The Creation of Consciousness Edward F. Edinger, 1984 Seminal work by the author of Ego and Archetype proposing a new world view based on the creative collaboration between the scientific pursuit of knowledge and the religious search for meaning

Jung and the Jungians on Myth Steven F. Walker, 2002 In this book Steven Walker carefully leads the reader through the fundamentals of the psychology that underlies Jung's theory of myth He defines key terms and distinguishes dream from fantasy in psychological experience He then traces the lineage of Jungian theory from Jung through such disciples as Van Franz and Neumann to contemporary archetypal psychology By applying Jungian psychology to an array of myths to illustrate core concepts of this theoretical tradition Walker fills a conspicuous gap in the current literature on Jung from back cover

A Theological Anthropology of Self-Realization Jennifer Slater O.P., 2012-07-31 The book addresses the intriguing problem of human self realization precisely because of the diverse uses of the term which ranges from abstract philosophical theological theories to practical psychological spiritual applications Jennifer Slater draws the concept from Karl Rahner the twentieth German theologian who uses the term self realization in his theology on freedom and symbolism relating it to the basic free choice which the human person makes to be for or against God Divine Jennifer Slater explores this fundamental free choice which is at the same time a basic choice about oneself She writes from the understanding that the human person is radically free to become the choices she or he makes and freedom is the capacity for definitive self realization In the book she shows that in the exercising of freedom humans precisely as historical beings are also transcendent beings Jennifer grapples with the perception that since human self realization involves the power to make decisions which in reality actualizes a persons own reality how then does this self realization come about and where does the Divine fit into the process If self realization is related to the human self and to the Divine Self she then questions what constitutes the self and self realization This struggle practically employs the woman in general and in particular the woman consecrated to a vowed life The pervasive question throughout is What constitutes the self realization of a human woman being

The Self and the Lotus: A Jungian View of Indian Buddhism, Volume II George R. Elder, 2023-05-30 It is obvious to thoughtful persons that our culture is undergoing a major transition as is our religion the carrier of values and guide to meaning It is essential therefore that we understand how religion functions when a culture is alive and well Observing how it has functioned elsewhere in another time and place is a good way to gain objectivity about the religious life And this survey of ancient Indian Buddhism serves that purpose It is important too that we try to interpret ancient wisdom in a modern way so that it has meaning for us Thus this work on Buddhism introduces the psychology of C G Jung and demonstrates to what extent Jung knew about Buddhism how he used it to comment upon the psychology of religion in general This is the second volume of a two volume work Following the first volume s exploration of the Life of the Buddha and Early Buddhist teaching this volume explores Mahayana teaching Buddhist Philosophy and Tantra At important junctures of the discussion the author pauses to reflect from the point of view of Jungian psychology

A Forest of Ideas BLAKE PARKER, 2014-08-14 Blake Parker worked on this series of writings in the last year of his life while he lived with a terminal diagnosis of cancer It is a mixture of poetry dialogues book reports and short essays formed as a sort of shorthand to a number of concepts primarily from sociology and anthropology which he saw as useful if not actually essential for understanding symbolic interpretation and the essence of the therapeutic process within a social and cultural context He designed the psychoanalytic and therapeutic diagrams to clarify concepts and as teaching aids for art therapy students and therapists Blake uses a phenomenological understanding of metaphor in order to throw light upon the process of social construction creativity and conceptions of mysticism or spirituality The book includes some of his personal reflections regarding death dying creativity and the meaning of life The notes are essentially a hermeneutic of mysticism a moving from the parts to the whole and the whole to the parts It is a forest of ideas and ramblings in interpretive frameworks that emerged and is presented in a circular spiral

Challenging Territory Christian Riegel, 1997-05 In a postmodern and postcolonial age how do we approach the writing of Margaret Laurence Challenging Territory demands of the reader a re evaluation of the basic assumptions that underlie their understanding of Laurence s life and writing by addressing the full range of her writing Laurence is presented as Canadian colonial and postcolonial subject as feminist humanist and political active individual and as essayist translator journalist memoir writer and fiction writer The essays stake out a critical territory as well as offer a challenge to territory previously mapped by the criticism in addition to charting critical space never before traced

Five Ways of Doing Qualitative Analysis Kathy Charmaz, Linda M. McMullen, 2011-03-30 This unique text provides a broad introduction to qualitative analysis together with concrete demonstrations and comparisons of five major approaches Leading scholars apply their respective analytic lenses to a narrative account and interview featuring Teresa a young opera singer who experienced a career changing illness The resulting analyses vividly exemplify what each approach looks like in action The researchers then probe the similarities and differences among their approaches their distinctive purposes and strengths the role style and subjectivity of the individual researcher and the scientific and ethical complexities of conducting qualitative research Also included are the research participant s responses to each analysis of her experience A narrative account from another research participant Gail can be used by readers to practice the kinds of analysis explored in the book Between Truth and Falsity: Liberal Education and the Arts of Discernment Karim Dharamsi, David Ohreen, 2021-04-06 It seems we are awash in information From the moment we wake until we turn over our phones at night we are bombarded with images and messages news and information from a confounding number of sources But as the amount of information available to us increases ever more rapidly its quality and reliability seem less credible Russian troll bots 4chan Breitbart and Rebel Media challenge our credulity but they do so by mimicking aesthetic registers consumers expect of traditional media outlets Moreover traditional news sources both privately owned and public broadcasters already weakened by eroding revenue cuts to budgets and shifting demographics are under sustained attack from those who wish to damage their ability to hold powerful people to account Instead of a multi perspectival approach which seeks to report to the public the many ways to address a particular issue taking the reporter s role as neutral with regard to outcome fake or ideologically driven news sources compete for audience attention and faithfulness often using emotion to rally people toward a certain political cause or issue Academics meanwhile have their work attacked and undermined by people or groups seeking to advance political or economic interests They are told they too are political actors one more voice in a messy public arena instead of a font of reliable information and knowledge While academics continue to believe that their work at least in part enhances our understanding of the world and informs debate how do we know that their conclusions are indeed more reliable than their critics in the post truth era Between Truth and Falsity Liberal Education and the Arts of Discernment will aid academics and students seeking to better grasp the value of liberal education within this post truth era It seeks to advance pedagogical ideas in order to fight factual erosion and reinforce intellectual capacities that are able to critically assess the chaos of information enveloping all segments of society This volume will therefore be of particular interest to academics and university educators working in higher education graduate students theorizing the nature of media and the role of higher education undergraduates studying liberal education and the nature of the university and those thinking about liberal education Vygotsky's Psychology-Philosophy Dorothy Robbins, 2001-05-31 This book is an introduction to Vygotsky and his theories of language and second language acquisition Employing a dual framework of metatheory and metaphor the author focuses on Vygotsky s cultural historical perspective contrasted with the sociocultural heritage more prevalent in the West and its emphasis on history as change and thought as related to action Included also is a comparison of Vygotskian and Chomskyan theories of language and grammar
