Circular City Philip Sharnoff, 1990-12-01      Circular Ecologies Amy Zhang, 2024-07-09 After four decades of reform and development China is confronting a domestic waste crisis As the world s largest waste generating nation the World Economic Forum projects that by 2030 the volume of household waste in China will be double that of the United States Starting in the early 2000s Chinese policymakers came to see waste management as an object of environmental governance central to the creation of modern cities and experimented with the circular economy in which technology and policy could convert all forms of waste back into resources Based on long term research in Guangzhou Circular Ecologies critically analyzes the implementation of technologies and infrastructures to modernize a mega city s waste management system and the grassroots ecological politics that emerged in response In Guangzhou waste s transformation revealed uncomfortable truths about China s environmental governance a preference for technology over labor the aestheticization of order and the expropriation of value in service of an ecological vision Amy Zhang argues that in post reform China waste the material vestige of decades of growth and increasing consumption is a systemic irritant that troubles China s technocratic governance Waste provoked an unlikely coalition of urban communities from the middle class to precarious migrant workers that came to constitute a nascent bottom up environmental politics and offers a model for conceptualizing ecological action under authoritarian conditions      Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1990      Comparative Study of Smart Cities in Europe and China 2014 China Academy of Information and Communi, EU-China Policy Dialogues Support Facili, 2015-08-26 This book examining smart city trends and developments from global Chinese and EU perspectives shows how the concept of the smart city varies from city to city A detailed analysis is made to present the smart city as an up to date model of world city Thirty pilot cities answer questions designed by the Smart City Evaluation Framework including managerial entities stakeholders project description and performance and whatever else relates to smart cities By assessing the answers researchers reveal major trends best practices and challenges confronting smart city campaigns Recommendations and solutions are provided This is a must read for anyone wishing to understand Chinese and European cities in terms of ideas about city development plausible practice natural and geographic conditions economic structure and infrastructure robustness Innovation and updates in telecommunication technology is regarded as indicative of city intelligence and green low carbon and sustainable development This innovative book offers an interdisciplinary perspective and shall be of interest to researchers policy analysts and technical experts involved in and responsible for the planning development and design of smart cities      The Publishers' Trade List Annual , 1991      From Socialist to Post-Socialist Cities Alexander C. Diener, Joshua Hagen, 2016-04-14 The development of post socialist cities has become a major field of study among critical theorists from across the social sciences and humanities Originally constructed under the dictates of central planners and designed to serve the demands of command economies post socialist urban centers currently develop at the nexus of varied and often competing economic cultural and political forces Among these nationalist aspirations previously simmering beneath the official rhetoric of communist fraternity and veneer of architectural conformity have emerged as dominant factors shaping the urban landscape This book explores this burgeoning field of research through detailed cases studies relating to the cultural politics of architecture urban planning and identity in the post socialist cities of Eurasia This book was published as a special issue of Nationalities Papers The New York Times Book Review ,1991-07 Iberian Cities Joan Ramon Resina,2013-01-11 This multi disciplinary study explores the explosion of cultural social linguistic and architectural development in urban and rural settlements on and surrounding the Iberian peninsula during the 20th century Rural Africa in motion Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-06-15 This Atlas includes maps callouts and infographics on migration and related topics including rural migrants profile main migration routes and migration patterns by countries and sub regions numbers of internal and external migrants domestic and international remittances main rural out migration drivers and determinants Annual Report Kokusai Kyōryoku Jigyōdan,2002 Strategies Under Surveillance Geoffrey Westgate,2021-11-01 In this study Geoffrey Westgate offers a new understanding of Irmtraud Morgner by reading her as a specifically East German writer Through close analysis of her works the early journalism and socialist realism the socialist modernism of the banned Rumba auf einen Herbst the largely neglected but key texts of the late 1960s the major novels Beatriz and Amanda and the final uncompleted work Das heroische Testament the book examines the literary strategies Morgner adopted with respect to pivotal cultural political developments in the GDR The first to consider the trajectory of Morgner s career as a whole the study uncovers texts which have not appeared in bibliographies of her writings and draws on new biographical material including the writer s Nachla In addition the author uses archival material from the GDR Ministerium f r Kultur and Ministerium f r Staatssicherheit to illustrate how Morgner s texts were censored and how the writer was monitored by the secret police The book therefore provides a case study of official GDR Autorenpolitik and also shows that Morgner s oeuvre cannot be fully understood unless it is viewed in the context of this state control and surveillance Morgner s writings bear complex but eloquent testimony to the possibilities for literature in a dictatorship Urbanism and Town Planning Jean-Philippe Antoni,2024-01-04 Sustainable urban planning and urban renewal are major challenges of the 21st century In this context Urbanism and Town Planning proposes a geohistorical approach to urban construction The city and its neighborhoods are studied through their materials and general layout which sometimes reveal a logic of economic profitability prestige and social equity and sometimes a more innovative approach from an environmental perspective Across these elements unbuilt spaces distinctive streets and squares and built spaces commercial and residential areas both individual and collective form a three dimensional grid of voids and solids characteristic of urban landscapes and lifestyles Supported by numerous original examples this book is a comprehensive summary of the most tangible elements of urban planning and development elements that must be put into context in order
