Aging And Communication Problems In Management:

Aging and Communication Carol N. Wilder, Barbara E. Weinstein, 1984 A very useful overview of communication problems in the elderly with discussions of management techniques and delivery systems Faces of Aging Yoshiko Matsumoto, 2011-03-17 The chapters in this volume put a human face on aging issues and consider multiple dimensions of the aging experience with a focus on Japan Journal of Human Services Abstracts, 1984 National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1985 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Comforting the Confused Stephanie B. Hoffman, PhD, Constance A. Platt, MA, 2000-03-28 How to comfort How to help are questions often asked by persons providing care to individuals suffering from dementia According to Hoffman and Platt a warm smile gentle touch and soothing voice tone can help toward improving quality of life The authors believe caregivers should be encouraged to emphasize non verbal aspects of their communication throughout their daily care of the demented Hoffman and Platt provide research based practical guidelines for communicating with dementia patients and offer strategies for responding to depression aggression wandering and other behavioral problems New to the Second edition are chapters addressing Feeding strategies Falls and Use of Mechanical Restraints Special Care Units Dying and Grieving Each chapter features learning objectives a pretest a posttest and learning exercises The book is a valuable tool for inservice training and a practical resource for professionals The International Journal of Aging & Human Development, 1992 Communication in Later Life Ruth A. Huntley, Karen S. Helfer, 1995 Interdisciplinary text contributing authors with expertise in speech language pathology audiology communication studies sociology and psychiatry Overview of communication by and among older normally ageing individuals Includes both theory including current research findings and application Focus on communication in normal ageing rather than disorders in ageing Aging and Health in Africa Pranitha Maharaj, 2012-08-16 Population aging is a matter of global concern It often occurs in tandem with changes in the health profile of the population In Africa many countries are already facing a high burden of communicable diseases However as more and more children survive childhood and move on to adult years and old age they are also more likely to experience health problems associated with the aging process Population aging in Africa is occurring in the context of high levels of poverty changing family structures an immense disease burden fragile health systems and weak or poorly managed government institutions This book shows that aging is likely to lead to increased social and economic demands for the continent However most national governments in Africa have not begun to address the issue of how to respond effectively to the needs of the older population This will require a better understanding of the socio economic and demographic situation of the older population in Africa This book fills the gaps that exist by exploring the social realities of population aging in Africa It also focuses on the policy and programmatic responses gaps and future challenges related to aging across the continent Current Catalog, 1988 First multi year cumulation covers six years

Care of the Long-Stay Elderly Patient Michael J. Denham, 2013-11-11 Since the first edition of this book was published there have been considerable changes in continuing care NHS nursing homes have been created enthusiasts have developed new initiatives and attempts have been made to improve attitudes The recent White Paper on Community Care is likely to accelerate the transfer of large numbers of elderly patients from long stay hospital beds to private sector accommodation a move often accompanied by much anxiety about standards of care Although Health Authorities visit private nursing homes and apply the National Association of Health Authorities standards to them anxieties continue Unfortunately for the patients who remain in hospital many Health Authorities seem reluctant to apply these same standards to their own long stay departments since many would fail abysmally The 1987 annual report of the Health Advisory Service see Chapter 3 presents a damning indictment of the care given to old people A recent review of twelve consecutive HAS Reports on services for older people in hospitals shows that long stay wards consistently offered environments which were unable to offer privacy homely surroundings personal space and possessions or adequate furniture In the twelve districts there was not one comprehensive personalised clothing service Half of the reports commented on the lack of effective management of continence Catering was often provided according to the needs of the institution rather than those of the resident patients Aging Friendly
