Marberry, Laurie Zagon, 1995-05-01 COLOR is literally the wavelength medicine of the future It calls to us and asks us to recognize its value as an alternative medicine that the environment can provide from The Power of Color THE FIRST PRACTICAL GUIDE TO CREATING HEALTHY INTERIORS WITH COLOR Working from the scientifically based premise that the use of full spectrum color on finishes and surfaces is essential to creating a healthy man made environment Sara O Marberry and Laurie Zagon arm design professionals with A complete methodology and clear easy to follow guidelines to designing with full spectrum color without compromising style or client preferences A concise refresher course in color theory Detailed analyses of more than 20 projects for a wide range of public and private spaces including healthcare facilities schools day care centers hotels and offices Color charts that break down proportions of hue value and chroma for each project discussed A project showcase featuring more than 40 full color photographs bringing vividly to life all of the examples discussed Thanks to the efforts of a handful of visionaries working in a variety of disciplines our knowledge of the role of light and color in human health has taken a quantum leap during the past decade For instance clear links have been established between color and academic performance among grade schoolers and medical journals now routinely feature reports of color being used successfully to assist in the treatment of everything from depression to AIDS Now in a book that is as inspiring as it is instructive design professionals can learn how to use color to create interior spaces that support the health and well being of all who live and work in them The first and only practical guide to creating healthy interior design using color The Power of Color provides a simple methodology and set of guidelines that can easily be integrated into professional practice The book begins with a concise accessible refresher course in color theory From there the authors embark on a fascinating exploration of the healing properties of color as documented in the scientific literature. This is followed by in depth practical discussions of surface colors and lighting the importance of using full spectrum color in interior design and techniques for using full spectrum color without compromising the design professional's unique sense of style or the demands of his or her clients. The remainder of The Power of Color is devoted to the detailed analyses of more than 20 projects executed in the United States and Europe. Chosen for their use of a full spectrum color palette, the examples include designs for many different types of public and private spaces from healthcare facilities and schools to hotels and offices. Each project is accompanied by color charts that breakdown proportions of hue value and chroma. A project showcase containing more than 40 full color photographs vividly brings to life all of the examples discussed. The most complete practical guide to the use of color to create healthy interior spaces. The Power of Color is an indispensable resource for interior designers, architects and all other design professionals.

Reports of the Committee on Vision National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Vision, 1990-02-01. This is a summary of reports issued since 1947 under the aegis of the National Research Council's Committee on Vision. An abstract summarizing the contents of each report is provided together with information to assist the reader in obtaining copies of the information about early research efforts in such classic areas of vision science as visual search, form discrimination and aging together with current problems such as the use of video display terminals. The book will aid vision scientists in gaining a thorough understanding of the recent historical context of vision research.

The Elderly as Modern Pioneers Philip Silverman, 1987. Overall one of the most competent and well presented treatments of the subject now available. Development of Electronic Aids for the Visually Impaired P.L. Emiliani, 2012-12-06 This book is based on the papers presented at the Workshop on Rehabilitation of the Visually Impaired held in Florence at the Institute for the Research on Electromagnetic Waves of the Italian Research Council on April 4-6 1984 The Workshop sponsored by the Committee for Medical and Public Health Research of the Commission of the European Communities was meant to exchange ideas about the need importance and feasibility of a European cooperation in the field of visual impairment and to identify promising research areas where current national activities could take advantage of such a collaboration in order to increase their efficiency In particular it dealt with the development and use of technical aids mainly based on computers and signal processing techniques and with the elaboration evaluation and standardization of new methods and tests The attendance was multidisciplinary including researchers from the fields of technology medicine and psychology and representatives from organizations involved in the rehabilitation of the visually impaired Five technical sessions were organized dealing with the following topics automatic production of Braille and systems for paperless Braille aids for reading and for the interaction with coded information sources low vision aids transduction of visual information into a tactile representation mobility aids Three different application sectors were mainly considered education and culture vocational training mobility A final session was devoted to a discussion in working groups The results are briefly outlined in the following concise report of the Workshop Health Care Financing Review, 1998 The Changing Visual System P. Bagnoli, W. Hodos, 2012-12-06 In late May and early June 1991 a NATO Advanced Study Institute was held at a hotel in the hilltop village of San Martino al Cimino a few kilometers from the city of Viterbo in the Lazio region of Italy The title of the course was the same as this volume and brought together specialists working at all phases of the life span embryology infancy childhood middle life and senescence in both animals and humans to exchange ideas facts and theories in the search for common principles Such principles could prove important for understanding developmental changes in the central nervous system and visual behavior within the context of a continuum of life span processes rather than viewing them as events or mechanisms that occur only in a certain period For example changes that are associated with aging were considered as extensions or continuations of processes that began at an earlier stage of the life span rather than being seen as processes that only began late in life

Vitreous J. Sebag,2014-10-01 The vitreous body long has been the most mysterious of all ocular structures owing perhaps to its seeming simplicity There have been few concerted sustained efforts to unravel the mysteries of how vitreous is composed and what role it plays in normal physiology as well as pathology Over the years however many studies have produced important findings concerning vitreous biochemistry structure physiology and pathobiology Published on the 25th anniversary of Sebag s first book on Vitreous this second installment is nearly five times longer than its predecessor reflecting how much has been learned in the past quarter century This well constructed compendium not only addresses the most current scientific knowledge but also reviews clinical perspectives in a manner that lends richness to the scope of the book Written by 90 authors this book has 56 chapters organized into 7 sections Biochemistry Anatomy Development and Aging Pathology Pathobiology Physiology and Phamacotherapy Posterior Vitreo Retinal Surgery Peripheral Vitreo Retinal Surgery and Pharmacologic Vitreolysis With a foreword by Coleman Lincoff and an introduction by Wallace Foulds Sebag s latest tome on vitreous is destined to be the authoritative text for years to come
