Mainline Protestant congregations face a profound adaptive challenge In the midst of significant social cultural and technological change the denominations they represent generally abandoned a view of education capable of maintaining and renewing their faith traditions through their children and youth New curriculum resources and innovative pedagogical strategies appropriated from the marketplace of religious education options have not met the challenge A transformation of consciousness is required in congregations seeking a future through their children It involves the exercise of an ecclesial imagination to reclaim a view of education rooted in the revitalization of their religious traditions in the past and re envisioning the congregation as a catechetical culture of faith formation      The Living Church ,1942      Planning for Christian Education Carol Fouts Krau, 1994      Christian Education in the Small Membership Church Dr. Karen B.
