Civil Society The American Model And Third World Development:

Civil Society Howard J. Wiarda, 2018-02-19 Civil Society focuses on the processes and politics of dismantling corporate state directed economies and political systems in the Third World Howard Wiarda explores how this separation would create a move toward civil societies of free associability and democracy as well as the limits to and pitfalls of this approach The book examines case studies from sub Saharan Africa East Asia Latin America and the Middle East and includes such critical countries as South Africa South Korea Taiwan Indonesia Brazil Mexico and Egypt Civil Society Howard J. Wiarda, 2019-08-28 Using case studies from sub Saharan Africa East Asia Latin America and the Middle East and including such critical countries as South Africa South Korea Taiwan Indonesia Brazil Mexico and Egypt Civil Society focuses on the processes and politics of dismantling corporate state directed economies and political systems in the Third World NGOs, Civil Society and Structural Changes Acar Kutay, 2021-06-22 This book suggests that our notions of civil society have undergone radical changes including structural changes in the nature of Civil Society Organizations CSOs and Non Governmental Organizations NGOs Such massive structural changes greatly problematize the older liberal view of a simple split between state and civil society actors which nonetheless remains dominant in much of social and political sciences The author argues that the naturalist and behaviorist approaches to civil society occlude the fact that citizens increasingly live within a particular and highly contestable way of imagining and constructing civil society The book shows that changes in how civil society is conceptualized and organized around new practices might mark radically new conceptions of the state that are ideologically neo liberal and subtle in the ways they disempower ordinary citizens The Challenges of the New Social Democracy Raju J. Das, Jamie Gough, Aram Eizenschitz, 2023-07-10 Raju J Das Jamie Gough and Aram Eizenschitz provide a Marxist critique of new social democracy as the dominant contemporary strategy for local economic and social development In both the global North and South new social democracy seeks to develop social capital strengthen civil society build not for profit enterprises encourage self help and foster community ties It seeks participatory forms of local politics to achieve a local class consensus It promises to improve people s economic and social conditions in the face of neoliberal capitalism and to empower them The authors argue that this strategy is severely limited by and internalises its capitalist environment They show that social enterprise can be developed in socialist ways and contribute to a local politics based in class struggle But social capital cannot replace the struggle of the exploited and oppressed against capitalism and for a socialist society a strategy which the authors outline for the local scale Exploring Civil Society Marlies Glasius, David Lewis, Hakan Seckinelgin, 2004-08-02 This volume explores how the idea of civil society has been translated in different cultural contexts and examines its impact on politics worldwide Comparing and contrasting civil society in Latin America and Eastern Europe Western Europe and the United States Africa and South Asia and the Middle East the contributors show that there are multiple interpretations of the concept that depend more on the particular political configuration in different parts of the world than on cultural predilections They also demonstrate that the power of civil society depends less on abstract definitions and more on the extent to which it is grounded in the context of actual experiences from around the world This book includes some of the biggest names in the area such as Mary Kaldor Ronnie Lipschutz and Helmut Anheier (Un)

Civil Society and Political Change in Indonesia Verena Beittinger-Lee, 2013-01-11 Un Civil Society and Political Change in Indonesia provides critical analysis of Indonesia's civil society and its impact on the country's democratization efforts that does not only take the classical pro democratic actors of civil society into account but also portrays uncivil groups and their growing influence on political processes Beittinger Lee offers a revised categorization of civil society including a model to define the sphere of uncivil society more closely and to identify several subcategories of uncivil society This is the first book to portray various uncivil groups in Indonesia ranging from vigilantes militias paramilitaries youth groups civil security task forces and militant Islamic and other religious groups ethnonationalist groups to terrorist organizations and groups belonging to organized crime Moreover it provides the reader with an overview of Indonesia's history its political developments after the democratic opening main improvements under the various presidents since Suharto's fall constitutional amendments and key reforms in human rights legislation This book will be of interest to upper level undergraduates postgraduates and academics in political science and Southeast Asian studies

The African Union and New Strategies for Development in Africa Said Adejumo, Adebayo O. Olukoshi, 2008 The early twenty first century witnessed remarkable attempts by Africa's political leadership to promote regional integration as a means of fast tracking economic progress facilitating peace and security consolidating democratic gains and promoting the general welfare of the African people The transition of the Organization of Unity OAU to the African Union AU as well as the foisting of a new economic blueprint for the continent the New Partnership for Africa's Development NEPAD combined with the growing role of the regional economic communities RECs in harmonizing and creating subregional norms and standards in the political and economic arena suggests a new trend towards regionalism in Africa Indeed in the new regional integration architecture the RECs are considered to be the building blocks of the integration process led by the African Union This new impetus of a regional development strategy was largely prompted by the slow pace of economic progress on the continent the increasing marginalization of Africa in the global economy and the need to create regional resources and standards that would benefit the continent in all spheres of social life A painful realization became obvious that small micro states in Africa sticking to their political independence and sovereignty would hardly make much progress in an increasingly globalised world A macro states approach of regional integration has assumed Africa's new strategy to intervene in and integrate with a globalizing world The current regional trend in Africa has received very little scholarly attention especially in a systematic and comprehensive way This is due partly to the fact that the processes are currently unfolding and there is still uncertainty in the outcomes Poor documentation and the dearth of primary materials especially from the regional institutions also contribute to the lack of scholarly work in this area This study assembles the voices of some of the most seasoned African and Africanist scholars who have constantly in one way or another interacted with the integration process in Africa and kept abreast of the developments therein and seeks to capture those developments in a nuanced manner in the economic political and social spheres The essence of this book is to analyze those processes teasing out the issues problems challenges and major policy recommendations with tentative conclusions on Africa s regional development trajectory The book therefore fills major knowledge and policy gaps in Africa s regional development agenda This book is a landmark contribution in a systematic attempt to comprehend Africa s regional development strategy led by the African Union It examines the background nuances and dimensions of the process which include the basis and historiography of pan Africanism the transition of the OAU to the AU the issue of popular participation in development the NEPAD and APRM initiatives the evolving regional peace and security architecture and the efforts of regional institutions to facilitate democracy human rights rule of law and good governance on the continent The book underscores the fact that formidable obstacles and challenges abound in the trajectory politics and processes of this regional development paradigm especially as Africa navigates an uncertain future in a deeply divided and unequal yet globalised World The book constitutes a major reference material and compendium for a wide range of readers students and scholars of African affairs and African development policy makers both in Africa and the western countries regional and international institutions and organizations and all those interested in the past present and future of Africa s development process      Law Reform in Developing and Transitional States Tim

Lindsey,2006-12-05 This informative book examines examples of law reform projects in post socialist and post authoritarian states in Asia identifies common problems and proposes analytical frameworks for understanding them      Civil Society and International Development OECD,North-South Centre of the Council of Europe,1998-07-29 Interest in the concept of civil society has undergone a remarkable renaissance in the 1990s It is currently seen as a potential tool to overcome some of the main theoretical and political stalemates But what exactly does the concept of civil      Culture and Foreign Policy

Howard J. Wiarda,2016-05-13 Political culture refers to the basic values ideas beliefs and political orientations by which countries societies and whole regions are guided The underlying belief systems that shape cultures and societies and cause them to behave in certain often distinct ways The puzzle or query that chiefly concerns this author is why the United States US and its foreign policy have such a hard time understanding cultures and societies other than their own This provocative book argues that the US needs to end its attitudes of superiority and condescension toward other nations and cultures and redirect its foreign policy accordingly After an introduction that sets forth the main theoretical and conceptual arguments the next chapters explore all the main areas of the world The Conclusion pulls all these themes together analyzes the common patterns that emerge and suggests new directions for U S foreign policy      Fukushima and Civil Society Beata

Bochorodycz,2022-08-18 This book analyzes the impact of the Fukushima disaster on civil society in Japan with particular attention to the anti nuclear movement focusing on its development repertoire of action mobilization strategies modes of operation and impact on the state s energy policy Combining social movement theory and civil society theory the author draws on extensive fieldwork in Japan to explore the context of the sociopolitical situation in Japan up to the Fukushima accident and to offer a typological description and analysis of the anti nuclear movement that emerged after the disaster Through an analysis of the relationship between the power elite and the anti nuclear movement organizations this volume considers the influences exercised by the ruling elites on civil society and vice versa thus assessing the effects of the anti nuclear movement on the state policy and the society A comprehensive account of the anti nuclear movement in post Fukushima Japan embedded within a broader perspective of the movement s historical development contemporary political structures and opportunities Fukushima and Civil Society will appeal to scholars of sociology and politics with an interest in social movements Chapter 4 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

The Institutionalisation of Evaluation in the Americas Reinhard Stockmann,Wolfgang Meyer,Laszlo Szentmarjay,2022-02-03 This book examines the progress of institutionalisation of evaluation in American countries from various perspectives It presents prior developments and current states of evaluation in 11 American countries and three transnational organisations focusing on three dimensions namely the political social and professional systems These detailed country reports which have been written by selected researchers and authors of the respective countries lead to a concluding comparison and synthesis This is the second of four volumes of the compendium The Institutionalisation of Evaluation The first volume on Europe was published in 2020 It will be followed by two more volumes on Asia Pacific and Africa The overall aim is to provide an interdisciplinary audience with cross country learning to enable them to better understand the institutionalisation of evaluation in different nations world regions and sectors

Beyond the 'African Tragedy' Malinda S. Smith,2016-12-05 Well researched and insightful this volume examines the historical and contemporary discourse on African development and the continent s place in the global economy The chapters critically explore the roles played by various global and local social forces in the construction of the New Partnership for Africa s Development NEPAD offering critical insights on financing for development the WTO and agriculture ICTs and FDIIs and the war on terrorism NEPAD has been endorsed by the African Union the Group of Eight and the United Nations System in order to address Africa s deficit through the forging of a global development partnership This timely resource is suitable for students and policy makers concerned with development in the African post colonies

Civil Society and the Aid Industry Alison Van Rooy,2020-04-14 This book is valuable for and beyond the international development industry It deftly leads a non specialist through the maze of ideas and arguments plaguing the concept of civil society and critically examines how and what happens when the international aid system tries to turn confusing and complex political theory into effective development policy and practice fitting the individual preconditions and historical trajectories of the world's varied nations. The comparative evidence analysis and recommendations on offer are essential reading for anyone attempting to understand or build someone else's as well as their own civil society especially when justifying the use of tax payers' money to do so.

ALAN FOWLER CO-FOUNDER INTRAC This book will be really useful to numerous readers on a subject becoming ever more topical in the world of development and beyond. It puts order into the deeply confused debate about civil society, describes what the aid donors are doing to pursue their new goals, offers four penetrating case studies and concludes with sensible suggestions for future policy. The authors have made a practical and lucid assessment of the huge civil society literature; they have also contributed valuably to it and deserve to be listened to.

PROFESSOR ROBERT CASSEN LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS Northern governments and NGOs are increasingly convinced that civil society will enable people in developing countries to escape the poverty trap. Civil Society and the Aid Industry, the product of extensive research by the prestigious North-South Institute in Canada, makes a critical appraisal of this new emphasis in the aid industry. It explores the roles of Northern governmental, multilateral and non-governmental agencies in supporting civil society, presenting in depth case studies of projects in Peru, Kenya, Sri Lanka and Hungary and gives detailed policy recommendations intended to improve the effectiveness and appropriateness of future projects. Originally published in 1998.

Transformative Citizenship in South Korea Chang Kyung-Sup, 2022-01-11 South Korea's postcolonial history has been replete with dramatic societal transformations through which it has emerged with a fully blown modernity or compressed modernity. There have arisen the transformation-oriented state, society and citizenry for which each transformation becomes an ultimate purpose in itself; its processes and means constitute the main sociopolitical order and the transformation embedded interests form the core social identity. A distinct mode of citizenship has thereby arisen as transformative contributory rights, namely effective or legitimate claims to national and social resources, opportunities and respects that accrue to each citizen's contributions to the nation's or society's collective transformative goals. South Koreans have been exhorted or have exhorted themselves to intensely engage in such collective transformations so that their citizenship is framed and substantiated by the conditions, processes and outcomes of such transformative engagements. This book concretely and systematically analyzes how this transformative dynamic has shaped South Koreans' developmental, social, educational, reproductive and cultural citizenship.

Contested Citizenship in East Asia Kyung-Sup Chang, Bryan Turner, 2012-03-22 Theories of citizenship from the West, pre-eminently those by T. H. Marshall, provide only a limited insight into East Asian political history. The Marshallian trajectory, juridical, political and social rights was not repeated in Asia and the late nineteenth century debate about liberalism and citizenship among intellectuals in Japan and China was eventually stifled by war, colonialism and authoritarian governments, both nationalist and communist. Subsequent attempts to import western style democratic values and citizenship were to a large extent failures Social rights have rarely been systematically incorporated into the political ideology and administrative framework of ruling governments In reality the predominant concern of both the state elite and the ordinary citizens was economic development and a modicum of material well being rather than civil liberties The developmental state and its politics take precedence in the everyday political process of most East Asian societies These essays provide a systematic and comparative account of the tensions between rapid economic growth and citizenship and the ways in which those tensions are played out in civil society

Adventures in Research Howard Wiarda, 2006-06-29 Howard J Wiarda is one of the leading global scholars of international relations comparative politics and foreign policy and the author editor of more than sixty books Now in this highly personal and swashbuckling account Professor Wiarda tells the stories that lie behind the research his adventures in Europe Asia Latin America the Middle East and South Africa Complementing his academic work these three volumes are filled with impressions research findings gossip and preliminary ideas and concepts the true stuff of how scholarly books get written For Wiarda has had a remarkable life in some of the nation s leading universities academic policy work in the State and Defense Departments and denizen of the Washington think tanks He has also lived abroad for extensive periods and traveled widely in some of the world s most troubled and exciting places These books tell the story of his adventures in research

Strategies for Research in Constructivist International Relations Audie Klotz, Cecelia M. Lynch, 2014-12-18 Constructivism s basic premise that individuals and groups are shaped by their world but can also change it may seem intuitively true Yet this process oriented approach can be more difficult to apply than structural or rational choice frameworks Based on their own experiences and exemplars from the IR literature well known authors Audie Klotz and Cecelia Lynch lay out concepts and tools for anyone seeking to apply the constructivist approach in research Written in jargon free prose and relevant across the social sciences this book is essential for anyone trying to sort out appropriate methods for empirical research

Public Administration and Policy in the Middle East Alexander R. Dawoody, 2014-09-22 The various and different Middle Eastern countries are addressing new key reform and governance reform processes but also administration and policy issues of enduring importance decentralization and local government non profit organizations political culture and reform of the policy process This book provides assessment of national strategies for reform in public administration and policy how these strategies have fared in implementation and what challenges must be overcome to achieve real and sustainable progress Seven country case studies will explore the overall policy making process from a critical perspective and consider how it could be strengthened Four cases will deal with the controversial issues of decentralization of power and decision making Two cases will address the role of civil society in the policymaking and reform process Introductory and concluding chapters will place these discussions in context and draw the primary lessons for policy makers The main objectives of the book are to present different examples of specific public policy and administration as well as governance issues in the Middle East so that policymakers both in the region and the world who are interested in the Middle East as well as practitioners scholars and graduate students can utilize the book as a study guide to better understand various dynamics in governance in the Middle East This approach will enable the volume to bridge global perspectives on governance development with regional perspectives and experience bringing shared expertise intellectual inquisitiveness and experience in the professional practice of public policy and administration to bear on these common challenges
