

The background of the cover is an abstract, textured composition. It features a dense arrangement of warm colors, primarily reds, oranges, and yellows, with some cooler tones of green and blue. Overlaid on this are various geometric shapes and patterns, including triangles, rectangles, and a prominent zig-zag or chevron pattern in the center. The overall effect is one of vibrant energy and cultural complexity.

Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America History in Black Yaacov

Shavit, 2013-11-12 The development of Afrocentric historical writing is explored in this study which traces this recording of history from the Hellenistic Roman period to the 19th century Afrocentric writers are depicted as searching for the unique primary source of culture from one period to the next Such passing on of cultural traits from the ancient model from the classical period to the origin of culture in Egypt and Africa is shown as being a product purely of creative history The

Black Arts Movement James Smethurst, 2006-03-13 Emerging from a matrix of Old Left black nationalist and bohemian ideologies and institutions African American artists and intellectuals in the 1960s coalesced to form the Black Arts Movement the cultural wing of the Black Power Movement In this comprehensive analysis James Smethurst examines the formation of the Black Arts Movement and demonstrates how it deeply influenced the production and reception of literature and art in the United States through its negotiations of the ideological climate of the Cold War decolonization and the civil rights movement Taking a regional approach Smethurst examines local expressions of the nascent Black Arts Movement a movement distinctive in its geographical reach and diversity while always keeping the frame of the larger movement in view The Black Arts Movement he argues fundamentally changed American attitudes about the relationship between popular culture and high art and dramatically transformed the landscape of public funding for the arts Martin Delany, Frederick Douglass, and the Politics of Representative Identity

Robert S. Levine, 2000-11-09 The differences between Frederick Douglass and Martin Delany have historically been reduced to a simple binary pronouncement assimilationist versus separatist Now Robert S Levine restores the relationship of these two important nineteenth century African American writers to its original complexity He explores their debates over issues like abolitionism emigration and nationalism illuminating each man s influence on the other s political vision He also examines Delany and Douglass s debates in relation to their own writings and to the work of Harriet Beecher Stowe Though each saw himself as the single best representative of his race Douglass has been accorded that role by history while Delany according to Levine has suffered a fate typical of the black separatist marginalization In restoring Delany to his place in literary and cultural history Levine makes possible a fuller understanding of the politics of antebellum African American leadership Look, a Negro! Robert Gooding-Williams, 2013-11-26 In Look a Negro political theorist Robert Gooding Williams imaginatively and impressively unpacks fundamental questions around race and racism Inspired by Frantz Fanon s famous description of the profound effect of being singled out by a white child with the words Look a Negro his book is an insightful rich and unusually wide ranging work of social criticism These essays engage themes that have dominated debates on race and racial identity in recent years the workings of racial ideology including the interplay of gender and sexuality in the articulation of racial ideology the viability of social constructionist theories of race the significance of Afrocentrism and multiculturalism for democracy the place of black identity in the imagination and articulation of America s inheritance of philosophy and the conceptualization of African American politics in post segregation America Look a Negro will be of interest to philosophers political theorists critical race theorists students of cultural studies and film and readers concerned with the continuing importance of race consciousness to democratic culture in the United States

The Oxford Handbook of Twentieth-Century American Literature Leslie Bow, Russ Castronovo, 2022-09-19 An essential and field defining resource this volume brings fresh approaches to major US novels poetry and performance literature of the twentieth century With sections on structures movements attachments and imaginaries this handbook brings a new set of tools and perspectives to the rich and diverse traditions of American literary production The editors have turned to leading as well as up and coming scholars in the field to foreground methodological concerns that assess the challenges of transnational perspectives critical race and indigenous studies disability and care studies environmental criticism affect studies gender analysis media and sound studies and other cutting edge approaches The 20 original chapters include the discussion of working class literature border narratives children s literature novels of late capitalism nuclear poetry fantasies of whiteness and Native American African American Asian American and Latinx creative texts The African Diaspora Isidore Okpewho, Carole Boyce Davies, Ali Al'Amin Mazrui, 1999 How black people established their identities in the African diaspora The Real Negro Shelly Eversley, 2004-03-29 In this book Shelly Eversley historicizes the demand for racial authenticity what Zora Neale Hurston called the real Negro in twentieth century American literature Eversley argues that the modern emergence of the interest in the real Negro transforms the question of what race an author belongs into a question of what it takes to belong to that race Consequently Paul Laurence Dunbar s Negro dialect poems were prized in the first part of the century because written by a black man they were not imitation black while the dialect performances by Zora Neale Hurston were celebrated because written by a real black they were not imitation white The second half of the century in its dismissal of material segregation sanctions a notion of black racial meaning as internal and psychological and thus promotes a version of black racial truth as invisible and interior yet fixed within a stable conception of difference The Real Negro foregrounds how investments in black racial specificity illuminate the dynamic terms that define what makes a text and a person black while it also reveals how blackness spoken and authentic guards a more fragile because unspoken commitment to the purity and primacy of whiteness as a stable uncontested ideal We're Not Going to Take it Anymore Gerald G. Jackson, 2005 Professor Gerald G Jackson incorporates the perceptions ideals hesitations and proclamations of the Hip Hop and post Hip Hop generations into the Africana Studies field He pulls evidence from a rich tapestry of history classroom learning exercises student reports scholar and professional led lectures discussions and educational tours to create a groundbreaking multicultural and pluralistic model for the application of Africentric helping to the educational sphere While the mode varies the greater number of compositions compiled here are biographies of ordinary and extraordinary African Americans Culturally affirming introspective and expansive We re Not Going to Take it Anymore is a rarely seen educational innovation

Space in America Klaus Benesch,Kerstin Schmidt,2005 America s sense of space has always been tied to what Hayden White called the narrativization of real events If the awe inspiring manifestations of nature in America Niagara Falls Virginia s Natural Bridge the Grand Canyon etc were often used as a foil for projecting utopian visions and idealizations of the nation s exceptional place among the nations of the world the rapid technological progress and its concomitant appropriation of natural spaces served equally well as David Nye argues to promote the dominant cultural idiom of exploration and conquest From the beginning American attitudes towards space were thus utterly contradictory if not paradoxical a paradox that scholars tried to capture in such hybrid concepts as the middle landscape Leo Marx an engineered New Earth Cecelia Tichi or the technological sublime David Nye Not only was America s concept of space paradoxical it has always also been a contested terrain a site of continuous social and cultural conflict Many foundational issues in American history the dislocation of Native and African Americans the geo political implications of nation building immigration and transmigration the increasing division and clustering of contemporary American society etc involve differing ideals and notions of space Quite literally space and its various ideological appropriations formed the arena where America s search for identity national political cultural has been staged If American democracy as Frederick Jackson Turner claimed is born of free land then its history may well be defined as the history of the fierce struggles to gain and maintain power over both the geographical social and political spaces of America and its concomitant narratives The number and range of topics interests and critical approaches of the essays gathered here open up exciting new avenues of inquiry into the tangled contentious relations of space in America Topics include Theories of Space Landscape Nature Technoscape Architecture Urban Utopia Literature Performance Film Visual Arts

Mnemopoetics Valérie Bada, 2008 From its very beginning African American drama has borne witness to the creative power of the slaves to maintain their human dignity as well as to fashion a complex culture of survival If the memory of slavery has always been at the heart of the African American theatrical tradition it is the way in which it is processed and inscribed that has developed and is still changing Through the close reading and socio historical analysis of eight plays from 1939 to 1996 the author seeks to unravel the fluctuating patterns in the shaping of the theatrical memory of slavery long after its abolition To do so she defines the concept and practice of mnemopoetics as the making of memory through imagination as well as the critical approaches that decipher and interpret cultural productions of memory As a constellation of processes akin to the fluidity of memory mnemopoetics blends creative representation and critical exploration to suggest that the cultural creation of memory necessarily entails a self reflexive involvement with its own interpretation If slavery embodies the deep foundational memory of America African American drama represents the open communal space where it becomes possible to convert the irretrievable nature of a vicarious past into the redeeming function of a collective memory
