The German Invention of Race Sara Eigen, Mark Larrimore, 2012-02-01 In The German Invention of Race historians philosophers and scholars in literary cultural and religious studies trace the origins of the concept of race to Enlightenment Germany and seek to understand the issues at work in creating a definition of race The work introduces a significant connection to the history of race theory as contributors show that the language of race was deployed in contexts as apparently unrelated as hygiene aesthetics comparative linguistics anthropology debates over the status of science theology and philosophy and Jewish emancipation The concept of race has no single point of origin and has never operated within the constraints of a single definition As the essays in this book trace the powerful resonances of the term in diverse contexts both before and long after the invention of the scientific term around 1775 they help explain how this pseudoconcept could in a few short decades have become so powerful in so many fields of thought and practice In addition the essays show that the fateful rise of racial thinking in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries was made possible not only by the establishment of physical anthropology as a field but also by other disciplines and agendas linked by the enduring associations of the word race

The Making of Europe Christopher Dawson,2002 Christopher Dawson concludes that the period of the fourth to the eleventh centuries commonly known as the Dark Ages is not a barren prelude to the creative energy of the medieval world Instead he argues that it is better described as ages of dawn for it is in this rich and confused period that the complex and creative interaction of the Roman empire the Christian Church the classical tradition and barbarous societies provided the foundation for a vital unified European culture In an age of fragmentation and the emergence of new nationalist forces Dawson argued that if our civilization is to survive it is essential that it should develop a common European consciousness and sense of historic and organic unity But he was clear that this unity required sources deeper and more complex than the political and economic movements on which so many had come to depend and he insisted prophetically that Europe would need to recover its Christian roots if it was to survive In a time of cultural and political ambiguity The making of Europe is an indispensable work for understanding not only the rich sources but also the contemporary implications of the very idea of Europe

The Politics of Adaptation Astrid Van Weyenberg, 2013 This book explores contemporary African adaptations of classical Greek tragedies Six South African and Nigerian dramatic texts by Yael Farber Mark Fleishman Athol Fugard Femi Osofisan and Wole Soyinka are analysed through the thematic lens of resistance revolution reconciliation and mourning The opening chapters focus on plays that mobilize Greek tragedy to inspire political change discussing how Sophocles heroine Antigone is reconfigured as a freedom fighter and how Euripides Dionysos is transformed into a revolutionary leader The later chapters shift the focus to plays that explore the costs and consequences of political change examining how the cycle of violence dramatized in Aeschylus Oresteia trilogy acquires relevance in post apartheid South Africa and how the mourning of Euripides Trojan Women resonates in and beyond Nigeria Throughout the emphasis is on how playwrights through adaptation perform a cultural politics directed at the Europe that has traditionally considered ancient Greece as its property foundation and legitimization Van Weyenberg additionally discusses how contemporary African reworkings of Greek tragedies invite us to reconsider how we think about the genre of tragedy and about the cultural process of adaptation Against George Steiner's famous claim that tragedy has died this book demonstrates that Greek tragedy holds relevance today But it also reveals that adaptations do more than simply keeping the texts they draw on alive through adaptation playwrights open up a space for politics In this dynamic between adaptation and pre text the politics of adaptation is performed

Destroy the Copy - Plaster Cast Collections in the 19th-20th Centuries Annetta Alexandridis, Lorenz Winkler-Horaček, 2022-09-06 Based on two international conferences held at Cornell University and the Freie Universität of Berlin in 2010 and 2015 this volume is the first ever to explicitly address the destruction of plaster cast collections of ancient Mediterranean and Western sculpture Focusing on Europe the Americas and Japan art historians archaeologists and a literary scholar discuss how different museum and academic traditions national as well as disciplinary notions of value and authenticity or colonialism impacted the fate of collections The texts offer detailed documentation of degrees of destruction by spectacular acts of defacement demolition discarding or neglect They also shed light on the accompanying discourses regarding aesthetic ideals political ideologies educational and scholarly practices or race With destruction being understood as a critical part of reception the histories of cast collections defy the traditional homogenous narrative of rise and decline Their diverse histories provide critical evidence for rethinking the use and display of plaster cast collections in the contemporary moment Curriculum Epistemicide João M. Paraskeva, 2016-03-10 Around the world curriculum hard sciences social sciences and the humanities has been dominated and legitimated by prevailing Western Eurocentric Anglophone discourses and practices Drawing from and within a complex range of epistemological perspectives from the Middle East Africa Southern Europe and Latin America this volume presents a critical analysis of what the author influenced by the work of Sousa Santos coins curriculum epistemicides a form of Western imperialism used to suppress and eliminate the creation of rival alternative knowledges in developing countries This exertion of power denies an education that allows for diverse epistemologies disciplines theories concepts and experiences The author outlines the struggle for social justice within the field of curriculum as well as a basis for introducing an Itinerant Curriculum Theory highlighting the potential of this new approach for future pedagogical and political praxis The West and China in Africa Alemayehu

Mekonnen, 2015-11-13 The West and China in Africa Civilization without Justice is an outcome of Dr Alemayehu Mekonnen's personal intellectual struggle life experience and an attempt to understand Christ and his message within the cultural context of Africa The intellectual struggle has to do with the paradoxical reality of Africa's situation An attempt to reconcile the seemingly irreconcilable situation of Africa tests and stretches anyone's mind beyond limit According to archaeological and geological findings Africa is the first habitat of humanity and yet it is the least habitable place in the world today The continent is extremely rich with natural resources but it is known for poverty disease malnutrition and starvation As some Afrocentric scholars argue Africa is the birthplace of world civilization and yet it is known for destruction Social instability is rampant coup d'etat and counter coup d'etat is common Displacement and the number of refugees are ever increasing As a person of African origin and now a US citizen Mekonnen was able to see realities objectively in the eyes of an African and American This book explores the myth and reality of Western Eastern and African dictators role in the history of Africa

Rethinking the Needham Question Raymond W. K. Lau, 2024-12-24 This book offers a new investigation of the Needham Question Why did modern science emerge in Europe but not in any of the advanced non European civilizations Eurocentric accounts attribute it to certain qualities said to be unique to Europe Opposed to the Eurocentric view is a position known as the dialogical perspective Dialogism argues that Europe borrowed heavily from non European scientific knowledges and that scientific exchanges were key to the development of modern science Neo Eurocentric arguments have emerged in response to the challenge of dialogism and the debate between Eurocentrism neo Eurocentrism and dialogism currently stands at a stalemate In this book Raymond Lau brings a new theoretical methodological framework to finally settle this debate The historical analysis developed here shows that to secure the non Eurocentric case and decisively rebut Eurocentrism and neo Eurocentrism it is necessary to go beyond dialogism both theoretically and methodologically Approaches to Greek

Myth Lowell Edmunds, 2021-04-27 A handy introduction to some of the more useful methodological approaches to and the previous scholarship on the subject of Greek myths Phoenix Since the first edition of Approaches to Greek Myth was published in 1990 interest in Greek mythology has surged There was no simple agreement on the subject of myth in classical antiquity and there remains none today Is myth a narrative or a performance Can myth be separated from its context What did myths mean to ancient Greeks and what do they mean today Here Lowell Edmunds brings together practitioners of eight of the most important contemporary approaches to the subject Whether exploring myth from a historical comparative or theoretical perspective each contributor lucidly describes a particular approach applies it to one or more myths and reflects on what the approach yields that others do not Edmunds s new general and chapter level introductions recontextualize these essays and also touch on recent developments in scholarship in the interpretation of Greek myth Contributors are Jordi P mias on the reception of Greek myth through history H S Versnel on the intersections of myth and ritual Carolina L pez Ruiz on the near Eastern contexts Joseph Falaky Nagy on Indo European structure in Greek myth William Hansen on myth and folklore Claude Calame on the application of semiotic theory of narrative Christiane Sourvinou Inwood on reading visual sources such as vase paintings and Robert A Segal on psychoanalytic interpretations A valuable collection of eight essays Edmunds s book provides a convenient opportunity to grapple with the current methodologies used in the analysis of literature and myth New England Classical Newsletter and Journal

Dirty Love Tim Whitmarsh, 2018-04-02 Some of the world s earliest large form fictional narratives what would today be called novels are found in ancient Greece Dating back to the first century CE these narratives contain many of the elements common to the novelistic genre for instance the joining separation and reunion of two lovers These ancient works have often been heralded as the ancestors of the modern novel but what can we say of the origins of the Greek novel itself This book argues that whereas much of Greek literature was committed to a form of cultural purism presenting itself as part of a continuous tradition reaching back to the founding fathers within the tradition the novel reveled in cultural hybridity The earliest Greek novelistic literature combined Greek and non Greek traditions More than this however it also often self consciously explored its own hybridity by focusing on stories of cultural hybridization or what we would now call mixed race relations This book is thus not a conventional account of the origins of the Greek novel it is not an attempt to pinpoint the moment of invention and to trace its subsequent development in a straight line Rather it makes a virtue of the murkiness or dirtiness of the origins of the novel there is no single point of creation no pure tradition only transgression and transformation The novel thus emerges as an outlier within the Greek literary corpus a form of literature written in Greek but not always committing to Greek cultural identity Dirty Love focuses particularly on the relationship between Persian Egyptian Jewish and Greek literature and explores such texts as Ctesias Persica Joseph and Aseneth the Alexander Romance and the tale of Ninus and Semiramis It will appeal not only to those interested in Greek literary history but also to readers of near eastern and biblical literature

The Greek Gods in Modern Scholarship Michael D. Konaris, 2016 The nineteenth century is a key period in the history of the interpretation of the Greek gods The Greek Gods in Modern Scholarship examines how German and British scholars of the time drew on philology archaeology comparative mythology anthropology or sociology to advance radically different theories on the Greek gods and their origins For some they had been personifications of natural elements for others they had begun as universal gods like the Christian god yet for others they went back to totems or were projections of group unity The volume discusses the views of both well known figures like K O Muller 1797 1840 or Jane Harrison 1850 1928 and of forgotten but important scholars like F G Welcker 1784 1868 It explores the underlying assumptions and agendas of the rival theories in the light of their intellectual and cultural context laying stress on how they were connected to broader contemporary debates over fundamental questions such as the origins and nature of religion or the relation between Western culture and the Orient It also considers the impact of theories from this period on twentieth and twenty first century scholarship on Greek religion and draws implications for the study of the Greek gods today
