Birth Of The New South Africa:

South Africa's Weapons of Mass Destruction Helen E. Purkitt, Stephen F. Burgess, 2005-05-11 South Africa's Weapons of Mass Destruction offers an in depth view of the secret development and voluntary disarmament of South Africa's nuclear biological and chemical weapons program Project Coast Helen E Purkitt and Stephen F Burgess explore how systems used for nuclear biological and chemical weapons in South Africa were acquired and established beyond the gaze of international and domestic political actors On the basis of archival evidence from Project Coast and their own extensive interviews with military and political officials Purkitt and Burgess consider what motivates countries to acquire and build such powerful weaponry and examine when and how decisions are made to dismantle a military arsenal voluntarily Questions such as how to destroy weapons safely and keep them from reappearing on international markets are considered along with comparative strategies for successful disarmament in other nation states The United States, South Africa and Africa Brian J.

Hesse, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2001 Grand aims refers to the overarching tenets and doctrines that prevailed in US and South African foreign policies towards Africa This study argues that when modest means were imposed upon American and South African foreign policy makers they were often forced to devise new grand aims Few in depth resources exist with regard to United States and or South African foreign policies towards Africa Those that do are overwhelmingly pre or early 1990s in focus This analysis encompasses the years 1990 to mid 1998 and is intended to be relevant to a broad readership including academics students Africanists historians political scientists regional specialists and policy makers in the public and private sectors on both sides of the Atlantic Handbook of Dialogical Self Theory

Hubert J. M. Hermans, Thorsten Gieser, 2011-11-24 In a boundary crossing and globalizing world the personal and social positions in self and identity become increasingly dense heterogeneous and even conflicting In this handbook scholars of different disciplines nations and cultures East and West bring together their views and applications of dialogical self theory in such a way that deeper commonalities are brought to the surface As a bridging theory dialogical self theory reveals unexpected links between a broad variety of phenomena such as self and identity problems in education and psychotherapy multicultural identities child rearing practices adult development consumer behaviour the use of the internet and the value of silence Researchers and practitioners present different methods of investigation both qualitative and quantitative and also highlight applications of dialogical self theory Witchcraft and a Life in the New South Africa Isak

Niehaus, 2012-10-29 Witchcraft and a Life in the New South Africa reconstructs the biography of an ordinary South African Jimmy Mohale Born in 1964 Jimmy came of age in rural South Africa during apartheid then studied at university and worked as a teacher during the anti apartheid struggle In 2005 Jimmy died from an undiagnosed sickness probably related to AIDS Jimmy gradually came to see the unanticipated misfortune he experienced as a result of his father's witchcraft and sought remedies from diviners rather than from biomedical doctors This study casts new light on scholarly understandings of the connections between South African politics witchcraft and the AIDS pandemic

South Africa and the Case for Renegotiating the Peace Pierre du Toit, 2016-11-11 South Africa is awash with policy failures and policy confusion We argue firstly that our current discord over policy details has its origin in the celebrated negotiated transition We hold that the vote count of an 85% majority in the Constituent Assembly in 1996 obscured the reality that the Constitution meant different things to different negotiators The result was that South Africa from the very start of the democratic era lacked a national consensus on how to go about consolidating democracy We keep on failing to build a proper roof over our democracy because the constitutional foundations are weak

Africa's Development Impasse Doctor Stefan Andreasson, 2013-07-04 Orthodox strategies for socio economic development have failed spectacularly in Southern Africa Neither the developmental state nor neoliberal reform seems able to provide a solution to Africa's problems In Africa's Development Impasse Stefan Andreasson analyses this failure and explores the potential for post development alternatives Examining the post independence trajectories of Botswana Zimbabwe and South Africa the book shows three different examples of this failure to overcome a debilitating colonial legacy Andreasson then argues that it is now time to resuscitate post development theory's challenge to conventional development In doing this he claims we face the enormous challenge of translating post development into actual politics for a socially and politically sustainable future and using it as a dialogue about what the aims and aspirations of post colonial societies might become This important fusion of theory with empirical case studies will be essential reading for students of development politics and Africa

Redefining Human Rights in the Struggle for Peace and Development Terrence E. Paupp, 2014-01-20 Human rights in peace and development are accepted throughout the Global South as established normative and beyond debate Only in the powerful elite sectors of the Global North have these rights been resisted and refuted The policies and interests of these global forces are antithetical to advancing human rights ending global poverty and respecting the sovereign integrity of States and governments throughout the Global South The link between poverty war and environmental degradation has become evident over the last 60 years further augmenting international consciousness of these issues as interconnected with the rest of the human rights corpus This book examines the history of this struggle and outlines practical means to implement these rights through a global framework of constitutional protections Within this emerging framework it argues that States will be increasingly obligated to formulate policies and programs to achieve peace and development throughout the global society

Chiefs in South Africa NA, 2016-09-23 This book examines the ongoing resurgence of traditional power structures in South Africa Oomen assesses the relation between the changing legal and socio political position of traditional authority and customary law and what these changes can teach us about the interrelation between law politics and culture in the post modern world

The Strategic Repositioning of Arts, Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century George Mugovhani, Owen Seda, 2018-06-11 The post millennium world has been experiencing several recognisable historical milestones with regard to arts culture and heritage

One of these has been the resuscitation and revival of creative elements of the arts culture and heritage of previously marginalised or disadvantaged communities around the world Until recently there had been scant regard and skewed allocation of resources for these but lately attempts have been made to promote and sustain them in order to enable the socio economic aspirations of a multicultural society The contributions brought together here are the product of papers that were presented during a conference on Strategic Repositioning of Arts Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century They cover a broad spectrum of subjects such as indigeneity music song and identity politics national reconciliation education product development and national development

The Truth about Crime Jean Comaroff, John L. Comaroff, 2016-12-05 This new book by the well known anthropologists Jean and John L Comaroff explores the global preoccupation with criminality in the early twenty first century a preoccupation strikingly disproportionate in most places and for most people to the risks posed by lawlessness to the conduct of everyday life Ours in an epoch in which law making law breaking and law enforcement are ever more critical registers in which societies construct contest and confront truths about themselves an epoch in which criminology broadly defined has displaced sociology as the privileged means by which the social world knows itself They also argue that as the result of a tectonic shift in the triangulation of capital the state and governance the meanings attached to crime and with it the nature of policing have undergone significant change also that there has been a palpable muddying of the lines between legality and illegality between corruption and conventional business even between crime and policing which exist nowadays in ever greater hyphenated complicity Thinking through Crime and Policing is therefore an excursion into the contemporary Order of Things or rather into the metaphysic of disorder that saturates the late modern world indeed has become its leitmotif It is also a meditation on sovereignty and citizenship on civility class and race on the law and its transgression on the political economy of representation

Buthelezi Ben Temkin, 2003 The biography of the heir to a chieftainship and to the hereditary premiership of the Zulu people One Law, One Nation Lauren Segal, Sharon Cort, 2011 Charts the story of the long fight for constitutional rights in South Africa and the obstacles and complexity the lay behind the constitution making process after 1990 Uses archival photographic and interview material to provide a popular account of the development of the constitution and the role of the Constitutional Court

The Emergence of the South African Metropolis Vivian Bickford-Smith, 2016-05-16 Focusing on South Africa's three main cities Johannesburg Cape Town and Durban this book explores South African urban history from the late nineteenth century onwards In particular it examines the metropolitan perceptions and experiences of both black and white South Africans as well as those of visitors especially visitors from Britain and North America Drawing on a rich array of city histories travel writing novels films newspapers radio and television programs and oral histories Vivian Bickford Smith focuses on the consequences of the depictions of the South African metropolis and the slums they contained and especially on how senses of urban belonging and geography helped create and reinforce South African ethnicities and nationalisms This ambitious and pioneering account spanning more than a century will be welcomed by scholars and students of African history urban history and historical geography

Hydropolitics in the Developing World Anthony Turton,Roland Henwood,2002 Bringing contributions by a variety of authors together in one volume is part of an attempt to show that hydropolitics is a growing discipline in its own right The prevailing definition of hydropolitics is widened to include the elements of scale and range This is illustrated through a focus on theoretical and legal issues case studies from Southern Africa and a proposed research agenda The book is an important addition to the literature on hydropolitics Trade, Poverty, Development Rorden Wilkinson,James Scott,2012-10-12 This work seeks to look beyond the seemingly endless deadlock in the WTO s Doha round of trade negotiations that began in November 2001 and were first scheduled to conclude by January 1 2005 As well as offering an incisive analysis of the ills of the round with particular attention directed at the poorest and least developed countries the book expands on how the round could be moved forward elaborating on the Statement on the Doha Development Agenda that was negotiated in Johannesburg The work as a whole provides the reader with a critical analysis of the implications of the negotiations for development and poverty reduction as well as proposals for moving beyond the current impasse The volume brings together contributions from serving and former ambassadors to the WTO key practitioners and civil society representatives along with those of leading scholars Each chapter explores an area of critical importance to the round and together they stand as an important contribution to debates not only about the Doha round but also about the role of trade in the amelioration of poverty in the poorest countries South Africa News Update ,1993 Consists of reproductions of articles from South African newspapers Essays in Public Theology Dirkie Smit,2007-04-01 What is the role of the church in society What role did the church play in South Africa during apartheid in the struggle against apartheid and during the period of transformation The essays collected and published in this volume deal with questions such as these They are all occasional pieces They were written over two decades and reflect the times in which they originated always intended for specific audiences always addressing issues of the particular moment The Re-emergence of Values in Science Education Deborah Corrigan,Justin Dillon,Richard Gunstone,2007 Issues relating to values have always had a place in the school science curriculum Sometimes this has been only in terms of the inclusion of topics such as the nature of science and or scientific method and or particular intentions for laboratory work that relate to scientific method sometimes it has been much broader for example in curricula with STS emphases Of importance to aspects of this proposal is that different countries cultures have had different traditions in terms of the place of values in the school science curriculum One obvious very broad difference of this form is the central place in science education thinking in many European countries of bildung and the complete absence of this construct from most science curriculum thinking in English speaking contexts There are numbers of such country cultural differences In the 1990s many countries moved towards various conceptualizations of Outcomes Based Education OBE sometimes so labelled and sometimes not It was usual but not universal for OBE focused science curricula to have constrained views of the values that should be implicit and explicit in curriculum that is views concerned only with the nature of science and scientific method both usually seen as quite unproblematic Currently there are a number of education systems that are changing again and choosing to move away from Outcomes Based Education for example South Africa and several Australian states One of the most interesting features of many of these movements is the re embracing of a wider view of the science curriculum including a reconsideration of the nature and place of the values associated with science in the purposes for and approaches to science education

Governing through Crime in South Africa Dr Gail Super, 2013-10-28 This book deals with the historic transition to democracy in South Africa and its impact upon crime and punishment It examines how the problem of crime has emerged as a major issue to be governed in post apartheid South Africa Having undergone a dramatic transition from authoritarianism to democracy from a white minority to black majority government South Africa provides rich material on the role that political authority and challenges to it play in the construction of crime and criminality As such the study is about the socio cultural and political significance of crime and punishment in the context of a change of regime The work uses the South African case study to examine a question of wider interest namely the politics of punishment and race in neoliberalizing regimes It provides interesting and illuminating empirical material to the broader debate on crime control in post welfare neoliberalizing post transition polities

Professional Women in South African Pentecostal Charismatic Churches Maria Frahm-Arp, 2010-04-06 This book gives a unique insight into the changing shape of contemporary religion examining the new role that Pentecostal Charismatic Christianity plays in the lives of young professional black women who are enjoying career success and becoming part of South Africa's new middle class Amongst these women an interesting relationship has emerged between work and religion as they feel that the social networks and self confidence they gain from their religious communities are as important as their spiritual experiences But not all the women who join these churches remain and this book explores why some women leave the churches in which they had previously felt they gained so much
