Echoing Voices in Italian Literature Teresa Franco,Cecilia Piantanida,2019-01-08 This collection of essays explores the reception of classics and translation from modern languages as two different yet synergic ways of engaging with literary canons and established traditions in 20th century Italy These two areas complement each other and equally contribute to shape several kinds of identities authorial literary national and cultural Foregrounding the transnational aspects of key concepts such as poetics literary voice canon and tradition the book is intended for scholars and students of Italian literature and culture classical reception and translation studies With its two shifting focuses on forms of classical tradition and forms of literary translation the volume brings to the fore new configurations of 20th century literature culture and thought

Existence and Machine Fabio Grigenti,2016-09-21 The aim of this work is to provide a preliminary analysis of a much more far reaching investigation into the relationship between technology and philosophy In the context of the contemporary German thought the author compares the different positions of Karl Marx Martin Heidegger Ernst and Friedrich Jünger Arnold Gehlen and Gunther Anders The term machine is used precisely to mean that complex material device assembled in the last quarter of the 18th century as a result of the definitive modern refinement of certain fundamental technologies i.e metallurgy precision mechanics and hydraulics The machine discussed here arrived on the scene of man's history when the processes of spinning and weaving were entrusted to semi automatic means when the water wheels used in mills hitherto always made of wood were supplanted by the metal levers of the steam engine and especially when the steam engine was connected to the weaving frames to the metalworking hammers and to other machines used to manufacture other machines in an endless reiteration of assemblies and applications the enormous outcome of which is what subsequently came to be described as mass production The philosophers discussed here were also dealing with the type of machine described above and in their works we can identify three model images of this idea of machine These images have been drawn on at various times also outside the realms of philosophy and they still provide the backdrop for our knowledge of the machine which has circulated in a great variety of languages
