Giordano, Stephen F. Davis, Carolyn A. Licht, 2012 Your Graduate Training in Psychology takes current and upcoming graduate students beyond the typical concerns of enrolling into graduate school and guides them on how to complete graduate school successfully. Unlike other books that focus on how to get into graduate school, this book directly addresses the major issues that students confront during their graduate training in psychology. A carefully selected cadre of expert authors in their respective areas illuminate the broad range of processes, practices, and procedural issues that face graduate students in both masters and doctoral programs. Ordered chronologically from the first year of graduate school (Settling In) to what students need to know as they finish (Winding Down and Gearing Up), students will learn the key skills needed to succeed in all aspects of their academic and professional careers while in school and after beginning a professional career.

Handbook for Achieving Gender Equity Through Education Susan S. Klein, Barbara Richardson, Dolores A. Grayson, Lynn H. Fox, Cheris Kramarae, Diane S. Pollard, Carol Anne Dwyer, 2014-05-22. First published in 1985, the Handbook for Achieving Gender Equity Through Education quickly established itself as the essential reference work concerning gender equity in education. This new expanded edition provides a 20-year retrospective of the field, one that has the great advantage of documenting U.S. national data on the gains and losses in the efforts to advance gender equality through policies such as Title IX, the landmark federal law prohibiting sex discrimination in education. Key features include Expertise: Like its predecessor, over 200 expert authors and reviewers provide accurate, consensus research-based information on the nature of gender equity challenges and what is needed to meet them at all levels of education. Content Area Focus: The analysis of gender equity within specific curriculum areas has been expanded from 6 to 10 chapters, including mathematics, science, and engineering. Global Diversity Focus: Global gender equity is addressed in a separate chapter, as well as in numerous other chapters. The expanded section on gender equity strategies for diverse populations contains seven chapters on African Americans, Latinas/os, Asian and Pacific Island Americans, American Indians, gifted students, students with disabilities, and lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender students. Action Oriented: All chapters contain practical recommendations for making education activities and outcomes more gender equitable. A final chapter consolidates individual chapter recommendations for educators, policymakers, and researchers to achieve gender equity in and through education. New Material: Expanded from 25 to 31 chapters, this new edition includes more emphasis on male gender equity and on sexuality issues, special within-population gender equity challenges, race, ability, and disability, etc. Coeducation and single-sex education, increased use of rigorous research strategies such as meta-analysis, showing more sex similarities and fewer sex differences and of evaluations of implementation programs technology and gender equity is now treated in three chapters women s and gender studies communication skills relating to English bilingual and foreign language learning and history and implementation of Title IX and other federal and state policies Since there is so much misleading information about gender equity and education this Handbook will be essential for anyone who wants accurate research based information on controversial gender equity issues journalists policy makers teachers Title IX coordinators equity trainers women s and gender study faculty students and parents

National Assessment of College Student Learning Elizabeth A. Jones, Steven Hoffman, 1995 This study used an iterative Delphi survey process of about 600 faculty employers and policymakers to identify writing speech and listening and critical thinking skills that college graduates should achieve to become effective employees and citizens National Education Goal 6 Participants reached a consensus about the importance in critical thinking of the ability to detect indirect persuasion including the use of leading questions that are biased towards eliciting a preferred response use of misleading language use of slanted definitions or comparisons and instances where irrelevant topics or considerations are brought into an argument to divert attention from the original issue With regard to effective writing respondents thought that graduates should be able to use active or passive voice where appropriate use correct grammar use specific language conventions of their academic discipline and use language that their audience understands With regard to speech communication skills respondents reached agreement about the importance of information exchange conversation management group communication and using and understanding spoken English and non verbal signs Extensive tables detail the Delphi survey results Contains 168 references JB
