Creating Connections for Better Schools Douglas Fiore, 2014-02-24 This book demonstrates that student achievement depends on school culture the one element of your school at the foundation of everything that happens there School culture is the system of beliefs values and expectations that governs the feelings and actions of everybody there This book shows how principals can build relationships and connections to enhance school culture Practical and accessible this book provides guidelines which will show you how to communicate with teachers students and parents on a regular basis be visible recognize utilize and empower your faculty Creating Connections in Teaching and Learning Lindy Abawi, Joan

Conway, Robyn Henderson, 2011-12-01 This book explores the wide range of contexts in which research into creating connections in learning and teaching may take place. Creating connections can encompass making links, crossing divides, forming relationships, building frameworks, and generating new knowledge. The cognitive, cultural, social, emotional, and/or physical aspects of understanding, meaning, making, motivating, acting, researching, and evaluating are explored as constituent forms of creativity in relation to such connections. From this exploration, the authors identify varied connective contexts and means which include the learner, the educator, the organisation, and the relevant community. The crossing of divides, forming learner-educator relationships, bringing together diverse groups of learners, establishing networks and partnerships among educators, and establishing links between organisations and communities are all considered as connections which can be created by and within the learning and teaching dynamic. By examining the factors which help to facilitate and/or restrict the possibilities for creating connections in educational contexts, implications for and outcomes of learning and/or teaching arise from the connections created. The final chapter of this book will explicate the realisations that have emerged for educators and researchers working to create connections. These offer suggestions for future directions and enunciate what and how connections might contribute to both educational institutions and the broader society. Creating Connections Between Nursing Care and the Creative Arts Therapies Carole-Lynne Le Navenec, Laurel Bridges, 2005 The primary goal of this text is to promote educational advancement for health care professionals on the topic of how creative arts therapies can assist patients and clients to achieve specific goals or outcomes. More specifically, the book seeks to create a closer connection between nursing care and the creative arts therapies in order to promote professional collaboration and to expand the concept of holistic care. Most of its twenty chapters explore the theoretical and practical implications of the creative arts therapies as illustrated in single and multiple case studies. The chapters' authors are creative arts therapists, nurses, social workers, therapeutic recreation specialists, and occupational therapists. They describe creative therapeutic approaches involving art, music, creative writing, dance, movement, and drama in various health care settings. This unique book is designed for a wide range of health care professionals including nursing, the creative arts therapies, psychology, social work, medicine, occupational, recreational, and physical therapies, and others who are interested in learning more about creative treatment approaches and their application to varied care settings. Creating Connections Ryan A. Quintana, 2004 Creating Common Ground Connections David W. Bennett, 2023-03-17 Through an empathetic and positive approach to interpersonal communication, this book guides readers to build on the skills they already possess to communicate and connect with others. Author David W. Bennett, Ph.D., approaches communication with the belief that it is at the heart of any human division. This book helps readers find a way to communicate that will help build understanding regardless of each party's perspective. Written in an approachable and conversational style, the book includes tips, examples, and concept reviews to easily illustrate communication principles readers can take with them beyond their courses or training sessions. An ideal supplement to courses focusing on skills in interpersonal professional or business communication this book can also be used as a communication primer for students or professionals in any field Making Connections Peggy Hackney,2020-08-26 This book explores how we go about creating the connections within us that allow us to become fully embodied human beings in the world It provides some very personal memories of Irmgard Bartenieff and the development of her approach to Fundamentals Value-Creating Education Emiliano Bosio,Maria Guajardo,2023-12-22 Offering a pivotal reference point and a wide range of global perspectives of teaching experiences on value creating education VCE this book is a timely spotlight on contemporary issues of globalisation that many educational institutions around the world may encounter It contributes to the originality of constructing new knowledge in the field of VCE a forward looking framework and an ethical and educational imperative that can be understood in different ways from diverse theoretical orientations The chapters written by experienced international educators explore the following questions How do educators understand the role of VCE What pedagogical approaches to VCE do educators employ in their classes How do educators support the values and knowledge of VCE in all curricular areas What do educators see as the key essential values and knowledge that students should develop through VCE It offers valuable insights and applied pedagogical practices for postgraduate students researchers educational policy makers curriculum developers and decision makers in higher education institutions and non governmental organizations e g UNESCO OXFAM Making Connections Marilyn Naidoo,2021-11-19 Because of the disconnect within the curriculum and the lack of contextual relevance African theological education is still searching for appropriate approaches to ministerial training Integrative theological education refers to systematic attempts to connect major learning experiences appropriate to the education and formation of ministers It is seen as a solution to connect and transform ministry training The main premise of this book is that the key to enhancing theological education is the intentional integration of knowing with being and doing of theory with practice and of theology with life and ministry In this way all aspects of student learning are brought together holistically highlighting an educational strategy that is concerned with connections in human experience thereby supporting student learning Making Connections offers the opportunity to consider integration as an appropriate pedagogical approach to create the correct balance in making education more meaningful and fulfilling for the African revealing humanising education grounded in African philosophy and worldview
