Enemies in the Plaza Thomas Devaney, 2015-04-03 Toward the end of the fifteenth century Spanish Christians near the border of Castile and Muslim ruled Granada held complex views about religious tolerance People living in frontier cities bore much of the cost of war against Granada and faced the greatest risk of retaliation but had to reconcile an ideology of holy war with the genuine admiration many felt for individual members of other religious groups After a century of near continuous truces a series of political transformations in Castile including those brought about by the civil wars of Enrique IV's reign the final war with Granada and Fernando and Isabel's efforts to reestablish royal authority incited a broad reaction against religious minorities As Thomas Devaney shows this active hostility was triggered by public spectacles that emphasized the foreignness of Muslims Jews and recent converts to Christianity Enemies in the Plaza traces the changing attitudes toward religious minorities as manifested in public spectacles ranging from knightly tournaments to religious processions to popular festivals Drawing on contemporary chronicles and municipal records as well as literary and architectural evidence Devaney explores how public pageantry originally served to dissipate the anxieties fostered by the give and take of frontier culture and how this tradition of pageantry ultimately contributed to the rejection of these compromises Through vivid depictions of frontier personalities cities and performances Enemies in the Plaza provides an account of how public spectacle served to negotiate and articulate the boundaries between communities as well as to help Castilian nobles transform the frontier's religious ambivalence into holy war

The Quest for El Cid

Richard A. Fletcher, 1991 Rodrigo Díaz the legendary warrior knight of eleventh century Castile known as El Cid is still honored in Spain as a national hero for liberating the fatherland from the occupying Moors Yet as this book reveals there are many contradictions between eleventh century reality and the mythology that developed later By placing El Cid in a fresh historical context Fletcher shows us an adventurous soldier of fortune who was of a type one of a number of cids or bosses who flourished in eleventh century Spain But the El Cid of legend the national hero was unique in stature even in his lifetime Before his death El Cid was already celebrated in a poem posthumously he was immortalized in the great epic Poema de Mio Cid When he died in Valencia in 1099 he was ruler of an independent principality he had carved for himself in Eastern Spain Rather than the zealous Christian leader many believe him to have been Rodrigo emerges in Fletcher's study as a mercenary equally at home in the feudal kingdoms of northern Spain and the exotic Moorish lands of the south selling his martial skills to Christian and Muslim alike Indeed his very title derives from the Arabic word sayyid meaning lord or master And as there was little if any sense of Spanish nationhood in the eleventh century he can hardly be credited for uniting a medieval Spanish nation This ground breaking inquiry into the life and times of El Cid disentangles fact from myth to create a striking portrait of an extraordinary man clearly showing how and why legend transformed him into something he was not during his lifetime From publisher description ARCHITECTURE, ARCHAEOLOGY AND CONTEMPORARY CITY PLANNING - Proceedings of the workshop Giorgio Verdiani, Per Cornell, 2015 The Rise and Decline of an Iberian Bourgeoisie Jeff Fynn-Paul, 2016 One of the first long term studies of the Catalonian city of Manresa during the late medieval crisis From Heaven to Earth Teofilo F. Ruiz, 2016-07-26 Between the late twelfth century and the mid fourteenth Castile saw a reordering of mental spiritual and physical space Fresh ideas about sin and intercession coincided with new ways of representing the self and emerging perceptions of property as tangible This radical shift in values or mentalities was most evident among certain social groups including mercantile elites affluent farmers lower nobility clerics and literary figures middling sorts whose outlooks and values were fast becoming normative Drawing on such primary documents as wills legal codes land transactions litigation records chronicles and literary works Teofilo Ruiz documents the transformation in how medieval Castilians thought about property and family at a time when economic innovations and an emerging mercantile sensibility were eroding the traditional relation between the two He also identifies changes in how Castilians conceived of and acted on salvation and in the ways they related to their local communities and an emerging nation state Ruiz interprets this reordering of mental and physical landscapes as part of what Le Goff has described as a transition from heaven to earth from spiritual and religious beliefs to the quasi secular pursuits of merchants and scholars Examining how specific groups of Castilians began to itemize the physical world Ruiz sketches their new ideas about salvation property and themselves and places this transformation within the broader history of cultural and social change in the West Building Legitimacy Isabel Alfonso, María Isabel Alfonso Antón, Hugh (Hugh N.) Kennedy, Julio Escalona, 2004 This volume provides relevant insights into medieval political legitimation and its impact on political competition and notions of power With a main focus on medieval Castile the political discourses purporting to legitimate practices of power are discussed both as pieces of textual material and in their wider historical context New World Orders John Smolenski, Thomas J. Humphrey, 2013-10-09 As the geographic boundaries of early American history have expanded so too have historians attempts to explore the comparative dimensions of this history At the same time historians have struggled to find a conceptual framework flexible enough to incorporate the sweeping narratives of imperial history and the hidden narratives of social history into a broader synthetic whole No such paradigm that captures the two perspectives has yet emerged New World Orders addresses these broad conceptual issues by reexamining the relationships among violence sanction and authority in the early modern Americas More specifically the essays in this volume explore the wide variety of legal and extralegal means from state sponsored executions to unsanctioned crowd actions by which social order was maintained with a particular emphasis on how extralegal sanctions were defined and used how such sanctions related to legal forms of maintaining order and how these patterns of sanction embedded within other forms of colonialism and culture created cultural legal social or imperial spaces in the early Americas With essays written by senior and junior scholars on the British Spanish Dutch and French colonies New World Orders presents one of the most comprehensive looks at the sweep of colonization in the Atlantic world By juxtaposing case studies from Brazil Venezuela New York California Saint Domingue and Louisiana with treatments of broader trends in Anglo America or Spanish America more generally the volume demonstrates the need to examine the questions of violence sanction and authority in hemispheric perspective The Nasrid Kingdom of Granada between East and West, 2020-12-07 The Nasrid Kingdom of Granada 1232 1492 was the last Islamic state in al Andalus It has long been considered a historical afterthought even an anomaly but this impression must be rectified here we place the kingdom in a new context within the processes of change that were taking place across all Western Islamic societies in the late Middle Ages Despite being the last Islamic entity in the Iberian Peninsula Granada was neither isolated nor exclusively associated with the nearest Islamic lands The special relationship between Nasrid territory and the surrounding Christian states accelerated historical processes of change This volume edited by Adela F bregas examines the Nasrid kingdom through its politics society economics and culture Contributors Daniel Baloup B rbara Boloix Gallardo Mar a Elena D ez Jorge Adela F bregas ngel Gal n S nchez Alberto Garc a Porras Expiraci n Garc a S nchez Ra l Gonz lez Ar valo Pierre Guichard Antonio Malpica Cuello Christine Mazzoli Guintard Rafael G Peinado Antonio Pel ez Rovira Jos Miguel Puerta V lchez Mar a Dolores Rodr guez G mez Juan Carlos Ruiz Souza Roser Salic i Lluch Bilal Sarr Francisco Vidal Castro Gerard Wieggers Amalia Zome o Merchants and Trade Networks in the Atlantic and the Mediterranean, 1550-1800 Manuel Herrero Sánchez, Klemens Kaps, 2016-09-01 This collective volume explores the ways merchants managed to connect different spaces all over the globe in the early modern period by organizing the movement of goods capital information and cultural objects between different commercial maritime
