Sharp, 2024-01-26 During the late 1800s and early 1900s it was common practice for milliners to decorate women s hats with birds feathers and plumes and sometimes with the birds themselves As many as 300 million birds per year were killed for this fashionable enterprise causing the extinction of some entire species and the endangerment of others Lawmakers and bird aficionados were slow to react to the effects of this practice which went on almost unabated for a quarter of a century Then noted naturalists like George Bird Grinnell William T Hornaday and President Theodore Roosevelt who recognized the economic benefits birds provided banded together to pass meaningful legislation to protect them and to curb the production of murderous millinery This book explores the troubled history of millinery and its complicated relationship to birds and conservation It explores why it took so long for the slaughter to end and how the efforts of individuals and groups brought about change      A Naturalist Along the Jersey

Shore Joanna Burger,1996 Come for a journey along the Jersey shore with naturalist and ecologist Joanna Burger In these deeply felt closely observed personal essays Burger invokes the intertwined lives of naturalist and wild creatures at the ever changing edge of ocean and land Discover with her the delicate mating dances of fiddler crabs the dangers to piping plovers the swarming of fish communities into the bays and estuaries the trilling notes of Fowler s toads and the subtle green grays of salt marshes Joanna Burger knows the shore through all its seasons the first moment of spring when the herring gulls arrive on ice gouged salt marshes the end of spring when the great flocks of shorebirds come to feed on horseshoe crab eggs at Cape May the summer when the peregrine hunts its prey the fall when the migrations of hawks and monarch butterflies attract watchers from around the world and the depths of winter when a lone snowy owl sweeps across snow covered dunes and frozen bay This is a book that anyone who loves the Jersey shore will cherish And because so many of these wonderful creatures live all along the Atlantic coast it will be of equal interest to beach lovers naturalists bird watchers fishermen and coastal and marine scientists from North Carolina to Maine      The Delaware Bird List John T.
