Quindlen, 2011-05-10 The first time my husband hit me I was nineteen years old For eighteen years Fran Benedetto kept her secret hid her bruises She stayed with Bobby because she wanted her son to have a father and because in spite of everything she loved him Then one night when she saw the look on her ten year old son's face Fran finally made a choice she ran for both their lives Now she is starting over in a city far from home far from Bobby She uses a name that isn't hers watches over her son and tries to forget For the woman who now calls herself Beth every day is a chance to heal to put together the pieces of her shattered self And every day she waits for Bobby to catch up with her Bobby always said he would never let her go and Fran Benedetto is certain of one thing it is only a matter of time Black, Blue, Purple, Pale Gita Bhattacharya, 2012-09-13

Black and Blue Parm Sandhu, 2021-06-10 Inspiring Important Observer A page turner which everyone who cares about policing and justice in Britain should read Meera Syal At the point of her retirement from the Metropolitan Police Service in 2019 Parm Sandhu was the most senior BAME woman in the capital's police force She was also the only non white female to have been promoted through the ranks from constable to chief superintendent in the Met's entire history. In this enthralling memoir, Parm chronicles her journey from life on the outskirts of Birmingham as the fourth child of immigrants from the Punjab to the upper echelons of the Met. Forced into an abusive arranged marriage aged just 16, Parm made the decision to escape to London with her newborn son and later joined the police as a constable. During her thirty-year career, Parm worked in everything from crime prevention to counter terrorism and she also served in the Met's police corruption unit. She played a senior organizing role in the London Olympics and was the superintendent on duty when Lee Rigby was beheaded in the street in Greenwich. However, Parm's time on the force was chequered throughout with incidents of racial and gender discrimination and after deciding to make a stand, she found herself facing a spurious charge of gross misconduct. Black and Blue tells her shocking story and of her quest for justice in her police work and for herself. It is a story that cannot fail to inspire anyone who has experienced prejudice or abuse of any kind.
