Agricultural Development Principles Economic Theory And Empirical Evidence:

Agricultural Development Principles Robert D. Stevens, Cathy L. Jabara, 1988-09 What are the food and agricultural development problems facing Third World nations Does current economic theory help accelerate growth Does it foster useful development policies This book addresses these and other questions to provide a wide ranging and thorough introduction to the theories policies and practices aimed at increasing food production and agricultural development Individual sections examine recent agricultural progress in developing nations including increased production and growing demand the economic and social theory of agricultural development and sources of accelerated growth through biochemical and mechanical technologies and improved agricultural institutions Rural financial markets cooperatives and land reform are also examined Later chapters focus on agricultural research and extension agricultural marketing trade price policies and planning A concluding chapter looks at new strategies for accelerating agricultural development Past decades have seen an explosion of empirical research on Third World agriculture This up to date comprehensive overview will interest not only students of agricultural development in the Third World but also professional in government and international organizations

Introduction to Development Economics Subrata Ghatak, 1995 The third edition of the widely used Introduction to Development Economics provides a detailed analysis of the major economic issues confronting less developed countries Throughout Subrata Ghatak maintains a balance between theories of economic growth and the realities of economic development Although the basic principles remain unchanged the past few years have witnessed changes in emphasis and the rise of new areas of interest Such issues include development and the environment the international debt crisis endogenous growth the impact of foreign aid fiscal reforms migration human capital accumulation and the problems of trade liberalization Introduction to Development Economics is divided into four sections and is written in a straightforward style This is a comprehensive analysis of the area with many tables added to provide up to date statistical data and technical data in the appendices

Peasant Economics Frank Ellis, 1993-11-25 This is a revised and expanded edition of a popular textbook on the economics of farm households in developing countries The second edition retains the same building blocks designed to explore household decision making in a social context Key topics are efficiency risk time allocation gender agrarian contracts farm size and technological change For these and other topics household economic behaviour represents the outcome of social interactions within the household and market interactions outside the household A new chapter on the environment combines exposition of economic tools not previously covered in the book with examination of household and community decision making in relation to environmental resources

Local Institutional Innovation and Pro-poor Agricultural Growth

Marijke D'Haese, N. Vink, 2003

Success in Agricultural Transformation Isabelle Tsakok, 2011-08-01 To lift and keep millions out of poverty requires that smallholder agriculture be productive and profitable in the developing world Do we know how to make this happen Researchers and practitioners still debate how best to do so The prevailing methodology which claims causality from measures of statistical significance is inductive and yields contradictory results In this book instead of correlations Isabelle Tsakok looks for patterns common to cases of successful agricultural transformation and then tests them against other cases She proposes a hypothesis that five sets of conditions are necessary to achieve success She concludes that government investment in and delivery of public goods and services sustained over decades is essential to maintaining these conditions and thus successfully transform poverty ridden agricultures No amount of foreign aid can substitute for such sustained government commitment The single most important threat to such government commitment is subservience to the rich and powerful minority

Agricultural Reform in China Yiping Huang, 1998-01-13 Chinese agriculture has experienced some radical changes over the past twenty years Following the successful introduction of the household production system in the early 1980s difficulties were encountered in establishing a unified domestic agricultural market in the later 1980s and 1990s Through a comprehensive analysis of the changes in the Chinese agricultural institutions between the late 1970s and the mid 1990s this study attempts to provide some answers to the main questions presently facing the agricultural sector It focuses on the key elements of the pre reform agricultural institutions reviews the ways these institutions were refashioned and assesses the resulting changes in agricultural development The implications of different policy choices are carefully considered with the assistance of a computable general equilibrium model The author argues that China should push forward with its market oriented reform measures and introduce the rigours of international competition into the agricultural sector

Institutional Constraints to Small Farmer Development in Southern Africa Ajuruchukwu Obi, 2011-04-27 The Southern Africa region has experienced more than its fair share of problems in recent years Just when it seemed that the hardships wrought by the devastating cycle of droughts and floods of 2000 to 2002 were a thing of the past other problems emerged At one level there have been the weak and often erratic governance mechanisms and political crises in some countries of the region leading to severe disruptions in agricultural production to the point that supplies and markets have virtually disappeared At another level socio cultural rigidities have often militated against the adoption of efficient farming practices resulting in sub optimal choices that lock smallholders into a low equilibrium trap In the face of the disappearing supplies and missing markets these have engendered hyper inflationary trends of a magnitude unknown anywhere else in the world But in the midst of all this apparent dreariness cases are emerging from which immense lessons can be drawn This book assembles a collection of research papers based on studies completed in 2008 and 2009 in Southern Africa that examine various dimensions of the institutional constraints small farmers are facing in the region and how they are going about dealing with them The papers draw from these diverse and polar experiences and present some theoretical and practical insights that should form the basis for more in depth country level sector specific analyses focusing mainly on citrus horticultures cotton and livestock The thematic issues of income inequality land reform natural resource management and value chain governance and chain choice are covered in this book and are expected to be of interest for a wide constituency including researchers development practitioners rural animators and policy makers

Rural Development in Eurasia and the Middle East Kurt Engelmann, 2016-04-18 Rural Development in Eurasia and the Middle East Land Reform Demographic Change and Environmental Constraints Issues of Infrastructural Development Raisuddin Ahmed, Cynthia Donovan, 1992 What is infrastructure State of infrastructural development Theoretical concerns about the impact of infrastructure Empirical studies on the impact of infrastructure Issues of resource allocation of infrastructure

Managing Hazards, Reducing Risks and Increasing Investments in Agriculture, 2006 Unmaking China's Development Peter Ho, 2017-10-26 A ground breaking new study of China's development paradox predicated on informal and ambiguous institutions through property and resources

Perspectives on Global Change Jan Rotmans, Bert de Vries, 1997-10-16 Describes the structure assumptions philosophy and innovative results of an advanced global integrated assessment model for all those involved in exploring a sustainable global future

Growth and Productivity in Agriculture and Agribusiness, 2011 The report assesses the World Bank Group's support for growth and productivity in the agriculture sector Enhancing agricultural growth and productivity is essential to meeting the worldwide demand for food and to reducing poverty particularly in the poorest developing countries Between 1998 and 2008 the period covered by this evaluation the World Bank Group WBG provided 23.7 billion in financing for agriculture and agribusiness in 108 countries roughly 8 percent of total WBG financing spanning areas from irrigation and marketing to research and extension However this was a time of declining focus on agricultural growth and productivity by both countries and donors The cost of inadequate attention to agriculture especially in agriculture based economies came into focus with the food crisis of 2007-08 The crisis added momentum to an emerging renewal of attention and stepped up financing to agriculture and agribusiness at the World Bank and International Finance Corporation IFC as well as at several multilateral and bilateral agencies World Bank financing rose two and a half times from 2008 to 2009 though that increase in lending seems to have been accompanied by a decline in analytical work which this review finds valuable for results This evaluation seeks to provide lessons from successes and failures to help improve the development impact of the renewed attention to the sector Ratings against the World Bank's stated objectives and IFC's market based benchmarks for agriculture and agribusiness projects have been equal to or above portfolio averages in East Asia Latin America and the transition economies in Europe with notable successes over a long period in China and India But performance of WBG interventions has been well below average in Sub Saharan Africa where IFC has had little engagement in agribusiness Inconsistent client commitment and weak capacity have limited the effectiveness of WBG support in agriculture based economies particularly in Sub Saharan Africa and constraints on staffing and internal coordination within the WBG have also hurt outcomes Financial sustainability has been constrained by insufficient government funding and the difficulty of maintaining agricultural services and infrastructure The WBG has a unique opportunity to match the increases in the financing for agriculture with sharper focus on improving agricultural growth and productivity in agriculture based economies notably in Sub Saharan Africa Greater effort will be needed to connect sectoral interventions and achieve synergies from public and private sector interventions to build capacity and knowledge exchange to take stock of experience in rain fed agriculture to ensure attention to financial sustainability and to cross cutting issues of gender environmental and social impacts and climate and to better integrate WBG support at the global and regional levels with that at the country level

The Indian Journal of Agricultural Economics, 1946 Vols include Proceedings of the conference of the Indian Society of Agricultural Economics

Large Countries' Development Path: Experience and Theory Yao Ouyang, 2022-03-04 This book aims to propose a unique analytical framework to find out the general successful experience for large developing countries which are defined with two main physical characters of large population and vast land They are naturally crucial for the global development Thirteen countries are chosen as large developing countries in this book which are China India Russia Brazil Mexico Indonesia South Africa Iran Egypt Pakistan Nigeria Ethiopia and Congo DRC On the basis of selecting massive data the author analyzes the performance of large countries in terms of human resources natural resources market size and other factors The book conducts the comparative study of large countries latecomer strength transformation path and innovation strategy with the perspective of development economics It presents a comprehensive overview about large developing countries

The Global Hunger Crisis Majda Bne Saad, 2013-03-06 For billions across the world the daily challenge is to find enough to eat to survive Hunger is on the rise globally with more than 1.2 billion people suffering from food insecurity and poverty and rising food prices increasingly jeopardising access to food But what are the causes for global hunger And as the global population soars what are the key food challenges In this deeply informative study Majda Bne Saad identifies the causes for global hunger which are embedded in the current economic system apportioning blame for global hunger on the West s continuing support for and subsidies to biofuels which have created persistent and formidable new demands for food commodities Saad proposes we fight back arguing for a second green revolution to grow more food and by analysing the factors constraining low income nations from achieving food security she considers policies which could generate income and enhance individuals entitlement to food Developmental Dilemmas Peter Ho,2005-05-24

Developmental Dilemmas singles out land as an object of study and places it in the context of one of the world s largest and most populous countries undergoing institutional reform the People s Republic of China The book demonstrates that private property protected by law the principle of getting the prices right and the emergence of effectively functioning markets are the outcome of a given society s historical development and institutional fabric Peter Ho argues that the successful creation of new institutions hinges in part on choice and timing in relation to the particular constellation of societal economic political and cultural parameters Disregarding these could result in rising inequality bad land stewardship and the eruption of land related grievances Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Wallace C. Olsen,1991 The first of an eight volume series The Literature of the Agricultural Sciences this book analyzes the trends in the published literature of agricultural economics and rural sociology during the past fifty years It uses citation analysis and other bibliometric techniques to identify the primary journals report series and monographs of current importance to the developed industrial countries as well as those in the Third World Prices, Products, and People Gregory J. Scott,1995 The authors go beyond the traditional presentation of economic principles offering instead a series of applied methods for data collection and analysis Drawing on extensive experience in Africa Asia and Latin America they not only describe specific procedures but also provide a wealth of illustrative research results This book will be particularly useful to teaching professionals development specialists and applied researchers working in developing countries
