Creating Tomorrows Mass Media:

Creating Tomorrow's Mass Media Harry D. Marsh, 1995 Creating Tomorrow's Schools Today Richard Gerver, 2010-04-08 Drawing on the incredible story of Grange Primary School Gerver argues that our education system no longer works for today's generation of learners Mass Media James B. Martin, 2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes Disappearing Architecture Georg Flachbart, Peter Weibel, 2005-09-09 The creation of new environments through the use of developments in Information Technology is significantly altering not only architecture itself but also the roles and tasks of the architects Architecture can no longer be described in the terms we are familiar with since it no longer corresponds to the form of architecture as we know it an inclusive and exclusive structure clearly defined with a single interior and a single exterior For architects the challenge of the future will increasingly lie in creatively coming to terms with hybrid environments understanding and exploiting the design potential of digital spaces within the physical world and redefining the role of architecture within a visually dominated culture This volume presents a valuable and attractive contribution to the contemporary discussion on this subject Remembering Tomorrow Michael Albert, 2011-01-04 In this lucid political memoir veteran anti capitalist activist Michael Albert offers an ardent defense of the project to transform global inequality Albert a uniquely visionary figure recounts a life of uncompromising commitment to creating change one step at a time Whether chronicling the battles against the Vietnam War those waged on Boston campuses or the challenges of creating living breathing alternative social models Albert brings a keen and unwavering sense of justice to his work pointing the way forward for the next generation All Tomorrow's Cultures Samuel Gerald Collins, 2008-03-01 How will we live in the future Are we moving towards global homogeneity Will the world succumb to the global spread of fast food and Hollywood movies Or are there other possibilities In this book Samuel Collins argues not only for the importance of the future of culture but also stresses its centrality in anthropological thought over the last century Beginning with 19th century anthropology and continuing today in the work of anthropologies of emergent sciences anthropologists have not only used their knowledge of present cultural configurations to speculate on future culture but have also used their assumptions about the future of culture to understand the present The Big Tomorrow Lary May, 2000-06-21 In this daring reexamination of the connections between national politics and Hollywood movies Lary May offers a fresh interpretation of American culture from the New Deal through the Cold War one in which a populist egalitarian ethos found itself eventually supplanted by a far different view of the nation One of the best books ever written about the movies Tom Ryan The Age The most exhilarating work of revisionist film history since Pauline Kael's Citizen Kane May's take on what movies once were energizing as opposed to enervating and hence can become again is enough to get you believing in them again as one of the regenerative forces America so sorely needs Jay Carr Boston Globe A startling revisionist history of Hollywood's impact on politics and American culture A convincing and important addition to American cultural criticism Publishers Weekly A controversial overview of 30 years of American film history must reading for any serious student of the subject Choice A provocative social history of Hollywood's influence in American life from the 1930s to the 1950s May argues persuasively that movies in the period offered a good deal of tough criticism of economic and social conditions in U S society May challenges us to engage in some serious rethinking about Hollywood's impact on American society in the middle of the twentieth century Robert Brent Toplin American Historical Review Making the Most of Tomorrow Matěj

The Media Creates Us in Its Image and Other Essays on Technology and Culture Richard Stivers,2020-03-31 The Media Creates Us in Its Image and Other Essays on Technology and Culture proposes that modern technology seriously influences every aspect of culture and personality Technology shapes our beliefs and values and even how we think of ourselves It affects religion morality education language communication and sexual identity Every institution every organization is brought under its purview This book attempts to awaken the reader to the destructive side of modern technology that exists side by side with its constructive side What modern technology is destroying however is the very meaning of being human The essay The Media Creates Us in Its Image makes this case most dramatically The book asks the reader the following question Is what you have gained from the use of modern technology more important than what you have lost How do we once again bring technology under our control in the face of its inexorable progress Information Tomorrow Rachel Singer Gordon,2007 In Information Tomorrow Rachel Singer Gordon brings together 20 of today's top thinkers on the intersections between libraries and technology They address various ways in which new technologies are impacting library services and share their ideas for using technology to meet patrons where they are In addition to a preface by the editor the book's foreword by Stephen Abram and 16 chapters feature insights and opinions from these library leaders bloggers and futurists

Tomorrow through the Past Jon Lewis, 2008-12-18 Tomorrow Through the Past Neal Stephenson and the Project of Global Modernization is the first collection of scholarly essays dedicated exclusively to this important voice in contemporary American fiction The collection grew from five essays originally presented at the 2006 XXth Century Literature Conference at the University of Louisville and the contributors are made up of graduate students independent scholars and university professors who hope the collection will aid general readers as well as instructors teaching Stephenson and professionals building the critical response to his work Reading through the lenses of history and linguistic cultural and science fiction studies the essays in the collection examine each of Stephenson's novels from The Big U to The Baroque Cycle as well as his long non fiction work on computer operating systems In the Beginning Was the Command Line Included in this collection is a new interview conducted with Stephenson during the summer of 2006

Inevitability of Tomorrow, 2014-02-13 Spanning 30 years in the mid 21st century when corporate America and the Justice Department control the masses by downloads to the cortex This dystopian society have lost individualism religion family and any idea of freedom Think Charles Dickens characters meet Simon says This science fiction is very close to being a reality with the most recent revelations of spying and espionage on all citizens

Future is Tomorrow Martinus Nijhoff, 2013-11-27 The European Cultural Foundation has conceived an ambitious project by means of interdisciplinary studies on an international basis it is setting out to forecast the future of Europe in the year 2000 in four major fields of human development education industrialization urbanization and the transformation of rural society In this sense forecasting implies defining what is inevitable in the future of this civilization and identifying the choices open to Europeans in so far as they are free to exert their collective will to influence the future I should like here to pay due tribute to the Secretary General of the Foundation Mr George Sluizer who had the boldness to launch this initiative the drive and perseverance to mobilize sufficient funds to carry it into effect and the clear sightedness to devise bodies and procedures that could serve as a flexible and effective framework for the development necessarily aleatory of such a large scale project A udaces fortuna juvat Our friend Sluizer must often have modelled his attitude on that of his great compatriot William the Silent thinking to himself It is not necessary to hope in order to act nor to succeed in order to persevere If this maxim was good enough to forge a nation it can also serve our purposes to day

The City of Tomorrow Carlo Ratti, Matthew Claudel, 2016-06-28 Since cities emerged ten thousand years ago they have become one of the most impressive artifacts of humanity But their evolution has been anything but linear cities have gone through moments of radical change turning points that redefine their very essence In this book a renowned architect and urban planner who studies the intersection of cities and technology argues that we are in such a moment The authors explain some of the forces behind urban change and offer new visions of the many possibilities for tomorrow's city Pervasive digital systems that layer our cities are transforming urban life The authors provide a front row seat to this change Their work at the MIT Senseable City Laboratory allows experimentation and implementation of a variety of urban initiatives and concepts from assistive condition monitoring bicycles to trash with embedded tracking sensors from mobility to energy from participation to production They call for a new approach to envisioning cities futurecraft a symbiotic development of urban ideas by designers and the public With such participation we can collectively imagine examine choose and shape the most desirable future of our cities

MediaMaking Lawrence Grossberg,2006 Taking a unique approach to the study of mass communication and cultural studies MediaMaking is a volume that presents the current knowledge about the relationship between media culture and society What sets this volume apart from competing texts is the approach taken and the distinguished scholarship Rather than examining each major medium separately newspapers books magazines radio television film the authors contend that mass communication cannot be studied apart from the other institutions in society and the other dimensions of social life each is shaping and defining the other They hold that media can only be understood in relation to their context institutional economic social cultural and historical As such this book explores the variety of ways in which the media are involved in our social lives The authors explore the different relationships between the media and the systems of social value and social differences that organize power in contemporary society They examine how the media are reproduced and consumed and what they produce in turn Theoretically and analytically organized with sections on media's relation to behavior politics media effects the public globalization organizations meaning and ideology this text offers students a more comprehensive understanding of the nature of media communication processes an absolutely necessary part of understanding contemporary life

Shaping Tomorrow's World Elke Seefried, 2024-05-01 Shaping Tomorrow's World tells the crucial story of how futures studies developed in West Germany Europe the US and within global futures networks from the 1940s to the 1980s It charts the emergence of different approaches and thought styles within the field ranging from Cold War defense intellectuals such as Herman Kahn to critical peace activists like Robert Jungk Engaging with the challenges of the looming nuclear war the changing phases of the Cold War 1968 and the growing importance of both the Global South and environmentalism this book argues that futures scholars actively contributed to these processes of change This multiple award winning study combines national and transnational perspectives to present a unique history of envisioning forecasting and shaping the future
