Cities Of Memory:

Cities of Memory ,1996 Memory and the City in Ancient Israel Diana V. Edelman,Ehud Ben Zvi,2014-11-07

Ancient cities served as the actual worldly landscape populated by material sites of memory Some of these sites were personal and others were directly and intentionally involved in the shaping of a collective social memory such as palaces temples inscriptions walls and gates Many cities were also sites of social memory in a very different way Like Babylon Nineveh or Jerusalem they served as ciphers that activated and communicated various mnemonic worlds as they integrated multiple images remembered events and provided a variety of meanings in diverse ancient communities Memory and the City in Ancient Israel contributes to the study of social memory in ancient Israel in the late Persian and early Hellenistic periods by exploring the city both urban spaces and urban centers It opens with a study that compares basic conceptualizing tendencies of cities in Mesopotamia with their counterparts in ancient Israel Its essays then explore memories of gates domestic spaces threshing floors palaces city gardens and parks natural and domesticated water in urban settings cisterns and wells Finally the studies turn to particular cities of memory in ancient Israel Jerusalem Samaria Shechem Mizpah Tyre Nineveh and Babylon The volume which emerged from meetings of the European Association of Biblical Studies includes the work of St phanie Anthonioz Yairah Amit Ehud Ben Zvi K re Berge Diana Edelman Hadi Ghantous Anne Katrine Gudme Philippe Guillaume Russell Hobson Steven W Holloway Francis Landy Daniel Pioske Ulrike Sals Carla Sulzbach Karolien Vermeulen and Carey Walsh

Urban Memory in City Transitions Ali Cheshmehzangi,2021-04-02 As a continuation of Identity of Cities and City of Identities this book covers the arguments around the memory experience cognition nexus concerning palimpsests and urban places As cities experience transitional phases of growth development decline and decay the author urges considering the notion of urban memory in place making strategies and design decision making processes These explorations would add value to primary fields of architecture architectural history cognitive science human geography and urbanism Divided into eight chapters this book puts together a comprehensive knowledge of urban memory in city transitions By studying urban memory the author delves into conceptions of mental mapping knowledge of environments cognition of places and the perceptual dimension of urbanism Undoubtedly urban memory plays a significant part in the future movements of humanistic urbanism. Given the significances of scale, pace and mode of city transitions globally, we should remember who are the ultimate users of those living environments. Therefore, in this book, the author debates two contradictions of memory of place vs place of memory and significance of place vs place of significance. Each of these is believed to be a paradox of its own, indicating places are significant through the systematic networks of cities; memories are meaningful through the neural information processing; and place memories are the essence of urban identities. The book's ultimate goal is to demonstrate the effectiveness of the space-time frame of place in making memorable places. Through the comprehensive explorations of many global examples, we can evaluate the significance of place in mind more carefully. This is narrated based on the recognition of nostalgia in cities, socio-temporal qualities in places, and the network of processes in our minds. In return, the aim is to provide new knowledge to make memorable cities enhance social experiences and capture and value the significance of place in mind.

The Historical City. A Critical Reference and Role Model Ilaria Cattabriga, Enrico Chinellato, Arshia Eghbali, Zeno Mutton, Ramona Loffredo, 2024-12-18. This book offers a multivocal and interdisciplinary arena that brings together a wide range of thoughts and approaches addressing the intricacies of dealing with the historical city today. Spanning across a multitude of humanistic, sociological, and technological outlooks, it provides a multifaceted overview of current research on the city and its historicity. Based on revised and extended contributions presented at two international conferences, namely The Historical City as a Critical Reference and Role Model for Innovative Urban and Metropolitan Development (January 26-27, 2023) and The Historical City as a Field for Critical Exercise, Criticism, Politics, Actors (April 17, 2023), both held at the University of Bologna, this book is an insightful and thought-provoking read for researchers in Architecture, History, Urban Studies, Social Sciences, and the Arts, as well as professionals and policy makers dealing with historical cities.

Self-Organization and the City Juval Portugali, 2012-12-06. Cities first came into existence more than five thousand years ago. How to deal with these partly fascinating, partly frightening creatures of mankind, both practically and intellectually, concerns all of us and, in particular, presents a real challenge to city planners. Each historical epoch has had its own particular attitudes associated with the Zeitgeist. Accordingly, the planning and steering of cities were based on quite different criteria. But in spite of these differences, the concept of planning and steering was and still is the cornerstone of our dealing with cities. Nevertheless, the planner's dilemma is becoming more and more visible: cities and megacities seem to be unplannable. In this book, Juval Portugali introduces a new idea: Cities are self-organizing systems. To substantiate his revolutionary concept, he uses several interlinked methods. On the one hand, and to my own delight, he employs in his arguments theoretical tools developed in the interdisciplinary field of synergetics. On the other hand, jointly with his co-workers, he has performed detailed model calculations on cellular nets. It has been a great pleasure and a wonderful experience for me to discuss these concepts with Juval Portugali over a number of years. I was repeatedly and deeply impressed by the way he established profound and often surprising links to other fields of science.

The Cultural Identities of European Cities Katia Pizzi, 2010 Cities are both real and imaginary places whose identity is dependent on their distinctive heritage a network of historically transmitted cultural resources The essays in this volume which originate from a lecture series at the Institute of Germanic location between Eastern and Western ideologies religions and cultures and the fluidity and palimpsest quality of city identity Not only does the book provide different thematic angles and a variety of approaches to the investigation of city identity it also emphasizes the importance of diverse cultural components The essays presented here discuss cultural forms as various as music architecture literature journalism philosophy television film myths urban planning and the naming of streets

Cities' Vocabularies: The Influences and Formations Nabil Mohareb, Antonella Versaci, Yasser

Mahgoub, Sreetheran Maruthaveeran, Francesco Alberti, 2021-01-23 This book discusses several topics regarding different vocabularies such as sacred architecture heritage buildings open spaces landmarks and street escapes all of which have a direct influence on the city form The city form is also affected by the indirect impact of the citizens themselves for example their culture which in turn depends on the arts as can be seen and embodied in morals paintings media digital art and sculpture The book also examines the fundamental elements that are responsible for the identity of the city Presenting case studies that demonstrate the how implementing the concept of the responsibility of architecture and arts affects the development of our cities the book offers a new approach that is based on the available features of a city and explores how planners and decision makers can use these features to address the myriad problems that our cities are facing Urban Memory Mark Crinson, 2005-09-21 Nine previously unpublished essays form an interdisciplinary assessment of urban memory in the modern city analysing this burgeoning area of interest from the perspectives of sociology architectural and art history psychoanalysis culture and critical theory Featuring a wealth of illustrations images maps and specially commissioned artwork this work applies a critical and creative approach to existing theories of urban memory and examines how these ideas are actualised in the forms of the built environment in the modernist and post industrial city A particular area of focus is post industrial Manchester but the book also includes studies of current day Singapore New York after 9 11 modern museums in industrial gallery spaces the writings of Paul Auster and W G Sebald memorials built in concrete and contemporary art Art and the Performance of Memory Richard Cándida Smith, 2003-08-29 This book investigates the role that the visual and performing arts play in our experience and understanding of the past The essays highlight the role of oral history in the documentation of the visual and performing arts The Once and Future New York Randall Mason, 2009 Rich with archival research The Once and Future New York documents the emergence of historic preservation in New York at the turn of the twentieth century Between 1890 and 1920 preservationists saved and restored buildings parks and monuments throughout the city s five boroughs that represented continuity with the past Shadows of Nagasaki Chad R. Diehl, 2024-01-02 A critical introduction to how the Nagasaki atomic bombing has been remembered especially in contrast to that of Hiroshima In the decades following the atomic bombing of Nagasaki on August 9 1945 the city s residents processed their trauma and formed narratives of the destruction and reconstruction in ways that reflected their regional history and social makeup In doing so they created a multi layered urban identity as an atomic bombed city that differed markedly from Hiroshima s image Shadows of Nagasaki traces how Nagasaki s trauma history and memory of the bombing manifested through some of the city s many post atomic memoryscapes such as literature religious discourse art historical landmarks commemorative spaces and architecture In addition the book pays particular attention to how the city s history of international culture exemplified best perhaps by the region s Christian especially Catholic past informed its response to the atomic trauma and shaped its postwar urban identity Key historical actors in the volume s chapters include writers Japanese Catholic leaders atomic bombing survivors known as hibakusha municipal officials American occupation personnel peace activists artists and architects The story of how these diverse groups of people processed and participated in the discourse surrounding the legacies of Nagasaki s bombing shows how regional history culture and politics rather than national ones become the most influential factors shaping narratives of destruction and reconstruction after mass trauma In turn and especially in the case of urban destruction new identities emerge and old ones are rekindled not to serve national politics or social interests but to bolster narratives that reflect local circumstances Contemporary Archaeology and the City Laura

McAtackney, Krysta Ryzewski, 2017 This book argues archaeology is uniquely placed to contribute a variety of perspectives on the current life cycles of cities including processes of decay revitalization and transformation It foregrounds the materialities of post industrial post modern and other urban transformations through a diverse international collection of case studies

The City Deborah Stevenson, 2013-04-26 This book is a fresh and engaging analysis of the city as a central concept in contemporary social thought It probes the contested and negotiated ways in which cities are built understood lived and imagined Taking a thematic approach and drawing on a range of theoretical methodological and empirical points of reference it examines such subjects as urban inequality public space creative cities globalization the night time economy suburbia and memory and emotion In The City Deborah Stevenson argues that as theories and concepts shape what is known about cities and urban life it is necessary to build conceptual frameworks that engage with the intersections and tensions between urban processes and trends as well as with the complexities of everyday urban life This book's combination of original insight and critical synthesis will make it an invaluable contribution for an international interdisciplinary readership of students and scholars in sociology geography urban studies and wider social science and the humanities

Different Shades of the Past

Mateusz Kamionka, Przemysław Łukasik, 2023-01-30 In his book 21 Lessons for the 21st Century the historian Yuval Noah Harari wrote that man had the possibility to conquer the world precisely because he could create fictional stories and believe in them People created more and more complex stories about themselves that served and continue to serve according to the professor of the University of Jerusalem building unity social harmony and gaining power A narrative about past in which memory fragmentation and victimisation play a large role may be a temptation to instrumentalise the past This is especially true in relation to the events of the twentieth century when a series of bloody war conflicts occurred As shown in the following post conference volume today the wars of the past World War I and World War II Indian Pakistani war and current conflicts Russo Ukrainian war war in Sudan or Nagorno Karabakh are also a catalyst for the process of instrumentalisation This process can be analysed both at the level of the evolution of the language of conflict including the erosion of the values of democratic dialogue and the use of specific means of commemorating the past monuments museums
