George Lindbeck Shaun C. Brown, 2022-07-15 George Lindbeck wrote one of the most often read and debated theological works of the twentieth century The Nature of Doctrine Despite the work's wide readership few read the book considering his work as an ecumenist In addition few have read Lindbeck's other writings This work seeks to remedy this situation by providing 1 a context for understanding The Nature of Doctrine 2 a corrective to misreadings of Lindbeck's work 3 an introduction to his broader corpus and 4 some possible ways in which Lindbeck's work can contribute to future ecumenical discussion and to Christian theological practice more broadly It will do so by focusing upon several key roles or aspects of Lindbeck's life and thought from his understanding of his own Lutheran background and his participation in Lutheran Catholic dialogue to his training in medieval philosophy and theology and later work on the church as Israel

Wagner, 2015-05-05 This fascinating collection of primary source documents furnishes the accounts in their own words of those who initiated advanced or lived through the Reformation Starting in 1500 Europe transformed from a united Christendom into a continent bitterly divided between Catholicism and Protestantism by the end of the century This illuminating text reveals what happened during that period by presenting the social religious economic political and cultural life of the European Reformation of the 16th century in the words of those who lived through it Detailed and comprehensive the work includes 60 primary source documents that shed light on the character personalities and events of that time and provides context questions and activities for successfully incorporating these documents into academic research and reading projects A special section provides guidelines for better evaluating and understanding primary documents Topics include late medieval religion Martin Luther reformation in Germany and the Peasants War the rise of Calvinism and the English Reformation

A New Creation in Christ T. Michael Christ, 2024-08-08 What is the most important book on sanctification For John Murray it was Walter Marshall's The Gospel Mystery of Sanctification William Cowper praised Marshall I think Marshall one of the best and most spiritual expositors of Scripture The Marrow men also commended Marshall Even Andrew Murray believed Gospel Mystery to be the one book admitted by all to be the standard on sanctification Marshall's enduring value is well established yet scarcely any resources explain Marshall's theology T Michael Christ's A New Creation in Christ fills this void by exploring Marshall's theology in the context of the antinomian and neonomian controversies of Marshall's day At a time when interlocutors were pushing one another to further extremes Marshall achieves balance because he grounds sanctification in the believer's union with Christ and deploys two limiting concepts that discourage using one error to refute the other He insists both that some measure of assurance of salvation must precede actual works of holiness refuting neonomians and that holiness is a necessary part of salvation countering antinomianism A New Creation in Christ explores how these limiting concepts translate into practical help for those who as Marshall says pursue holiness under the guilt and power of indwelling sin

Cross Theology Rosalene Bradbury, 2011-01-01 What is the theologia crucis the theology of the cross and what are its radical claims Which theologians stood within this subversive tradition and is Karl Barth amongst them In this volume New Zealand theologian Rosalene Bradbury throws light on these surprisingly contentious questions She argues convincingly that tethered to the tradition that gave rise to it the term theologia crucis references a theological system centered around notions of false and true glory and an ancient conviction that from the cross of Jesus Christ comes a revelatory and a saving Word The apostle Paul Athanasius a school of medieval mystics and the Reformer Martin Luther are all shown to be significant classical representatives of these ideas Bradbury then argues that seminal twentieth century theologian Karl Barth exhibits many of the classical crucicentric system's defining characteristics so that he himself might fairly be deemed a modern theologian of the cross Until now Barth's pivotal role in this long thin crucicentric tradition has been unsung This book thus sheds important new light on Barth's theology

The Wages of Sin Peter L. Allen, 2000 Discusses diseases and ailments that have been connected to sex throughout history and the reactions to them that have been shaped by religion or morality

Sacraments Philippe Bordeyne, Bruce T. Morrill, 2008 This volume is a first ever companion to the intellectually and pastorally stimulating work of Louis Marie Chauvet one of the most important systematic theologians of liturgy and sacraments in recent times In this trans Atlantic venture pairs of leading thinkers continue the development of sacramental liturgical theology along six lines of Chauvet's thought: fundamental theology, Scripture and sacrament, ecclesiology, liturgy and ethics, theology and the social sciences, and the theological anthropology of symbolism. Embracing his constant attention to faith as actual practice in history, these francophone and anglophone authors test numerous of Chauvet's insights in the face of new challenges for the church and world: the ongoing mediation of the humanity of God revealed in the crucified and risen Christ. Louis Marie Chauvet retired in 2008 from the faculty of theology at the Institut Catholique de Paris while continuing his work as pastor of Saint Leu la Foret in the Diocese of Pontoise just outside Paris. He is author of Symbol and Sacrament: A Sacramental Reinterpretation of Christian Existence and The Sacraments: The Word of God at the Mercy of the Body, both published by Liturgical Press. Philippe Bordeyne is professor of theological ethics and dean of the faculty of theology at the Institut Catholique de Paris. Bruce T. Morrill, SJ, holds the Edward A. Maloy Chair of Catholic Studies in the divinity school at Vanderbilt University where he is also Professor of Theological Studies. In addition to numerous journal articles, book chapters, and reviews, he has published several books, most recently Encountering Christ in the Eucharist: The Paschal Mystery in People, Word, and Sacrament (Paulist Press, 2012). His most recent book with Liturgical Press is Divine Worship and Human Healing: Liturgical Theology at the Margins of Life and Death (Pueblo Liturgical Press, 2009).

Please Don't Wish Me a Merry Christmas Stephen M. Feldman, 2023-11-21. Whether in the form of Christmas trees in town squares or prayer in school, fierce disputes over the separation of church and state have long bedeviled this country. Both decried and celebrated, this principle is considered by many, for right or wrong, a defining aspect of American national identity. Nearly all discussions regarding the role of religion in American life build on two dominant assumptions: first, the separation of church and state is a constitutional principle that promotes democracy and equally protects the religious freedom of all Americans, especially religious outgroups; and second, this principle emerges as a uniquely American contribution to political theory. In Please Don't Wish Me a Merry Christmas, Stephen M. Feldman challenges both these assumptions. He argues that the separation of church and state primarily manifests and reinforces Christian domination in American society. Furthermore, Feldman reveals that the separation of church and state did not first arise in the United States. Rather, it has slowly evolved as a political and religious development through western history, beginning with the initial appearance of Christianity as it contentiously separated from Judaism. In tracing the historical roots of the separation of church and state within the Western world, Feldman begins with the Roman Empire and names Augustine as the first political theorist to suggest the idea. Feldman next examines how the roles of church and state variously merged and divided throughout history during the Crusades, the Italian Renaissance, the Protestant Reformation, the British Civil War and Restoration, the early North American colonies, nineteenth-century America, and up to the present day. In challenging the dominant story of the separation of church and state, Feldman interprets the development of Christian social power vis-à-vis the state and religious minorities, particularly the prototypical religious outgroup, Jews.

Two Reformers Caryn D.

Riswold,2007-07-15 By them we have been carried away out of our own land as into a Babylonian captivity and despoiled of all our precious possessions Martin Luther 1520 Their goal is our deracination which is detachment from one's background as from homeland customs traditions Thus women and other Elemental creatures on this planet are rendered homeless cut off from knowledge of our Race's customs and traditions Mary Daly 1984 What is this land this world of which these two theologians are speaking Why do the two statements above sound similar in the authors longing for a true home for our own land And who is this them who carries us away and cuts us off Could it be possible that Martin Luther and Mary Daly different in almost every way are saying something similar Why do these key figures in the Christian theological tradition who come from different times places and politics engage in such a parallel task How is this possible This book examines a series of surprising parallels between two key reforming figures in the Christian theological tradition and suggests that the two are in fact engaged in the same task political theology Applying a new label to familiar theologians enables readers to see both of them as well as their reformations in a new light The sixteenth century Reformation and second wave feminism are viewed through the pioneering work of Luther and Daly here to further establish the political content and consequence of these theologians Book 3 Authority PB Kurt Jurgensmeier,2012-08-22 Is Scripture really our ultimate authority Authority is what dictates what we will believe and do Accordingly J I Packer rightfully remarks The problem of authority is the most fundamental problem that the Christian Church ever faces Most Christians solve the issue by simply saying The Bible is my final authority But such a view forgets that there is a human being between us and the Bible which is why there are a multitude of interpretations of the Bible that people live by Reformed theologians claim that a testimony of the Spirit confirms to us what is true But there is no biblical or practical support for this Accordingly we are back to our God given reason and the right and responsibility of private judgment as our ultimate subjective authority by which we live by Postmoderns are right then to assert that our own reason is the god we live by But they are wrong to ignore that our ultimate objective authority is God Who our reasoning will be judged by Justification as the Speech of the Spirit Jeffrey K. Anderson,2021-08-10 In the past few decades there have been an increasing number of authors and movements that reject the classic Protestant understanding of justification e.g the New Perspective on Paul Auburn Avenue Theology the Renewal Movement etc While the various proposals differ in many respects they are generally united in their rejection of justification as a legal declaration made by the Father about the believer based on the work of the Son In particular among renewal Pentecostal Charismatic authors there have been several attempts to redefine justification insisting that it is an umbrella term incorporating numerous redemptive ideas rather than a declaration of the believer's righteousness These attempts are in part rooted in the absence of any overt pneumatology in the doctrine's typical formulation One need only read the above sentences to see that there is no mention of the Holy Spirit This book addresses these and other concerns especially by renewal authors and demonstrate that the doctrine is in fact pneumatologically informed albeit latently rather than blatantly

As a result there is no need to redefine the theology of the Reformers and their successors

Homiletical Theology David Schnasa Jacobsen, 2015-02-13

Karl Barth famously argued that all theology is sermon preparation. But what if all sermon preparation is actually theology? This book pursues a thoroughgoing theological vision for the practice of preaching as a way of doing theology. The idea is not just that homiletics is the realm of theological application. That would leave preaching in the position of simply implementing a theology already arrived at. Instead, the vision in these pages is of a form of theology that begins with preaching itself: its practice, its theories, and its contexts. Homiletical theology is thus a unique way of doing theology, even a constructive theological task in its own right. Homiletician David Schnasa Jacobsen has assembled several of the leading lights of contemporary homiletics to help to see its task ever more deeply as theological, yet in profoundly diverse ways. Along the way, readers will not only discover how homileticians do theology homiletically, but will deepen the way in which they understand their own preaching as a theological task.

Working for the Public Good Leslie F. Weber Jr., 2025-10-21

Weber demonstrates conclusively that despite historical critiques of quietism, European Lutherans developed a social ethics in the centuries following the Reformation that brought about fundamental systemic and structural changes in social services, law, education, health care, the formation of states and nations, and public morality. Those changes eventually led to the development of the welfare state. In so doing, Weber challenges interpretations by scholars such as the German Lutheran theologian Ernst Troeltsch, who argued that Lutheran theology created a church operating at a remove from society's pressing questions. Weber's comprehensive coverage of northern European society from the Reformation era through the nineteenth century utilizes the tools of sociology, theology, history, and ethics to demonstrate that Lutheran ethical theory, a Lutheran understanding of the social order, and Lutheran social reforms lie at the heart of modern European social institutions. Grounded in a Lutheran ethic of faith active in love for the neighbor, Lutheran ethics transformed the household and polity, developed government care for the poor, protected public health, and promoted social welfare within a new moral and legal order that continues to underpin contemporary social democracy across northern Europe.

Doing Theology with the Reformers Gerald L. Bray, 2019-07-16

In this RCS companion volume, Gerald L. Bray immerses readers in the world of Reformation theology. He introduces the range of theological debates as Catholics and Protestants, from a diversity of traditions, disputed the essentials of the faith: from the authority of Scripture and the nature of salvation to the definition of the church, the efficacy of the sacraments, and the place of good works in the Christian life.

Book 2 Philosophy HC Kurt Jurgensmeier, 2012-08-22

What is God's purpose for human reason? About 2000 years ago, the crucifier of the truth asked Jesus, "What is truth?" (John 18:38). Such questions are fundamental to human life and make up the field of epistemology. It reminds us that there is a human being between us and God. Epistemology has been a hot topic in Christian theology because of how our postmodern culture has questioned the very foundations of knowledge and truth. It is also an important part of a systematic theology, as it is helpful to understand how we know what is true before deciding what is true. This is why Calvin began his Institutes discussing the knowledge of our self before the knowledge of God Thomas Oden has said No study of God is complete without dealing with the limits and resources of human reasoning in God s presence While many modern Christian philosophers are neglecting the God given place of human reason in the process of divine revelation we defend it here and offer several critiques of popular views Kierkegaard and the Staging of Desire Carl S. Hughes,2014-07-02

Theology in the modern era often assumes that the consummate form of theological discourse is objective prose ignoring or condemning apophatic traditions and the spiritual eros that drives them For too long Kierkegaard has been read along these lines as a progenitor of twentieth century neo orthodoxy and a stern critic of the erotic in all its forms In contrast Hughes argues that Kierkegaard envisions faith fundamentally as a form of infinite insatiable eros He depicts the essential purpose of Kierkegaard s writing as to elicit ever greater spiritual desire not to provide the satisfactions of doctrine or knowledge Hughes s argument revolves around close readings of provocative disparate and in many cases little known Kierkegaardian texts The thread connecting all of these texts is that they each conjure up some sort of performative stage setting which they invite readers to enter By analyzing the theological function of these texts the book sheds new light on the role of the aesthetic in Kierkegaard s authorship his surprising affinity for liturgy and sacrament and his overarching effort to conjoin eros for God with this worldly love Kinship, Law and Politics Joseph E. David,2020-07-02 An introduction to how belonging and identity have been reflected modified and rearticulated in crucial moments throughout history Getting the Gospel Right - A Balanced View of Salvation Truth Carl Gordon Olson,2005-11 A revised and abridged edition of Beyond Calvinism and Arminianism An Inductive Mediate Theology of Salvation in Which theologian missiologist Olson gives the fruit of a 25 year theological pilgrimage His inductive focus on Scripture results in a middle view of salvation truth thus resolving polarized extremes This edition is much more readable and accessible for most Christians The exegetical methodology emphasizes context word studies and grammar of all relevant passages with extensive support for eternal security and refutation of deterministic concepts of salvation In the foreword Dr Tim LaHaye refers to the incredible distribution of the academic edition which sold out in 3 years A revised academic edition is forthcoming in 2006 Covenant-Making Charles J. Conniry Jr.,Laura K. Simmons,2014-05-29 This collection explores the central theological notion of covenant It has been produced in honor of Dr R Larry Shelton respected scholar and beloved husband father colleague and friend Covenant the unifying theme of this book is a subject to which Dr Shelton devoted considerable attention over his forty five year career as a scholar and teacher His 2006 book Cross and Covenant Interpreting the Atonement for 21st Century Mission stands as one of the most incisive treatments of the atonement from a covenantal perspective The contributors of this volume consist of Shelton s current colleagues at George Fox Evangelical Seminary those with whom he served in other institutions and friends and former students whose vision of covenant Shelton inspired These writers demonstrate that whether one considers such diverse subject matter as atonement theory the church s mission the discernment of prophetic spirits non western ontologies
