Civil Society in Asia-Pacific Region, 2003      Civil Society in the Asia-Pacific Region Isagani R. Serrano, 1994 2 A NEW ASIAN DRAMA      Governance and Democracy in the Asia-Pacific Stephen McCarthy, Mark R. Thompson, 2020-03-17 This book explores the theoretical and empirical relationship between democracy and governance in the Asia Pacific region Examining a variety of country cases and themes addressing the theoretical tension between governance and democracy it illuminates how this impacts political and civil societies across the region Analysing the character structure and current trajectories of polities in the Asia Pacific democratic or otherwise this book demonstrates that the role of civil society political society and governance has significantly differed in practice from what has been commonly assumed within the international community The book includes both theoretical investigations tracing the modern development of the concepts of governance development and democratization as well as regional and country specific observations of major issues presenting comprehensive country level studies of China Singapore Thailand Cambodia the Philippines Myanmar Fiji and the Solomon Islands Presenting fascinating insight into non democratic governance civil society and the rule of law in illiberal contexts Governance and Democracy in the Asia Pacific will prove to be of great use to students and scholars of Asian politics and society as well as international and comparative politics      Emerging Civil Society in the Asia Pacific Community Tadashi Yamamoto, 1995 Focuses on the activities of nongovernmental research institutions foundations and philanthropic organizations in fifteen Asia Pacific countries Australia Canada China Hong Kong Indonesia Japan Korea Malaysia New Zealand Philippines Singapore Taiwan Thailand United States and Vietnam      Emerging Civil Society in the Asia Pacific Community Tadashi Yamamoto,      States, Markets and Civil Society in Asia Pacific: The political economy of the Asia-Pacific region Joseph A. Camilleri, 2000 This first volume of a two volume study concentrates on the geopolitical and economic transformation of Asia Pacific It focuses on the complex relationship between the decline of ideological bipolarity the rapid industrialization of East Asia and the tensions generated by the shifting balance of regional and global economic interests      Globalization, the City and Civil Society in Pacific Asia Mike Douglass, K.C. Ho, Giok Ling Ooi, 2007-10-29 Globalization the City and Civil Society in Pacific Asia presents a detailed examination of the underlying issues of urban life in the Far East Leading authorities on globalization and politics in the region cover key themes of continuity and change relationships between civil society and the production of urban spaces Chapters focus on various types of civic spaces that provide spaces for life that are autonomous from state and capital ten case studies explore a wide variety of contexts ranging from spaces where lower classes congregated in ancient Chinese cities to cyberspaces of the contemporary internet the history and role of civil society in social and political philosophies of societies in the Pacific Asia region tendencies and issues related to specific types of civic spaces in a given city Several studies find that great stress has been placed on long standing community and civic spaces common themes patterns and issues as well as singularities of each particular context In this way it can contribute to the broader mostly Western literature on society and space the future of cities in Pacific Asia from the perspective of civic space Can civic spaces be routinely created rather than appropriated through civil society state economy struggles Most research on globalization and civil society has focused on the West this unique book brings together a tight analysis and a series of ten case studies on Pacific Asian countries It also theorizes and empirically explores the relationships between civil society and the production of urban spaces

In East and Southeast Asia the creation of civil society is a crucial yet most difficult issue Europeans have had the luxury of centuries in a slow moving world characterised by weak governments in which the foundation institutions norms and values of civil society could ferment and develop Asia however faces this task when a nation's currency can devalue in seconds destabilising its government and when states have far more effective means of surveillance suppression and terror This book examines these issues and shows that a better understanding of civil society in the Asian context is central to promoting contemporary political social and economic reform in Asia It will appeal to students and teachers of politics law and sociology because it provides new perspectives on how to understand civil society drawing on Asian examples as well as indications for rethinking what civil society means in Asia Individual chapters combine theoretical and empirical issues in a way which fills a major gap in the literature Henceforth works about civil society will need to take more account of the Asian evidence and Asianists will need to have a clear idea of what civil society in Asia means

Islam and Civil Society in Southeast Asia Nakamura Mitsuo, Sharon Siddique, Omar Farouk Bajunid, 2001 The Islamic world often regarded as an anathema to civil society in fact has rich traditions of associational life pursuing common good These religious resources have been reinterpreted for the enhancement of civic virtues and participatory politics in contemporary context that is democratization Such pioneering efforts have been clearly observable in Muslim Southeast Asia In November 1999 the Sasakawa Peace Foundation invited ten Muslim activists and scholars from the region to Japan for exchanging views and experiences among themselves and with Japanese participants Here their papers and discussions are compiled into a book

Emerging Civil Society in the Asia Pacific Community Tadashi Yamamoto, 1995 Focuses on the activities of nongovernmental research institutions foundations and philanthropic organizations in fifteen Asia Pacific countries Australia Canada China Hong Kong Indonesia Japan Korea Malaysia New Zealand Philippines Singapore Taiwan Thailand United States and Vietnam

Civil Society in Southeast Asia Lee Hock Guan, 2004 What is the relevance of civil society to people empowerment effective governance and deepening democracy This book addresses this question by examining the activities and public participation of non governmental organizations NGOs in the areas of religion ethnicity gender and the environment Examples are taken from Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Thailand and Vietnam State regimes attempts to co opt the concept or reject it as alien to Asian values have apparently not turned out as expected This is evident from the fact that many Southeast Asian citizens are inspired by the civil society concept and now engage in public discourse and participation The experience of civil society in Southeast Asia shows that its impact or lack of impact on democratization and democracy depends on a variety of factors not only within civil society itself but also within the state

CIVICUS Global Survey of the State of Civil Society Volkhart Heinrich, Lorenzo Fioramonti, CIVICUS (Association), 2007 The second volume of the CIVICUS Global Survey of the State of Civil Society offers a wide ranging analysis of key issues facing civil society worldwide with contributions from prominent researchers and civil society practitioners Comprising 24 chapters the book draws on the information collected by the CIVICUS Civil Society Index project in more than 45 countries to explore issues such as civil society's accountability its relations to the state and corporate sector and its role in governance and development It also includes regional overviews of the state of civil society in different continents By bringing together a diversity of perspectives and themes this book offers one of the most comprehensive and engaging analyses of civil society worldwide Other Contributors Helmut Anheier Stefanie Bailer Monica Blagescu Thilo Bodenstein David Bonbright L David Brown Jerzy Celichowski Julius Court Wolfgang D rner Alan Fowler Marc M Howard Mohini Kak Mahi Khallaf Natalia Kyrtopoulou Petr Kopecky Barry Knight Carmen Malena Jacob Mati Cas Mudde Kumi Naidoo Paul Opoku Mensah Aruna Rao Laurie Regelbrugge Janine Schall Emden Andres Serbin Catherine Shea Carla Suarez Rajesh Tandon zlem T r and Jan van Deth States, Markets and Civil Society in Asia Pacific: The political economy of the Asia-Pacific region

Joseph A. Camilleri, 2000 This first volume of a two volume study concentrates on the geopolitical and economic transformation of Asia Pacific It focuses on the complex relationship between the decline of ideological bipolarity the rapid industrialization of East Asia and the tensions generated by the shifting balance of regional and global economic interests

Globalization and Civil Society in East Asian Space Khatharya Um, Chiharu Takenaka, 2022-12-30 This book critically examines the impact of globalization changing power dynamics migration and evolving rights regimes on regional order discourse of national governance state and society relations and the development of civil society in East Asia Providing a textured critical reading of East Asia as an economically socially and politically dynamic region this book also presents the region as one shaped simultaneously by progressive as well as regressive pulls Attentive to prevailing issues as well as to states and civil societies responses to them it focuses on changing societies and politics in East Asia particularly on shifting notions of citizenship nationhood and peoplehood The contributions feature new and timely conclusions drawn from multidisciplinary fields including law public policy sociology Asian studies gender sexuality and ethnic studies and include direct testimonies from citizens of East and Southeast Asia Globalization and Civil Society in East Asian Space will appeal to students and scholars of sociology political science and Asian studies more broadly Human Rights in the Asia-Pacific Region Hitoshi Nasu, Ben Saul, 2011-05-23 The Asia Pacific region is known for having one of the least developed institutional mechanisms for protecting human rights This edited collection makes a timely and distinctive contribution to contemporary debates about strengthening the institutional protection of human rights in the Asia Pacific region in the wake of ASEAN's announcement in 2009 of an ASEAN regional human rights mechanism Drawing together leading scholarly voices including Surya Deva V T Thamilmaran Tom Zwart and Catherine Renshaw the book focuses on the systemic issue of institutionalizing human rights protection in the Asia Pacific It critically examines the prospects for deepening and widening the institutionalization of human rights monitoring in the region challenging the orthodox scepticism about whether Asia is ready for stronger institutions The volume analyses the impediments to institutions whilst questioning the need for them

International Encyclopedia of Civil Society Helmut K. Anheier, Stefan Toepler, 2009-11-24 Recently the topic of civil society has generated a wave of interest and a wealth of new information Until now no publication has attempted to organize and consolidate this knowledge The International Encyclopedia of Civil Society fills this gap establishing a common set of understandings and terminology and an analytical starting point for future research Global in scope and authoritative in content the Encyclopedia offers succinct summaries of core concepts and theories definitions of terms biographical entries on important figures and organizational profiles In addition it serves as a reliable and up to date guide to additional sources of information In sum the Encyclopedia provides an overview of the contours of civil society social capital philanthropy and nonprofits across cultures and historical periods For researchers in nonprofit and civil society studies political science economics management and social enterprise this is the most systematic appraisal of a rapidly growing field Complexity, Security and Civil Society in East Asia Peter Hayes, Kiho Yi, 2015-06-22 Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia offers the latest understanding of complex global problems in the region including nuclear weapons urban insecurity energy and climate change Detailed case studies of China North and South Korea and Japan demonstrate the importance of civil society and civic diplomacy in reaching shared solutions to these problems in East Asia and beyond Each chapter describes regional civil society initiatives that tackle complex challenges to East Asia's security In doing so the book identifies key pressure points at which civil society can push for constructive changes especially ones that reduce the North Korean threat to its neighbors Unusually this book is both theoretical and practical Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia presents strategies that can be led by civil society and negotiated by its diplomats to realize peace security and sustainability worldwide It shows that networked civic diplomacy offers solutions to these urgent issues that official complex diplomacy cannot By providing a new theoretical framework based on empirical observation this volume is a must read for diplomats scholars students journalists activists and individual readers seeking insight into how to solve the crucial issues of our time

Global Civil Society? John Keane, 2003-04-17 John Keane a leading scholar of political theory tracks the recent development of a big idea with fresh potency global civil society In this timely book Keane explores the contradictory forces currently nurturing or threatening its growth and he shows how talk of global civil society implies a political vision of a less violent world founded on legally sanctioned power sharing arrangements among different and intermingling forms of socio economic life Keane's reflections are pitted against the widespread feeling that the world is both too complex and too violent to deserve serious reflection His account borrows from various scholarly disciplines including political science and international relations to challenge the silence and confusion within much of contemporary literature on globalisation and global governance Against fears of terrorism rising tides of xenophobia and loose talk of anti globalisation the defence of global civil society mounted here implies the need for new democratic ways of living Democratisation, Governance and Regionalism in East and Southeast Asia Ian Marsh, 2006-09-27 This new collection of essays compares the development of central institutions of governance in the emerging democracies of East and South East Asia Seven key countries are covered Taiwan Korea Thailand Singapore Malaysia Indonesia and the Philippines Save for Singapore and Malaysia all have democratized over the past decade Because of its constitutive implications for citizen identities democratization is arguably of even greater potential significance than the economic take off that preceded it But there are distinctive features that give the experience of these seven states especial relevance First unlike analogous western patterns democratic transitions in Asia have been top down in character Second the implementation of basic democratic forms was highly compressed in time Third there were and are in most countries no major ideological or programmatic cleavages Thus the bases around which contending political forces might organize are not immediately clear This may affect the outlook for partisanship and mobilization There has been no synoptic comparative study of these developments on a region wide scale This book fills the gap extremely well Southeast Asia and the Civil Society Gaze Gabi Waibel, Judith Ehlert, Hart N. Feuer, 2013-11-20 As developing countries with recent histories of isolation and extreme poverty followed by restoration and reform both Cambodia and Vietnam have seen new opportunities and demands for non state actors to engage in and manage the effects of rapid socio economic transformation This book examines how in both countries civil society actors and the state manage their relationship to one another in an environment that is continuously shaped and re constructed by changing legislation collaboration and negotiation advocacy and protest and social control Further it explores the countries divergent experiences whilst also uncovering the underlying basis and drivers of civil society activity that are shared by Cambodia and Vietnam Crucially this book engages with the contested nature of civil society and how it is socially constructed through research and development activities by looking at contemporary discourses and manifestations of civil society in the two countries including national and community level organisations associations and networks that operate in a variety of sectors such as gender the environment and health Drawing on extensive fieldwork conducted in Cambodia and Vietnam this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian studies Southeast Asian politics development studies and civil society
