Civic Engagement In The Atlantic Community:

Civic Engagement in the Atlantic Community Josef Janning, Charles Kupchan, Dirk Rumberg, 1999 The West the Atlantic community the transatlantic alliance these were expressions used widely during the decades of east west conflict distinguishing the West from the negative image of the eastern bloc The end of the old political order in Eastern Europe gave the Atlantic community the opportunity to redefine its self image In this book high ranking experts and politicians examine the question of whether and to what extent this chance was used The highly endorsed values of this community are put to the test here and the idea of a civic society discussed is it the appropriate groundwork for a new bridge across the Atlantic

Paradoxes of European Foreign Policy Jan Zielonka, 2023-09-29 The European Union s foreign policy is full of paradoxes The Union aspires to be a powerful international actor without becoming a super state It hopes to prevent and manage conflicts but refrains from acquiring the military means to do so It embarks on the project of widening its borders but continues its deepening project which makes the entrance hurdles for applicant countries ever higher It wishes to maintain strong transatlantic links but continues to build institutions that make the EU more independent from if not competitive with the United States In this stimulating book distinguished European and American intellectuals offer solutions to imperative but unanswered questions How can the Union s enormous normative power of attraction combined with its operational weakness be explained Can the Union remain a civilian power when coping with an uncivilized world Can a European foreign policy get off the ground without prior emergence of a European demos Are national policies within the Union increasingly convergent or divergent And how can the Union s international performance be assessed The New and Changing Transatlanticism Laurie Buonanno, Natalia Cuglesan, Keith Henderson, 2015-03-24 The European Union and the US are currently negotiating the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership TTIP with potentially enormous economic gains for both partners Experts from the European Union and the US explore not only the groundwork laid for TTIP under the New Transatlanticism but also the key variables economic cultural institutional and political shaping transatlantic policy outcomes Divided into four parts Part I consisting of three chapters contextualizes the transatlantic relationship with an historical survey contemporary foreign relations and policy and cultural dynamics Together these chapters provide the background for understanding the evolving nature of the EU US relationship Part II of this volume focuses on governance and comprises two chapters one on transatlantic governance and the other administrative culture Part III consists of six policy chapters competition trade transport mobility regimes financial services regulation and GMOs Part IV consisting of three chapters explores prospects and challenges associated with transatlanticism including the TTIP The last chapter concludes with lessons learned and future challenges with respect to policy convergence the nature of the EU US relationship power resources and bargaining within the transatlantic partnership and an assessment of the future of deeper cooperation and integration This insightful account into policy cooperation between the EU and the US is a welcomed resource for policy specialists oriented toward comparative public policy wishing to enter the arena of Transatlantic Studies The Public Sphere in Muslim Societies Miriam Hoexter, Shmuel N. Eisenstadt, Nehemia Levtzion, 2012-02-01 Challenging conventional assumptions the contributors to this interdisciplinary volume argue that premodern Muslim societies had diverse and changing varieties of public spheres constructed according to premises different from those of Western societies The public sphere conceptualized as a separate and autonomous sphere between the official and private is used to shed new light on familiar topics in Islamic history such as the role of the shari a Islamic religious law the ulama Islamic scholars schools of law Sufi brotherhoods the Islamic endowment institution and the relationship between power and culture rulers and community from the ninth to twentieth centuries Comparative Civilizations and Multiple Modernities Shmuel N. Eisenstadt, 2022-11-07 This collection of essays provides an analysis of the dynamics of Civilizations The processes of globalization and of world history are described from a comparative sociological point of view in a Weberian tradition These essays were written between 1974 and 2002 by one of the most eminent sociologists of today The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9789004129931 The US and Europe in the Middle East and Beyond Charles A. Kupchan, 2007-04-10 For decades dealing with the Middle East has proved to be a very divisive issue for the United States and Europe During the Cold War heated transatlantic disputes emerged over a host of issues including the Suez Canal the Palestine Israel conflict and the containment of Iran Nonetheless these differences did not significantly impair transatlantic relations due to the solidarity engendered by the Soviet threat in Europe With the demise of the Soviet Union common tasks in Europe no longer overshadow differences in other regions The United States and Europe follow different approaches on the question of democratization in the Middle East This difference is rooted in the respective political cultures on each side of the Atlantic The United States appetite for democratization may be awakened by powerful strains of idealism but it is also limited by powerful strains of isolationism on one level the US would prefer to stand aloof from the world avoiding the dangers and compromises that come with engagement American politics is not suited to the slow pace of incremental change the sullyng tasks of nation building and the ambiguities of governing foreign cultures and understanding their practices No such isolationism pushes Europe toward quick solutions Indeed Europe generally prefers slow and incremental movement toward democracy Europeans favor engaging target states rather than isolating them bringing about a gradual political transition rather than an abrupt change of regime Just as it took generations for liberal democracy to take firm root in Western Europe the EU is patient in its goal of exporting its model to the south and east Despite the long history of transatlantic tension over the Middle East some signs of potential convergence have recently emerged Although the situation in Iraq remains unstable and uncertain both sides of the Atlantic seem ready to put behind them the open acrimony that surrounded the war and on Iran the EU 3 the United Kingdom France and Germany and Washington have been working in unison since early 2005 However despite recent examples of convergence considerable transatlantic differences over the Middle East promise to persist becoming more and less pronounced in step with adverse and positive developments in the region That these differences are rooted in contrasting historical experiences political cultures and political systems makes it likely that disagreements over Middle East policy as in the past will remain a key source of transatlantic tension in the future

Civic Engagement in Communities of Color Kristen E. Duncan, Wayne Journell, 2023 This volume will assist classroom teachers teacher candidates and teacher educators identify where whitewashed civics curricula fail students of color Topics range from issues facing Asian immigrant communities to the Black Lives Matter at School curriculum Civic Engagement Pedagogy in the Community College: Theory and Practice Emily Schnee, Alison Better, Martha Clark Cummings, 2015-11-19

This book will help post secondary educators to discover the joys and challenges of implementing theoretically grounded civic engagement projects on their campuses The essays on civic engagement and public scholarship are written by an interdisciplinary group of community college faculty who have designed and implemented civic engagement projects in their classrooms The projects they describe stand at the intersection of research theory and pedagogy They challenge dominant constructions of civic engagement as students bring their community culture and history into the classroom The authors consider the particular complexities and constraints of doing civically engaged teaching and scholarship at the community college level and situate their projects within current theoretical debates about civic engagement public scholarship and public higher education

Identity, Morality, and Threat Daniel Rothbart, Karina V. Korostelina, 2006-10-26 Identity Morality and Threat offers a critical examination of the social psychological processes that generate outgroup devaluation and ingroup glorification as the source of conflict Dr Daniel Rothbart and Dr Karina Korostelina bring together essays analyzing the causal relationship between escalating violence and opposing images of the Self and Other The essays confront the practice of demonizing the Other as a justification for violent conflict and the conditions that enable these distorted images to shape future decisions The authors provide insight into the possibilities for transforming threat narratives into collaboration narratives and for changing past opposition into mutual understanding Identity Morality and Threat is a strong contribution to the study of identity based conflict and psychological defenses

Traveling Between Worlds Thomas Adam, Ruth V. Gross, 2006 In Traveling between Worlds six authors explore the connectedness between Germans and Americans in the nineteenth century and their mutual impact on transatlantic history Despite the ocean between them these two groups of people were linked not only by the emigration from one to the other but also by ongoing interactions especially among their intellectuals Christof Mauch's introduction examines the history of the German American exchange and of cultural exchanges in general Focusing on various aspects of the German American relationship Eberhard Bruning John T Walker Thomas Adam Gabriele Lingelbach Andrew P Yox and Christiane Harzig examine the cultural and communicative exchanges that occurred both between the two countries and within them Topics such as travel cultural interpretation ideological and intellectual transfer the immigrant experience and German American poetry are all considered Traveling between Worlds demonstrates that exchange was facilitated and maintained by ordinary individuals such as teachers and scholars immigrants and natives and held implications that last to this day Identity, Civic Engagement and Multiculturalism: Portuguese-Canadian Immigrant Descendants in Canada and Portugal Robert A. Kenedy, Fernando Nunes, Ana Paula Beja Horta, 2013-03-15 This special issue of the Portuguese Studies Review focuses on understanding the Portuguese Canadian immigrant experience in Canada and Portugal in terms of identity formation and civic engagement within a broader framework of current debates on multiculturalism and transnationalism This special volume resulted from the contributions presented at the Symposium Identity Civic Engagement and Multiculturalism Portuguese Canadian Immigrant Descendants in Canada which was held at York University Toronto on 11 and 12 October 2011 The issue presents studies by Robert A Kenedy Fernando Nunes Ana Paula Beja Horta Gilberta Pav o Nunes Rocha Derrick Mendes Christina Kwicza a Benjamin Kutsyuruba Filomena Silvano Marta Rosales and S nia Ferreira NATO and the Quest for Post-Cold War Security Clay Clemens, 2016-07-27 This volume presents often sharply contrasting views on the future of NATO Its contributors mainly security specialists cover structural reform of NATO and its relationship with the European Union evidence or arguments in support of the Alliance taking on new tasks like peacekeeping and enlarging eastward to include countries of the former Soviet bloc and a variety of arguments against enlargement ranging from concerns about Russia s reaction to questions about whether the US should remain involved in Europe Canadian Perspectives on Immigration in Small Cities Glenda Tibe Bonifacio, Julie L. Drolet, 2016-10-31 This book examines immigration to small cities throughout Canada It explores the distinct challenges brought about by the influx of people to urban communities which typically have less than 100 000 residents The essays are organized into four main sections partnerships resources and capacities identities belonging and social networks health politics and diversity and Francophone minority communities Taken together they provide a comprehensive multi disciplinary perspective on the contemporary realities of immigration to small urban locations Readers will discover how different groups of migrants immigrants and Francophone minorities confront systemic discrimination how settlement agencies and organizations develop unique strategies for negotiating limited resources and embracing opportunities brought about by changing demographics and how small cities work hard to develop inclusive communities and respond to social exclusions In addition each essay includes a case study that highlights the topic under discussion in a particular city or region from Brandon Manitoba to the Thompson Nicola Region in British Columbia from Peterborough Ontario to the Niagara Region As a complement to metropolitan based works on immigration in Canada this collection offers an important dimension in migration studies that will be of interest to academics researchers as well as policymakers and practitioners working on immigrant integration and settlement School-University-Community Collaboration for Civic Education and Engagement in the Democratic Project R. Martin Reardon, Jack Leonard, 2022-05-01 The Campaign for the Civic Mission of Schools 2011 lamented the lack of high quality civic education in America s schools that leaves millions of citizens without the wherewithal to make sense of our system of government p 4 Preus et al 2016 cited literature to support their observation of a decline in high quality civic education and a low rate of civic engagement of young people p 67 Shapiro and Brown 2018 asserted that civic knowledge and public engagement is at an all time low p 1 Writing as a college senior Flaherty 2020 urged educators to bravely interpret national local and even school level incidents as chances for enhanced civic education and to discuss them with students in both formal and casual settings p 6 In this eighth volume in the Current Perspectives on School University Community Research series we feature the work of brave educators who are engaged in schooluniversity community collaborative educational endeavors Authors focus on a wide range of projects oriented to civic education writ large some that have been completed and some that are still in progress but all authors evince the passion for civic education that underpins engagement in the democratic project

NATO in the “New Europe” Alexandra Gheciu, 2005-08-17 In recent years the question of the post Cold War NATO particularly in relation to the former communist countries of Europe has been at the heart of a series of international reform debates NATO in the New Europe contributes to these debates by arguing that contrary to conventional assumptions about the role of international security organizations NATO has been systematically involved in the process of building liberal democracy in the former communist countries of Central and Eastern Europe The book also seeks to contribute to the development of an international political sociology of socialization It draws on arguments developed by political theorists sociologists and social psychologists to examine the dynamics and implications of socialization practices conducted by an international institution

Resources in Education ,2001-10 Federal Probation ,2003 Leading For Regeneration John Hardman, 2013-07-03 This book presents the regenerative leadership framework that has emerged from doctoral research and consulting work with successful sustainability leaders and their organizations in business education and community The framework synthesizes the levels of awareness the leadership styles and behaviours and the organizational arrangements that correlate most significantly across these domains Most importantly the overwhelming majority of the leaders in this work agree that individual and collective consciousness development is critical to transforming the culture of organizations for sustainability and beyond The term regenerative has not been chosen arbitrarily but to provide an alternative to the notion of sustainability which many of the leaders featured here indicate has become insufficient to describe what needs to be done economically socially and environmentally if we are to ensure a flourishing world for present and future generations This work in turn has led to the development of the Regenerative Capacity Index RCI a tool designed to assess an organization s readiness to engage in regenerative practice From this evaluation of an organization s regenerative capacity it becomes possible to design a strategy for regeneration that considers all levels of its environmental social and economic impact both internally and externally in the local and global community Among its major findings the book argues that the more evolved sustainability leaders are becoming increasingly dissatisfied with the construct of sustainability and indicate the need for a profound cultural shift towards regenerative human systems In this framework regenerative organizations are driven by a sense higher purpose and leadership is exercised horizontally and collaboratively Leaders and followers engage in generative conversations to create desirable futures which are then backcasted to eliminate unanticipated consequences Throughout leaders emphasize the critical importance of engaging in personal and collective consciousness development or inner work in order to make regenerative practices possible
