Louise Brown Louise Brown, Martin Powell, 2015-01-08 At 11 47 on July 25 1978 Louise Brown was the first person ever to be born through science rather than as the result of two people having sex The birth was hailed as a miracle by the world's media making her instantly famous Her birth created shockwaves for the church politicians and the medical profession Louise grew up at the centre of the debate about the morality of In Vitro Fertilisation IVF while also being a beacon of hope to millions of childless couples throughout the world For the first time Louise tells the story of her world changing birth and its impact on her life Jacket The Empty Cradle Margaret S. Marsh, Wanda Ronner, 1996 So called ovarian transplantations performed in the early twentieth century foreshadowed the modern practice of egg donation and the first experiments in human in vitro fertilization date back to the 1930s Marsh and Ronner also tell the little known story of free and low cost clinics in the urban North where low income women were treated for infertility beginning in the nineteenth century

Chang, Guoping Song, 2020-07-04 There are two big problems that science still has not resolved They are What are we Where do we come from These two questions have troubled people for centuries 150 years ago Charles Darwin wrote two books On the Origin of Species and The Descent of Man and Selection in Relation to Sex In these two books the theory of species evolution was proposed all species are constantly evolving the present people and all species are formed through natural selection The basis of this theory is based on the comparison of biological forms Now knowing that all the genetic information of living things is completely determined with DNA is evolution still correct Did humanity evolve from apes This book will answer these questions Outsourcing the Womb France Winddance Twine, 2012-08-06 A quiet revolution has been taking place during the past three decades The way that children enter families has changed radically among upper middle class families In the 1980s infertility increasing became defined as a medical problem that could be solved with assisted reproductive technologies ART rather than through adoption Asexual or assisted conception involving medical technologies such as in vitro fertilization and embryo transfers began to replace sexual reproduction for infertile couples Third parties referred to as surrogates are hired to assist individuals and or couples who wish to conceive and child with whom they share a genetic tie This has resulted in a surrogate baby boom Outsourcing the Womb provides a critical introduction to the global surrogacy market A comparative analysis of the assisted reproductive technology and surrogacy industry in Egypt Israel India and the United States disentangles the intersecting roles of race religion class inequality religious law and global capitalism Gestational surrogacy challenges the idea of natural reproduction and of the meaning of parenthood What role should the state play in providing individuals and families with access to reproductive technologies This book concludes with a discussion of reproductive justice The goal of this new unique series is to offer readable teachable thinking frames on today s social problems and social issues by leading scholars all in short 60 page or shorter formats and available for view on <http://routledge.customgateway.com/routledge-social-issues.html> For instructors teaching a wide range of courses in the social sciences the Routledge Social Issues Collection now offers the best of both worlds originally written short texts that provide overviews to important social issues as well as teachable excerpts from larger works previously published by Routledge and other presses Biology Class XII - SBPD Publications Megha Bansal, Dr. Sunita
