Water Policy in the Netherlands Stijn Reinhard,Henk Folmer,2011 As a low lying delta region with a high population density the Netherlands has long focused on the prevention of flooding catastrophes and the reclamation of valuable land The evolution of Dutch water governance beginning with the creation of local water boards in the Middle Ages and growing into a complex infrastructure of polders dams and controlled waterways offers a compelling study of pitfalls and successes within one of the world s most challenging regions for water management Water Policy in the Netherlands traces the arc of water governance in the country from technological in      Form and Fabric in Landscape Architecture Catherine

Dee,2004-03-01 Form and Fabric in Landscape Architecture provides an original visual approach to the study of landscape architecture by creating a spatial morphology based on use and experience of landscapes It explores aesthetic spatial and experiential concepts by providing a structure through which landscapes can be understood and conceived in design Fabric is the integrated structure of whole landscapes while form refers to the components that make up this fabric Together form and fabric create a morphology of landscape useful for the development of visual spatial design thinking and awareness This book is intended as both an introduction to the discipline for students of landscape architecture architecture and planning and a source of continuing interest for more experienced environmental designers      Selected Water Resources
