The South African Novel in English Since 1950 G.

E. Gorman,1978 African Literature Jonathan P. Smithe,2002 African literature like the continent itself is enormous and diverse East Africa s literature is different from West Africa s which is quite different from South Africa s which has different influences on it than North Africa s Africa s literature is based on a widespread heritage of oral literature some of which has now been recorded Arabic influence can be detected as well as European especially French and English Legends myths proverbs riddles and folktales form the mother load of the oral literature This book presents an overview of African literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources Accessed by subject author and title indexes

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell,Dirk Klopper,Craig MacKenzie,2010 From the outset South Africa s history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party s policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele s call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country s literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

Metaphor and the Slave Trade in West African Literature Laura T. Murphy,2012-04-02 Metaphor and the Slave Trade provides compelling evidence of the hidden but unmistakable traces of the transatlantic slave trade that persist in West African discourse Through an examination of metaphors that describe the trauma loss and suffering associated with the commerce in human lives this book shows how the horrors of slavery are communicated from generation to generation Laura T Murphy s insightful new readings of canonical West African fiction autobiography drama and poetry explore the relationship between memory and metaphor and emphasize how repressed or otherwise marginalized memories can be transmitted through images tropes rumors and fears By analyzing the unique codes through which West Africans have represented the slave trade this work foregrounds African literary contributions to Black Atlantic discourse and draws attention to the archive that metaphor unlocks for scholars of all disciplines and fields of study

African American Women's Literature in Spain Sandra Llopart Babot,2023-05-31 This volume brings forward a descriptive approach to the translation and reception of African American women's literature in Spain. Drawing from a multidisciplinary theoretical and methodological framework it traces the translation history of literature produced by African American women seeking to uncover changing strategies in translation policies as well as shifts in interests in the target context and it examines the topicality of this cohort of authors as frames of reference for Spanish critics and reviewers. Likewise the reception of the source literature in the Spanish context is described by reconstructing the values that underlie judgements in different reception sources. Finally this book addresses the specific problem of the translation of Black English into Spanish. More precisely it pays attention to the ideological and the ethical implications of translation choices and the effect of the latter on the reception of literary texts.

Borderlands Gesellschaft für die Neuen Englischsprachigen Literaturen. Conference, 1999. Boundaries borderlines limits on the one hand and rites of passage contact zones in between spaces on the other have attracted renewed interest in a broad variety of cultural discourses after a long period of decenterings and delimitations in numerous fields of social psychological and intellectual life. Anthropological dimensions of the subject and its multifarious ways of world making represent the central challenge among the concerns of the humanities. The role of literature and the arts in the formation of cultural and personal identities theoretical and political approaches to the relation between self and other the familiar and the foreign have become key issues in literary and cultural studies forms of expressivity and expression and question of mediation as well as new enquiries into ethics have characterized the intellectual energies of the past decade. The aim of Borderlands is to represent a variety of approaches to questions of border crossing and boundary transgression approaches from different angles and different disciplines but all converging in their own way on the post colonial paradigm. Topics discussed include globalization cartography and ontology transitional identity ecocritical sensibility questions of the application of post coloniality gender and sexuality and attitudes towards space and place. As well as studies of the cinema of the settler colonies the films of Neil Jordan and Othering in Canadian sports journalism there are treatments of the Nigerian novel South African prison memoirs and African women's writing. Authors examined include Elizabeth Bowen Bruce Chatwin Mohamed Choukri Nuruddin Farah Jamaica Kincaid Pauline Melville Bharati Mukherjee Michael Ondaatje and Leslie Marmon Silko.

Mobilities, Literature, Culture Marian Aguiar, Charlotte Mathieson, Lynne Pearce, 2019-09-25. This is the first book dedicated to literary and cultural scholars engagement with mobilities scholarship. As such the volume both advances new theoretical approaches to the study of culture and furthers the recent humanities turn in mobilities studies. The book's scholarship is deeply informed by cultural geography's vision of a mobilised reconceptualisation of space and place but also by the contribution of literary scholars in articulating questions of travel technologies of transport post colonialism and migration through a close engagement with textual materials. A comprehensive introduction maps pre histories and emerging directions of this exciting interdisciplinary endeavor while taking up the theoretical and methodological challenges of the burgeoning subfield. Contributions range across geographical and disciplinary boundaries to address questions of embodied subjectivities mobility and the nation geopolitics of migration and mobilities futures

Literary Research and Postcolonial Literatures in English H. Faye Christenberry, Angela Courtney, Liorah Golomb, Melissa S. Van Vuuren, 2012-08-08 Postcolonial literatures can be defined as the body of creative work written by authors whose lands were formerly subjugated to colonial rule In previous volumes of this series the research literature of former British colonies Australia Canada Ireland and New Zealand have been addressed This volume offers guidance for those researching the postcolonial literature of the former British colonies in Africa the Caribbean and South Asia Among the forty nations represented in this volume are South Africa India Pakistan Ghana Jamaica Swaziland Belize and Namibia With the exception of South Africa which formed the Union of South Africa in 1910 this guide picks up its coverage in 1947 when both India and Pakistan gained their independence The literature created by writers from these nations represents the diverse experiences in the postcolonial condition and are the subject of this book The volume provides best practice suggestions for the research process and discusses how to take advantage of primary text resources in a variety of formats both digital and paper based bibliographies indexes research guides archives special collections and microforms

Reading Postcolonial Literature Hayley G. Toth, 2025-03-10 An Open Access edition is available thanks to the kind sponsorship of the libraries participating in the Jisc Open Access Community Framework OpenUP initiative Debates about reading in postcolonial studies rarely discuss non professional readers except to secure the authority of professional reading practices In Reading Postcolonial Literature Hayley G Toth places non professional reading practices in dialogue with received academic wisdom to debunk common sense assumptions about non professional readers as Western or neocolonial consumers Drawing on reading practices recorded in academic books journal articles and on online book reviewing platforms like Amazon and Goodreads Toth draws attention to important continuities between professional and non professional practices of reading postcolonial literature At the same time she highlights that non professionals often have little desire to emulate the practices of professional postcolonial critics Precisely by not adopting the established protocols and methods of postcolonial studies non professional readers call attention to the limits of dominant approaches to reading in the discipline Across four chapters Toth examines the relationship between reading and identity during the Rushdie affair the difference between reading and address the challenges posed by difficult texts and the legitimacy of non understanding and the reception of popular texts primarily read by non professional audiences Reading Postcolonial Literature demonstrates that reception matters in any claims we make about the value of reading postcolonial literature and offers new ways forward for the practice study and teaching of reading in the discipline

Resistance and Literature in a Global Context Prakash Chandra Pradhan, 2025-02-24 The comprehensive volume delves into the discursive valences and contingencies of resistance It examines key issues and situations within the complex power dynamics of various cultures societies nations and ethnicities It explores the varying meanings of resistance in different contexts with analyses of select literary texts from various works of literature worldwide that range from Tribal writings in English and Nepalese literature to British literature and American literature It evaluates various factors including structure situation context culture agency place motives ideology and oppression within the discourse of resistance It emphasizes the cultural relevance of the study of resistance across a range of fields such as postcolonialism feminism ecocriticism gender relations and sexuality myth and folklore existentialism cultural studies rural feminism trauma theory and violence globalization ethnicity and identity child trafficking and third gender issues subalternity and marginality The book covers the genres of novels poetry autobiography and short stories It investigates the potency of these literary forms as cultural expressions of resistance It is an essential read for students researchers and teachers worldwide who are enthusiastic and curious about the meanings and contexts of resistance and its representations in literature     Review of National Literatures ,1970     Telling Times Nadine Gordimer,2012-03-15 Nadine Gordimer s life reflects the true spirit of the writer as moral activist political visionary and literary icon Telling Times collects together all her non fiction for the first time spanning more than half a century from the twilight of colonial rule in South Africa to the long brutal fight to overthrow South Africa s apartheid regime and to her leadership role over the last 20 years in confronting the dangers of AIDS globalisation and ethnic violence The range of this book is staggering from Gordimer s first piece in The New Yorker in 1954 in which she autobiographically traces her emergence as a brilliant young writer in a racist country to her pioneering role in recognising the greatest African and European writers of her generation to her truly courageous stance in supporting Nelson Mandela and other members of the ANC during their years of imprisonment Given that Gordimer will never write an autobiography Telling Times is an important document of twentieth century social and political history told through the voice of one of its greatest literary figures     The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1977
