Second Edition Victor Senchenko, 2011 Revelations of a Human Space Navigator provides explanations of who and what humans actually are and why they behave as they do as well as explaining from what everything is physically made of and why the physical behavior of all this physical existence makes it impossible for time and gods to physically exist

Rethinking Public Space Ali Madanipour, 2023-01-17 Taking a critical perspective this book rethinks public space in the context of contemporary global health and economic crises as well as technological political and cultural change In order to do so Ali Madanipour brings together two often unrelated discourses public space and social inclusion interrogating the potential for public spaces to contribute to inclusive social practices

Civil Society Responses to Changing Civic Spaces Kees Biekart, Tiina Kontinen, Marianne Millstein, 2023-05-24 This open access book contributes to thriving debates in academic as well as professional circles about the role of civil society in shrinking civic spaces rising authoritarianism and right wing populism conflicts fragile states and most lately the global COVID 19 pandemic This is one of the first books to address the implications of changing civic spaces for civil society organizations worldwide It offers a unique overview of how social movements and civil society groups in very different settings are responding to state imposed restrictions of basic civic freedoms The authors are all experts in the field and their analyses are based on original and onsite research This unique book also contributes to a better understanding of the conceptualizations and practices of civil society It is of keen interest to academic scholars students civil society practitioners and policy makers in the field of international development research and civil society action

Citizenship and Identity Engin F Isin, Patricia K Wood, 1999-09-08 Through a detailed introductory discussion of the relation between the civil and the political and between recognition and representation this book provides a comprehensive vocabulary for understanding citizenship It uses the work of T H Marshall to frame the critical interrogation of how ethnic technological ecological cosmopolitan sexual and cultural rights relate to citizenship The authors show how the civil political and social meanings of citizenship have been redefined by postmodernization and globalization

Property Rights in Outer Space Matthew Johnson,2024-05-28 This book explores the role of private mining rights in the utopian imaginary of space colonisation It presents a transdisciplinary account of the new and evolving legislative frameworks that have been established in anticipation of commercial exploitation of the mineral resources of the off world frontier Written in an engaging style the book investigates a novel case study in the history of capitalism and the commons the emergence of a nascent space mining industry undergirded by a contentious legislative framework In 2015 the US passed laws that would recognise the claims of US corporations to own and sell space resources This unilateral act of pre emptive law making would appear to contravene the terms of the UN Outer Space Treaty 1967 which declared that the exploration and use of outer space should be for the benefit of all mankind and not subject to national appropriation Using this central dynamic between privately held mining rights and outer space as a global commons Matthew Johnson constructs an historical sociology of space mining from the deep historical roots of common and private property to the contemporary networks of neoliberalism that have engaged with the commercialisation of space activity The anticipatory expansion of private property claims beyond the Earth both resonates with and problematises the terrain of political history such as the tensions between states and markets public law and private power the commons and exclusive property The emerging cosmopolitics of off world private property mirrors and is often explicitly embedded within neoliberal geopolitics prompting urgent questions about how we can reaffirm principles of democracy and common heritage in the international laws of Earth and space This book is compelling reading for anyone interested in the social study of space law economics technology politics and property rights

Research Handbook of Finance and Sustainability Sabri Boubaker,Douglas Cumming,Duc Khuong Nguyen,2018 The severe consequences of the global financial crisis 2008 2009 and numerous accounting frauds and financial scandals over the last fifteen years have let to calls for more ethical and responsible actions in all economic activities including consumption investing governance and regulation Despite the fact that ethics in business and corporate social responsibility rules have been adopted in various countries more efforts have to be devoted to motivate and empower more actors to integrate ethical behavior and rules in making business and managerial decisions The Research Handbook of Finance and Sustainability will provide the readers but particularly investors managers and policymakers with comprehensive coverage of the issues at the crossroads of finance ethics and sustainable development as well as proposed solutions while focusing on three different levels corporations investment funds and financial markets

Space, Mobility, and Crisis in Mega-Event Organisation Rodanthi Tzanelli,2022-11-25 This book advances an alternative critical posthumanist approach to mega event organisation taking into account both the new and the old crises which humanity and our planet face Taking the delayed Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games as a case study Tzanelli explores mega event crisis and risk management in the era of extreme urbanisation natural disasters global pandemic and technoscientific control Using the atmospheric term irradiation a technology of glamour and transparency as well as bodily penetration by harmful agents and strong affects the book explores this epistemological statement diachronically via Tokyo's relationship with Western forms of domination and synchronically the city as a global cultural political player but victim of climate catastrophes It presents how the Olympic enterprise's flattening of indigenous environmental place making rhythms and the scientisation of space and place in the Anthropocene lead to reductionisms harmful for a viable programme of planetary recovery An experimental study of the mega event is enacted which considers the researcher's analytical tools and the styles of human and non human mobility during the mega event as reflexive gateways to forms of posthuman flourishing Crossing and bridging disciplinary boundaries the book will appeal to any scholar interested in mobilities theory event and environment studies sociology of knowledge and cultural globalisation

Being Digital Citizens Engin Isin, Professor of International Politics, Queen Mary University of London (QMUL) and University of London Institute in Paris (ULIP), Evelyn Ruppert, 2015-04-09 Developing a critical perspective on the challenges and possibilities presented by cyberspace this book explores where and how political subjects perform new rights and duties that govern themselves and others online Ethics in Participatory Research on Counselling and Psychotherapy John McLeod, Julia McLeod, 2025-02-25 Increasingly therapy practitioners and researchers position themselves within a pluralistic perspective that draws on the value of multiple sources of knowledge The aim of this book is to highlight the distinctive ethical challenges and opportunities associated with a pluralistic research orientation The book begins by succinctly summarising ethical concepts and strategies such as informed consent confidentiality and avoidance of harm that form the foundations of ethically sound research An overview of distinctive ethical features of pluralistic research is then provided followed by a series of chapters that address specific strands of ethics work The closing chapter discusses approaches to training and ethical inquiry the establishment of communities of research practice and the provision of forms of counselling and psychotherapy that promote social justice Each chapter will open with a concise chapter outline and close with a summary of key learning points take home skills and follow up learning activities Case examples from published studies will be used to illustrate how theory and concepts have been implemented in real life investigative contexts Written in plain English that is accessible to a wide range of readers with recommended reading signposted in respect of advanced topics this book will be an essential resource for practicing and trainee professionals and researchers in the psychological professions

Governance, Consumers and Citizens M. Bevir, F. Trentmann, 2007-09-12 This is the first book to focus on governance and cultures of consumption expanding the debate and raising new conceptions and policy agendas It questions the changing place of the consumer as citizen in recent trends in governance the tensions between competing ideas and practices of consumerism and the active role of consumers in governance Rekindling Democracy Cormac Russell, 2020-06-01 Finally a book that offers a practical yet well researched guide for practitioners seeking to hone the way they show up in citizen space At a time when public trust in institutions is at its lowest expectations of those institutions to make people well knowledgeable and secure are rapidly increasing These expectations are unrealistic causing disenchantment and disengagement among citizens and increasing levels of burnout among many professionals Rekindling Democracy is not just a practical guide it goes further in setting out a manifesto for a more equitable social contract to address these issues Rekindling Democracy argues convincingly that industrialized countries are suffering through a democratic inversion where the doctor is assumed to be the primary producer of health the teacher of education the police officer of safety and the politician of democracy Through just the right blend of storytelling research and original ideas Russell argues instead that in a functioning democracy the role of the professionals ought to be defined as that which happens after the important work of citizens is done The primary role of the twenty first century practitioner therefore is not a deliverer of top down services but a precipitator of more active citizenship and community building Citizenship Richard Yarwood, 2013-12-17 The idea of citizenship is widely used in daily life Citizenship tests are used to determine who can inhabit a country citizen charters have been used to prescribe levels of service provision citizens juries are used in planning or policy enquiries citizenship lessons are taught in schools youth organisations attempt often aim to instil good citizenship active citizens are encouraged to contribute voluntary effort to their local communities and campaigners may use citizens rights to achieve their goals What is meant by citizenship is never static and the subject of debate by academics politicians and activists These ideas are manifest and contested at a range of different scales This book therefore argues geography is crucial to understanding citizenship The text is organised around a number of spatial themes to examine how spatialities of citizenship are played out at a range of scales Ideas about locality boundaries mobility networks rurality and globalisation are used to reveal the importance of space and place in the constitution contestation and performance of citizenship In doing so the book reveals how different ideas of citizenship can include or exclude people from society and space Consideration is given to ways in which different groups have sought to empower themselves through various actions associated with and beyond conventional notions of citizenship Written in an accessible way with detailed case studies to illustrate conceptual ideas and approaches this book offers social scientists new spatial perspectives on citizenship while also bridging together strands of social cultural and political geography in ways that deepen understandings of people and place

Bringers of Order James N. Gilmore, 2025-02-04

Wearable technology including smartwatches biometric trackers and body cameras are often touted as helpful tools that record produce and analyze data about daily life to improve our individual habits and health or to solve serious public issues In this book James N Gilmore argues that these lofty promises mask forms of surveillance and power Charting the implementation of wearables in areas of accessibility health sports labor law enforcement and infrastructure Gilmore demonstrates how these devices have been positioned as authoritative means for producing knowledge about human activity Drawing on news reporting advertising film and television company reports and legal policies he shows how this knowledge production reproduces three distinct modes of power normalcy surveillance and solutionism Bringers of Order empowers readers to examine the complicated ways our devices reshape how we think about our lives and our ethics and why we should resist companies analyzing our personal data

Making Space for the Gulf Arang Keshavarzian, 2024-04-16

The Persian Gulf has long been a contested space an object of imperial ambitions national antagonisms and migratory dreams The roots of these contestations lie in the different ways the Gulf has been defined as a region both by those who live there and those beyond its shore Making Space for the Gulf reveals how capitalism empire building geopolitics and urbanism have each shaped understandings of the region over the last two centuries Here the Gulf comes into view as a created space encompassing dynamic social relations and competing interests Arang Keshavarzian writes a new history of the region that places Iran Iraq and the Arabian Peninsula together within global processes He connects moments more often treated as ruptures the discovery of oil the Iranian Revolution the rise and decline of British empire the emergence of American power and crafts a narrative populated by a diverse range of people migrants and ruling families pearl divers and star architects striking taxi drivers and dethroned rulers protectors of British India and stewards of globalized American universities Tacking across geographic scales Keshavarzian reveals how the Gulf has been globalized through transnational relations regionalized as a geopolitical category and cleaved along national divisions and social inequalities When understood as a process not an object the Persian Gulf reveals much about how regions and the world have been made in modern times Making Space for the Gulf offers a fresh understanding of this globally consequential place

Tours Inside the Snow Globe

Tonya K. Davidson, 2024-05-16 The toppling of monuments globally in the last few years has highlighted the potency of monuments as dynamic and affectively loaded participants in society In the context of Ottawa Canada's capital city monuments inspire colonial and imperial nostalgia compelling visitors to consistently re imagine Canada as a white Anglophone nation built through the labour of white men politicians soldiers and businessmen At the same time Ottawa monuments allow for dominant affective relationships to the nation to be challenged demonstrated through subtle and explicit forms of defacement and other interactions that compel us to remember colonial violence pacifism violence against women and racism Organized as a series of walking tours throughout Ottawa the chapters in Tours Inside the Snow Globe demonstrate the affective capacities of monuments and highlight how these monuments have ongoing relationships with their sites the city other monuments and local deliberate national and casual communities of users The tours focus on the lives of a monument to an unnamed Indigenous scout the National War Memorial Enclave the Ottawa Women's Monument and the Canadian Tribute to Human Rights Two of the tours offer analyses of the ambivalent representations of women and Indigeneity in Ottawa's statue landscape
