Western Europe Lawrence Susskind, Michael Elliott, 1983-06 A research team from the United States has completed an examination of citizen participation experiments in seven European countries The team included Donald Appleyard Marc Draisen David Godschalk Chester Hartman Janice Perlman Hans Spiegel John Zeisel and ourselves This book is a product of our joint efforts Our studies are aimed at summarizing and sharing what can be learned from recent European efforts to enhance the effectiveness of local government through increased public involvement in the organization and management of public services and urban redevelopment Almost a year was spent assembling the team developing a shared framework for analysis and identifying appropriate case study cities European and American public officials and citizen activists helped us assess the potential impact of such a study on current practice A second year was spent visiting the European cities and preparing the case study drafts Finally team members gathered in Washington D C with fifty American and European public officials citizen activists and scholars A two day symposium provided an exciting opportunity to present preliminary research findings and encourage an exchange of ideas between researchers activists and policymakers The final versions of the case studies that appear in this book along with several commentaries by symposium participants are written especially for city officials and citizen activists We have tried to translate the results of our scholarly inquiry into pragmatic suggestions for officials and activists
