Miles,2006-04-01 Competing answers to dilemmas involving love sex marriage and family scream to us from nearly everywhere The Redemption of Love reveals what the Bible has to say about these issues by applying the growing economic study of religion Using Genesis Jesus Paul and the Song of Songs Carrie Miles outlines a consistent description of biblical love throughout Scripture asserting that it is the only effective solution in today s battle to save marriage and family This book is a valuable tool for clergy and laypeople Promises I Can Keep Kathryn Edin,Maria Kefalas,2005-03-08 Millie Acevedo bore her first child before the age of 16 and dropped out of high school to care for her newborn Now 27 she is the unmarried mother of three and is raising her kids in one of Philadelphia s poorest neighborhoods Would she and her children be better off if she had waited to have them and had married their father first Why do so many poor American youth like Millie continue to have children before they can afford to take care of them Over a span of five years sociologists Kathryn Edin and Maria Kefalas talked in depth with 162 low income single moms like Millie to learn how they think about marriage and family Promises I Can Keep offers an intimate look at what marriage and motherhood mean to these women and provides the most extensive on the ground study to date of why they put children before marriage despite the daunting challenges they know lie ahead Pursuing the American Dream Calvin C. Jillson,2004 Marked by continuity renewal and expansion the image of the Dream Jillson contends has been remarkably constant since well before the American Revolution an image of a nation offering a better chance for prosperity than any other His book reveals how that Dream has motivated our nation s leaders and common citizens to move sometimes grudgingly toward a more open diverse and genuinely competitive society Organizational Behavior Gregory Moorhead,Ricky W. Griffin,2004 Organizational Behavior places core concepts of human behavior and industrial psychology in a real world context Strong end of chapter exercises activities plus an optional case and exercise book make this flexible text suitable for students at the undergraduate level Likewise the authors emphasis on the latest organizational behavior research continues to attract graduate students An ongoing case featuring Enron encourages students to consider how all OB topics tie together and practice applying key concepts Call out quotes from managers appear at appropriate points throughout the text to highlight relevant real world examples Building Managerial Skills exercises require students to consider different workplace situations from a manager s standpoint and determine a suitable course of action for each scenario Career Management & Work-Life Integration Brad Harrington,Douglas T. Hall,2007-05-16 Career Management Leadership Development Organizational Behavior and Human Resource Management in the departments of business management and organizational psychology Instructor s Resources Available upon request an instructor s resource CD accompanies the book and includes such teaching aids as PowerPoint slides and teaching notes for each chapter as well as assignments key concepts and terms for each chapter The Oxford Handbook of Work and Family Tammy D. Allen,Lillian Turner de Tormes Eby,2016 The Oxford Handbook of Work and Family

features 35 chapters from leading scholars that focus on the worker family organization community and how these issues intersect It includes razor sharp reviews of long standing topics of interest fresh ideas to propel work family research in new directions and evidence based practical recommendations to improve organizational practices Making Up with Mom Julie Halpert, Deborah Carr, 2025-09-23 Young women today have infinitely more options than their mothers and grandmothers did decades ago Should I become a doctor a writer or a stay at home mom Should I get married or live with my boyfriend Do I want children Women in their twenties thirties and forties today are wrestling with life altering decisions about work and family and they need all the support they can get But the very person whose support they crave most their mother often can't get on board and a rift is created between the two generations even for women who have always had a strong relationship A mother's simple question like How can you trust a nanny to watch your children all day can bring her poised accomplished CEO daughter to tears or provoke a nasty response more suitable to a surly teenager than a leader of industry Why can't mothers and daughters today see eye to eye when it comes to important choices about love work children money and personal fulfillment Why does a mother's approval matter so much even to the most confident and self possessed daughter And when daughters choose paths different from their mothers why is it so painful for the older generation Making Up with Mom answers these important questions by focusing on three core issues dating marriage career and child rearing Relying on interviews with nearly a hundred mothers and daughters and offering helpful tips from more than two dozen therapists Julie Halpert and Deborah Carr explore a wide range of communication issues and how to resolve them so mothers and daughters everywhere can reclaim their loving relationships This enlightening book is a must read for all women today Advance Praise for Making Up with Mom A sympathetic helpful and accurate look at a topic that affects us all and grows more important every day Kathleen Gerson professor of sociology at New York University and author of Hard Choices How Women Decide About Work Career and Motherhood A well written thoughtful book that could help every mother and daughter connect or reconnect at a deeper more fulfilling level Alvin Rosenfeld M D coauthor of The Over Scheduled Child Avoiding the Hyper Parenting Trap and lecturer at Harvard Medical School If Nancy Friday's My Mother My Self helped a generation of daughters understand their conflicted relationships with their mothers almost thirty years ago Making Up with Mom may well be the book that helps mothers and daughters today understand both themselves and each other It is a book I've been waiting for Deborah Siegel Ph D author of Sisterhood Interrupted From Radical Women to Grrls Gone Wild Making Up with Mom is a must read for women who want better relationships with their mothers or daughters or both The book is chock full of support and good sound advice culled from the authors interviews with many women across generations This practical book considers many of the most important issues that women face and in so doing it invites the readers both mothers and daughters to find ways to relate to each other in healthier and more effective ways A good thorough read Dr Dorothy Firman coauthor of Daughters and Mothers Making It Work Chicken Soup for the Mother Daughter Soul and

Chicken Soup for the Father Son Soul Feminist Mothering Andrea O'Reilly, 2008-10-09 Feminist Mothering goes beyond critiques of patriarchal motherhood to locate and investigate feminist maternal practices as sites for women's empowerment and social change. The contributors see feminist mothering as practices of mothering that seek to challenge and change the norms of patriarchal motherhood that are limiting and oppressive to women. For many women practicing feminist mothering offers a way to disrupt the transmission of sexist and patriarchal values from generation to generation. Contributors explore the ways in which women integrate activism, paid employment, nonsexist childrearing practices, and non-child centered interests in their lives and other caregivers into their children's lives in order to challenge existing societal inequality and create new egalitarian possibilities for women, men, and families. BOOK JACKET Population Trends No. 117 Autumn 2004 NA NA, 2004-09-30 This quarterly publication covers population and demographic information. It contains commentary on the latest findings, topical articles on relevant subjects such as one-parent families, cohabitation, fertility differences, international demography, population estimates and projections for different groups, illustrated with colour charts and diagrams, regularly updated statistical tables and graphs showing trends, and the latest quarterly information on conceptions, births, marriages, divorces, internal and international migration, population estimates and projections, etc. This issue includes articles on Perpetual postponers, Women's, men's, and couple's fertility intentions and subsequent fertility behaviour, focussing particularly on women who are childless in their thirties, by Ann Berrington; Characteristics of sole registered births and the mothers who register them, by Steve Smallwood; Estimates of true birth order for Scotland 1945-1999, including a comparison with England and Wales data, by Jessica Chamberlain and Steve Smallwood; Reports on Divorces in England and Wales during 2003, and Internal migration estimates for local and unitary authorities in England and former health authorities in Wales 2003. Emerging Adulthood Jeffrey Jensen Arnett, 2004-08-19 Recently the lives of people from age 18 to 29 have changed so dramatically that a new stage of life has developed: emerging adulthood, that is distinct from both the adolescence that precedes it and the young adulthood that comes in its wake. Rather than marrying and becoming parents in their early twenties, most people in industrialized societies now postpone these transitions until at least their late twenties and instead spend the time in self-focused exploration as they try out different possibilities in their careers and relationships. In Emerging Adulthood, Jeffrey Jensen Arnett identifies and labels for the first time this period: exploration, instability, possibility, self-focus, and a sustained sense of being in limbo. An increasing number of emerging adults emphasize having meaningful and satisfying work to a degree not seen in prior generations. Marrying later and exploring more casual sexual relationships have created different hopes and fears concerning long-term commitments, and the differences between love and sex. Emerging adults also face the challenge of defending their non-traditional lifestyles to parents and others outside their generation who have made much more traditional choices. In contrast to previous portrayals of emerging adults, Arnett's research shows that they are particularly skilled at maintaining contradictory emotions: they are confident while still being wary and optimistic in the face of large degrees of uncertainty As the demographics of American youth the American workplace and adulthood continue to evolve Emerging Adulthood is indispensable reading for anyone wanting to understand the face of modern America

A Mother's Work Neil Gilbert, 2008-10-01 The question of how best to combine work and family life has led to lively debates in recent years Both a lifestyle and a policy issue it has been addressed psychologically socially and economically and conclusions have been hotly contested But as Neil Gilbert shows in this penetrating and provocative book we haven't looked closely enough at how and why these questions are framed or who benefits from the proposed answers A Mother's Work takes a hard look at the unprecedented rise in childlessness along with the outsourcing of family care and household production which have helped to alter family life since the 1960s It challenges the conventional view on how to balance motherhood and employment and examines how the choices women make are influenced by the culture of capitalism feminist expectations and the social policies of the welfare state Gilbert argues that while the market ignores the essential value of a mother's work prevailing norms about the social benefits of work have been overvalued by elites whose opportunities and circumstances little resemble those of most working and middle class mothers And the policies that have been crafted too often seem friendlier to the market than to the family Gilbert ends his discussion by looking at the issue internationally and he makes the case for reframing the debate to include a wider range of social values and public benefits that present more options for managing work and family responsibilities

Australian Mothering Carla Pascoe Leahy, Petra Bueskens, 2020-01-28 This collection defines the field of maternal studies in Australia for the first time Leading motherhood researchers explore how mothering has evolved across Australian history as well as the joys and challenges of being a mother today The contributors cover pregnancy birth relationships childcare domestic violence time use work welfare policy and psychology from a diverse range of maternal perspectives Utilising a matricentric feminist framework Australian Mothering foregrounds the experiences emotions and perspectives of mothers to better understand how Australian motherhood has developed historically and contemporaneously Drawing upon their combined sociological and historical expertise Bueskens and Pascoe Leahy have carefully curated a collection that presents compelling research on past and present perspectives on maternity in Australia which will be relevant to researchers advocates and policy makers interested in the changing role of mothers in Australian society

The Changing Rhythms of American Family Life Suzanne M. Bianchi, John P. Robinson, Melissa A. Milke, 2006-07-13 Over the last forty years the number of American households with a stay at home parent has dwindled as women have increasingly joined the paid workforce and more women raise children alone Many policy makers feared these changes would come at the expense of time mothers spend with their children In Changing Rhythms of American Family Life sociologists Suzanne M Bianchi John P Robinson and Melissa Milkie analyze the way families spend their time and uncover surprising new findings about how

Americans are balancing the demands of work and family Using time diary data from surveys of American parents over the last four decades Changing Rhythms of American Family Life finds that despite increased workloads outside of the home mothers today spend at least as much time interacting with their children as mothers did decades ago and perhaps even more Unexpectedly the authors find mothers time at work has not resulted in an overall decline in sleep or leisure time Rather mothers have made time for both work and family by sacrificing time spent doing housework and by increased multitasking Changing Rhythms of American Family Life finds that the total workload in and out of the home for employed parents is high for both sexes with employed mothers averaging five hours more per week than employed fathers and almost nineteen hours more per week than homemaker mothers Comparing average workloads of fathers with all mothers both those in the paid workforce and homemakers the authors find that there is gender equality in total workloads as there has been since 1965 Overall it appears that Americans have adapted to changing circumstances to ensure that they preserve their family time and provide adequately for their children Changing Rhythms of American Family Life explodes many of the popular misconceptions about how Americans balance work and family Though the iconic image of the American mother has changed from a docile homemaker to a frenzied sleepless working mom this important new volume demonstrates that the time mothers spend with their families has remained steady throughout the decades
