Innovation in the Forest Products Industry Abra Hovgaard, Eric Hansen, Joseph Roos, 2005 Because there is a lack of innovation research in the forest products industry and innovative activities in the industry are not well documented, this study attempted to fill that void. The objectives of this study were to understand the process and definition of innovation in the forest products industry, identify the constraints on innovative activities, identify resources that would improve innovation in forest products companies, compare the innovation environments in Alaska and Oregon, and provide a benchmark study for innovation in the forest products industry. This study revealed that there are several aspects of innovation in the forest products industry. In addition, the innovation process is a combination of semiformal development stages, trial and error, intuition, and luck. A variety of factors constrained companies from being more innovative including government regulations shipping and labor costs lack of cash flow raw material characteristics marketing expertise and raw material supply There do not appear to be any resources that would be helpful to forest products companies at least none that the interviewed companies could recommend Offering companies the chance to exchange ideas and network is the most valuable resource available The innovation environments in Alaska and Oregon are somewhat similar yet different in the marketing tactics employed and the techniques used to obtain market information Furthermore the type of innovation projects that each region focuses on differs as does the actual process used to develop innovations Future research should focus on completing a quantitative component to this study developing short courses or 1 day seminars identifying factors that contribute to innovation success and failure investigating why the forest products industry is not innovative by nature and exploring the external acquisition of innovation in the forest products industry gradually intensifies into obsession driving him to seek symmetry in everything he does from personal relationships to an intricate mathematical equation that he believes holds the key to understanding his life's biggest mystery He becomes fixated on solving the equation which if balanced perfectly could redefine humanity's understanding of its place in the universe However this uncompromising demand for flawlessness begins to unravel its true self The protagonist's relationships start to fracture and he loses sight of the things that once mattered to him At his lowest point the protagonist comes across an epiphany left to him by his mentor where the cryptic phrase Eye of the Bird is inscribed To find peace he must uncover the significance of these words and determine whether his pursuit of symmetry is worth the cost or if embracing life's inherent chaos is the path to his salvation Bird of Paradise Raquel Cepeda, 2013 An award winning journalist and documentary filmmaker chronicles her personal year long journey to discover the truth about her ancestry through DNA testing sharing her findings as well as her insights into controversies surrounding modern Latino identity
