Fit Citizens Ava Purkiss, 2023-03-14 At the turn of the twentieth century as African Americans struggled against white social and political oppression Black women devised novel approaches to the fight for full citizenship In opposition to white led efforts to restrict their freedom of movement Black women used various exercises calisthenics gymnastics athletics and walking to demonstrate their physical and moral fitness for citizenship Black women s participation in the modern exercise movement grew exponentially in the first half of the twentieth century and became entwined with larger campaigns of racial uplift and Black self determination Black newspapers magazines advice literature and public health reports all encouraged this emphasis on exercise as a reflection of civic virtue In the first historical study of Black women s exercise Ava Purkiss reveals that physical activity was not merely a path to self improvement but also a means to expand notions of Black citizenship Through this narrative of national belonging Purkiss explores how exercise enabled Black women to reimagine Black bodies health beauty and recreation in the twentieth century Fit Citizens places Black women squarely within the history of American physical fitness and sheds light on how African Americans gave new meaning to the concept of exercising citizenship

Style and Status Susannah Walker, 2007-02-23 Between the 1920s and the 1970s American economic culture began to emphasize the value of consumption over production At the same time the rise of new mass media such as radio and television facilitated the advertising and sales of consumer goods on an unprecedented scale In Style and Status Selling Beauty to African American Women 1920 1975 Susannah Walker analyzes an often overlooked facet of twentieth century consumer society as she explores the political social and racial implications of the business devoted to producing and marketing beauty products for African American women Walker examines African American beauty culture as a significant component of twentieth century consumerism and she links both subjects to the complex racial politics of the era The efforts of black entrepreneurs to participate in the American economy and to achieve self determination of black beauty standards often caused conflict within the African American community Additionally a prevalence of white owned firms in the African American beauty industry sparked widespread resentment even among advocates of full integration in other areas of the American economy and culture Concerned African Americans argued that whites had too much influence over black beauty culture and were invading the market complicating matters of physical appearance with questions of race and power Based on a wide variety of documentary and archival evidence Walker concludes that African American beauty standards were shaped within black society as much as they were formed in reaction to let alone imposed by the majority culture Style and Status challenges the notion that the civil rights and black power movements of the 1950s through the 1970s represents the first period in which African Americans wielded considerable influence over standards of appearance and beauty Walker explores how beauty culture affected black women s racial and feminine identities the role of black owned businesses in African American communities differences between black owned and white owned manufacturers of beauty products and the concept of racial progress in the post World War II era Through the story of the development of black beauty culture Walker examines the interplay of race class and gender in twentieth century America The Promotion of the Welfare and Hygiene of Maternity and Infancy Armin Klein,Blanche California Weill,Clara Mortenson Beyer,Ella Gardner,Glenn Steele,Caroline Ella Legg,Leah Coleman Thomas,United States. Children's Bureau,1930 Women in Magazines Rachel Ritchie,Sue Hawkins,Nicola Phillips,S. Jay Kleinberg,2016-02-19 Women have been important contributors to and readers of magazines since the development of the periodical press in the nineteenth century By the mid twentieth century millions of women read the weeklies and monthlies that focused on supposedly feminine concerns of the home family and appearance In the decades that followed feminist scholars criticized such publications as at best conservative and at worst regressive in their treatment of gender norms and ideals However this perspective obscures the heterogeneity of the magazine industry itself and women s experiences of it both as readers and as journalists This collection explores such diversity highlighting the differing and at times contradictory images and understandings of women in a range of magazines and women s contributions to magazines in a number of contexts from late nineteenth century publications to twenty first century titles in Britain North America continental Europe and Australia Branding Black Womanhood Timeka N. Tounsel,2022-06-17 CaShawn Thompson crafted Black Girls Are Magic as a proclamation of Black women s resilience in 2013 Less than five years later it had been repurposed as a gateway to an attractive niche market Branding Black Womanhood Media Citizenship from Black Power to Black Girl Magic examines the commercial infrastructure that absorbed Thompson s mantra While the terminology may have changed over the years mainstream brands and mass media companies have consistently sought to acknowledge Black women s possession of a distinct magic or power when it suits their profit agendas Beginning with the inception of the Essence brand in the late 1960s Timeka N Tounsel examines the individuals and institutions that have reconfigured Black women s empowerment as a business enterprise Ultimately these commercial gatekeepers have constructed an image economy that operates as both a sacred space for Black women and an easy hunting ground for their dollars Mama Africa Patricia de Santana Pinho,2010-01-25 An examination of the meanings of blackness in the Brazilian state of Bahia to this context The Racist Social Order Mind Control and African Americans presents a collection of revolutionary poetry and historical facts designed to evoke critical thinking regarding issues of social inequities Author Yolanda Webb shares her thoughts and reflections in an attempt to create solutions designed to deconstruct these inequities a necessity if we are to move toward a more democratic society She also writes on psychology inspired by research and featuring historical facts relating to a racial hierarchy intended to create division among colonized groups Speaking in a type of cross cultural dialogue that provokes both reflection and cognitive dissonance this collection encourages resistance in order to allow the beginning of the creation of pathways for improvements for future generations Ebony ,1980-11 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Boys' Life ,1919-04 Boys Life is the official youth magazine for the Boy Scouts of America Published since 1911 it contains a proven mix of news nature sports history fiction science comics and Scouting

Blackness and Social Mobility in Brazil Doreen Joy Gordon, 2022-03-07 This book examines the emergence of the black middle classes in urban Brazil after 30 years of black mobilization and against the backdrop of deep economic cultural and political transformations taking place in recent decades within the country One of the consequences of such transformations is said to be the restructuring of gender race and class relations Utilizing qualitative research techniques such as ethnography interviews life histories and focus groups among Afro descendant families in the Northeast region of the country the book explores contemporary race class and gender inequalities and their impact on daily lived experience It reveals the dynamics underlying upward mobility the diverse modes and experiences of social ascent into the middle classes and the everyday negotiations involved in establishing one's status in the socio racial hierarchy which are not captured by other more macro lenses While some of these patterns are not peculiar to black people this book argues that race shaped the contours and possibilities of social mobility in particular ways This book is critical reading for specialists in the fields of inequality and race class and gender relations
