Language, Immigration and Naturalization Ariel Loring, Vaidehi Ramanathan, 2016-04-20 This volume focuses on the everyday legalities and practicalities of naturalization including governmental processes the language of citizenship tests and classes the labelling and lived experiences of immigrants outsiders and the media s interpretation of this process The book brings together scholars from a wide range of specialties who accentuate language and raise issues that often remain unarticulated or masked in the media The contributors highlight how governmental policies and practices affect native born citizens and residents differently on the basis of legal status Furthermore the authors observe that many issues that are typically seen as affecting immigrants such as language policies nationalist identities and feelings of belonging also impact first generation native born citizens who are seen as or see themselves as outsiders Civics framework for the 1998 National Assessment of Educational Progress : NAEP Civics Consensus Project , Citizenship Education And The Modern State Kerry Kennedy, 2012-11-12 Citizenship education has recently re emerged as an important issue both in policy and in practice As the nation state undergoes rapid transformation at the end of the 20th century both Eastern and Western states have focused attention on using the school curriculum as a medium for sustaining cohesion and unity within society But as we approach the 21st century is the possibility of a common citizenship a reality This book is designed to provide educators with access to ideas and information that will help them to understand current citizenship education initiatives across a number of countries It provides a theoretical rationale in which to consider those issues illustrates how such issues are being worked out in practice in a number of countries and provides assistance for policy makers teacher educators and teachers who are responsible for making decisions about the context of citizenship education programmes for schools

Citizenship Curriculum in Asia and the Pacific David L. Grossman, Wing On Lee, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2008-08-31 Based on case studies of 11 societies in the world s most dynamic region this book signals a new direction of study at the intersection of citizenship education and the curriculum Following their successful volume Citizenship Education in Asia and the Pacific Concepts and Issues published as No 14 in this series the editors widely regarded as leaders in the field in the Asia Pacific region have gone beyond broad citizenship education frameworks to examine the realities tensions and pressures that influence the formation of the citizenship curriculum Chapter authors from different societies have addressed two fundamental questions 1 how is citizenship education featured in the current curriculum reform agenda in terms of both policy contexts and values and 2 to what extent do the reforms in citizenship education reflect current debates within the society From comparative analysis of these 11 case studies the editors have found a complex picture of curriculum reform that indicates deep tensions between global and local agendas On one hand there is substantial evidence of an increasingly common policy rhetoric in the debates about citizenship education On the other it is evident that this discourse does not necessarily extend to citizenship curriculum which in most places continues to be constructed according to distinctive social political and cultural contexts Whether the focus is on Islamic values in Pakistan an emerging discourse about Chinese democracy a nostalgic conservatism in Australia or a continuing nation building project in Malaysia the cases show that distinctive social values and ideologies construct national citizenship curricula in Asian contexts even in this increasingly globalized era This impressive collection of case studies of a diverse group of societies informs and enriches understanding of the complex relationship between citizenship education and the curriculum both regionally and globally

Citizenship Education and Lifelong Learning Michael Williams, Graham Humphrys, 2003 Across the globe citizenship education is high on the reform agendas of policy makers and educators The collapse of the Soviet Union and the entry of former Soviet bloc states into the European Union the fragmentation of the former Yugoslavia the major population movements from poor to rich countries and the increased threats of international terrorism and civil wars in many states have all added to the need to provide up dated and reflective approaches to citizenship education Within nation states the impact of globalisation on social economic and political structures has caused power shifts across and within international borders demanding greater citizenship awareness and participation The effect of these changes and the practice and needs of citizenship are profoundly affected by the distinctive particulars of the places in which they occur This is an essential ingredient in any understanding of what is happening and of any program addressing the resulting citizenship challenges Too often citizenship education has been perceived simply as a matter for schools In this book the discussion is extended to embrace post school education It is acknowledged that the educa

The Politics and Civics of National Service Melissa Bass, 2013-01-03 In 1933 President Franklin D Roosevelt created America s first domestic national service program the Civilian Conservation Corps CCC As part of this program the largest and most highly esteemed of its kind nearly three million unemployed men worked to rehabilitate protect and build the nation s natural resources It demonstrated what citizens and government could accomplish together Yet despite its success the CCC was short lived While more controversial programs such as President Johnson s Volunteers in Service to America VISTA and President Clinton s AmeriCorps survived why did CCC die And why given the hard won continuation and expansion of AmeriCorps is national service an option for fewer Americans today than at its start nearly eighty years ago In The Politics and Civics of National Service Melissa Bass focuses on the history current relevance and impact of domestic civilian national service She explains why such service has yet to be deeply institutionalized in the United States while military and higher education have solidified their roles as American institutions civilian national service is still not recognized as a long term policy option Bass argues that only by examining these programs over time can we understand national service s successes and limitations both in terms of its political support and its civics lessons The Politics and Civics of National Service furthers our understanding of American political development by comparing programs founded during three distinct political eras the New Deal theGreat Society and the early Clinton years and tracing them over time To a remarkable extent the CCC VISTA and AmeriCorps reflect the policymaking ethos and political controversies of their times illuminating principles that hold well beyond the field of national service By emphasizing these programs effects on citizenship and civic engagement The Politics and Civics of National Ser Civic and Citizenship Education in Volatile Times Kerry J Kennedy,2019-04-23 The book highlights current issues influencing civic and citizenship education and their theoretical underpinnings It provides an overview of the key features influencing democratic deconsolidation suggests ways in which civic and citizenship education needs to be reframed in order to fit this new political environment and demonstrates how social media will play a significant role in any future for civic and citizenship education Currently democratic institutions are under attack democratic values are threatened and there is a wide scale retreat from the liberal consensus that has underpinned liberal democracies internationally These trends can be seen in events like Brexit the election of a right wing populist President of the United States and anti democratic governments in parts of Europe It is this change in the direction of political ideology that is currently deconsolidating democracy and thus challenging traditional approaches to civic and citizenship education What is urgently needed is an understanding of these current trends and their implications for thinking in new ways about civic and citizenship education in the 21st century Activist Citizenship Education Keith Heggart,2021-01-02 This book explores alternative models of civics and citizenship education Specifically it uses Justice Citizens a participatory research and film making project as a tool to examine young people s ideas about active citizenship and participation in public spaces It introduces a framework that seeks to explore the diverse and apparently contradictory nature of young people s active citizenship The framework draws on complexity theory combined with critical pedagogy and democratic education to formulate an approach to developing active citizenship among young people This approach extends theories of both critical pedagogy and education for citizenship and by doing so seeks to explain the variegated nature of young people s engagement with civil society This book contains a valuable repository of ideas and resources for application for teachers to use in schools and classrooms Academics engaged in initial teacher education at both primary and secondary levels will find the framework of use when describing the importance and new approaches to civics and citizenship education within the current school and policy environments Influences of the IEA Civic and Citizenship Education Studies Barbara Malak-Minkiewicz,Judith Torney-Purta,2021-05-26 This open access book identifies the multiple ways that IEA s studies of civic and citizenship education have contributed to national and international educational discourse research policymaking and practice The IEA International Civic and Citizenship Education Study ICCS first conducted in 2009 was followed by a second cycle in 2016 The project was linked to the earlier IEA Civic Education Study CIVED 1999 2000 IEA s ICCS remains the only large scale international study dedicated to formal and informal civic and citizenship education in school It continues to make substantial contributions to understanding the nature of the acquired civic knowledge attitudes and participatory skills It also discusses in depth how a wide range of countries prepare their young people for citizenship in changing political social and economic circumstances The next cycle of ICCS is planned for 2022 In this book more than 20 national representatives and international scholars from Europe Latin America Asia and North America assess how the processes and findings of the 2009 and 2016 cycles of ICCS and CIVED 1999 2000 have been used to improve nations understanding of their students civic knowledge beliefs attitudes current civic related behaviors and intentions for future participation in a comparative context There are also chapters summarizing the secondary analysis of those studies results indicating their usefulness for educational improvement and reflecting on policy issues The analyses and reflections in this book provide timely insight into international educational discourse policy practice and research in an area of education that is becoming increasingly important for many societies

a computer based assessment Responding to enduring and emerging challenges of educating young people in a world where contexts of democracy and civic participation continue to change the study addresses issues related to young people s engagement through digital technologies migration and diversity perceptions of the political system global citizenship and education for sustainable development Over the past 50 years IEA has conducted comparative research studies in a range of domains focusing on educational policies practices and outcomes in many countries around the world Prior to ICCS 2022 IEA conducted four international comparative studies of civic and citizenship education with a first survey implemented in 1971 a second one in 1999 third in 2009 and fourth in 2016 ICCS 2022 data will allow education systems to evaluate the strengths of educational policies both internationally and in a regional context and to measure progress in achieving critical components of their educational policy agendas Citizenship Syllabus Committee for Immigrants in America. Research Department,1916 Citizenship in Transformation in Canada Yvonne M. Hébert,2002-01-01 Contributors argue persuasively that since conceptions of democratic citizenship are changing so too should operational definitions of citizenship education Civic Education and Youth Political Participation ,2009-01-01 Why does it appear that many young people are disengaging from democracy and political participation For many governments politicians academics social commentators and researchers this is a serious and challenging problem Consequently widespread interest exists on how to engage young people in politics and democracy Civic education has re emerged as a possible answer to this question though not necessarily in the form in which it may be currently known This book examines research into issues about the engagement of young people in politics and democracy and examines research on civic education applications and programs which may address concerns about youth political participation Murray Print and Henry Milner are professors from the University of Sydney and the Universite de Montreal respectively They have brought together a group of leading researchers exploring the relationship between political participation and civic education to examine this relationship in greater depth
