Black Americans Views Of Racial Inequality The Dream Deferred:

Black Americans' Views of Racial Inequality Lee Sigelman, Susan Welch, 1994-05-27 An analysis of black opinions about the sources of their inequality in American society and the appropriate means for redressing this Party Images in the American Electorate Mark D. Brewer, 2010-04-02 Party affiliation has long been the driving force behind electoral politics in the United States Despite this fact scant attention has been devoted to the American electorate s party images the mental pictures that individuals have about the parties which enable citizens to translate events in the larger political environment into terms meaningful to them as individuals Party images are central to understanding individuals political perceptions and ultimately voting behavior Party Images in the American Electorate systematically examines the substance evolution and manipulation of party images within the American public over the last half century both within the public as a whole and within important subgroups based on class race and ethnicity sex and religiosity Ultimately this important book investigates how these party images are tied into the story of party polarization and how they affect electoral outcomes in the United States

Race, Gender, and Identity Georgia A. Persons, 2017-07-05 This volume examines race gender and identity in African American culture As with previous volumes in the series these collected essays provide a social science and interdisciplinary framework for the exploration of Africana cultural and social phenomena The contributors have adopted mixed methods and meta theory tools of analysis to describe and evaluate these issues from an African centered perspective Kameelah Martin examines the role of women in the films of Julie Dash and Kasi Lemmons Toya Roberts offers an experimental study of African American males at predominantly white institutions of higher education Rochelle Brocks digs into the transition transformation and transcendence of civil rights to the Black Arts Black Power movements for social change Portia K Maulsby provides an ethnographic study inspecting the genre of funk music in the United States James L Conyers Jr analyzes the doctoral dissertation of W E B Du Bois which cataloged the impact of colonialism on Africana culture Kesha Morant Williams and Ronald L Jackson II examine the impact of lupus on the identity of African American women Ronald Turner s essay examines black workers challenging racist practices by their union representatives Lisbeth Gant Britton renders a conceptual history of the hip hop community with emphasis on international issues This volume is an invaluable sourcebook for those studying African American affairs history and cultural studies

Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2000 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature providing access by subject groupings as well as author and subject indexes Contents Racial Attitudes Racism and Poverty Hate Groups Racial Justice Racism and Politics Race Discrimination Racial Identity Racism Around the World

The Mass Media and the Dynamics of American Racial Attitudes Paul M. Kellstedt, 2003-08-04 Paul M Kellstedt explains the variation in Americans racial attitudes over the last half century particularly the relationship between media coverage of race and American public opinion on race The analyses reveal that racial policy preferences have evolved in an interesting and unpredicted if not unpredictable fashion over the past fifty years There have been sustained periods of liberalism where the public prefers an active government to bring about racial equality and these periods are invariably followed by eras of conservatism where the public wants the government to stay out of racial politics altogether These opinions respond to cues presented in the national media Kellstedt then examines the relationship between attitudes on the two major issues of the twentieth century race and the welfare state

The Color of Freedom David Carroll Cochran, 1999-01-01 Offers a fresh distinctive and compelling analysis of the United States s continuing dilemma of race

Divided We Fail Sarah Garland, 2013-01-29 Examines why school desegregation despite its success in closing the achievement gap was never embraced wholeheartedly in the black community as a remedy for racial inequality In 2007 a court case originally filed in Louisville Kentucky was argued before the Supreme Court and officially ended the era of school desegregation both changing how schools across America handle race and undermining the most important civil rights cases of the last century Of course this wasn t the first federal lawsuit to challenge school desegregation But it was the first and only one brought by African Americans In Divided We Fail journalist Sarah Garland deftly and sensitively tells the stories of the families and individuals who fought for and against desegregation By reframing how we commonly understand race education and the history of desegregation this timely and deeply relevant book will be an important contribution to the continued struggle toward true racial equality

The Race Card Tali Mendelberg, 2017-10-09 Did George Bush s use of the Willie Horton story during the 1988 presidential campaign communicate most effectively when no one noticed its racial meaning Do politicians routinely evoke racial stereotypes fears and resentments without voters awareness This controversial rigorously researched book argues that they do Tali Mendelberg examines how and when politicians play the race card and then manage to plausibly deny doing so In the age of equality politicians cannot prime race with impunity due to a norm of racial equality that prohibits racist speech Yet incentives to appeal to white voters remain strong As a result politicians often resort to more subtle uses of race to win elections Mendelberg documents the development of this implicit communication across time and measures its impact on society Drawing on a wide variety of research including simulated television news experiments national surveys a comprehensive content analysis of campaign coverage and historical inquiry she analyzes the causes dynamics and consequences of racially loaded political communication She also identifies similarities and differences among communication about race gender and sexual orientation in the United States and between communication about race in the United States and ethnicity in Europe thereby contributing to a more general theory of politics Mendelberg s conclusion is that politicians including many current state governors continue to play the race card using terms like welfare and crime to manipulate white voters sentiments without overtly violating egalitarian norms But she offers some good news implicitly racial messages lose their appeal even among their target audience when their content is exposed

White Supremacy and Racism in the Post-civil Rights Era Eduardo Bonilla-Silva,2001 Is a racial structure still firmly in place in the United States White Supremacy and Racism answers that question with an unequivocal yes describing a contemporary system that operates in a covert subtle institutional and superficially nonracial fash on Assessing the major perspectives that social analysts have relied on to explain race and racial relations Bonilla Silva labels the post civil rights ideology as color blind racism a system of social arrangements that maintain white privilege at all levels His analysis of racial politics in the United States makes a compelling argument for a new civil rights movement rooted in the race class needs of minority masses multiracial in character and focused on attaining substantive rather than formal equality

Voting Hopes or Fears? Keith Reeves,1997-10-23 When President Lyndon B Johnson signed the 1965 Voting Rights Act he explained that it flowed from a clear and simple wrong But a generation later whites still remain resistant to the election of blacks to public office That widespread resistance Keith Reeves illustrates can be explained in large part by election campaign appeals to whites racial fears and sentiments Based on empirical research examining white voters attitudes towards black candidates and racial framing of campaign news coverage Voting Hopes or Fears explosively documents that racial discrimination against black candidates is contemporary specific and identifiable Reeves concludes by outlining possible remedies such as modified at large voting systems and by defending the practice of race conscious legislative districting now under attack by the Supreme Court Marshaling startling evidence of voting discrimination against black candidates on account of race and featuring a Foreword by The Honorable A Leon Higginbotham Jr Chief Justice Emeritus of the US Court of Appeals Voting Hopes or Fears will be mandatory reading for political and social scientists scholars of racism and African American Studies civil rights litigators journalists black lawmakers and office seekers and general readers interested in the subject of race and politics in American society

The Expanding Boundaries of Black Politics Georgia A. Persons,2017-09-04 This volume joins the preceding volumes in this distinguished series in presenting contemporary research by leading political scientists addressing topics of interest to those concerned with African American affairs It captures the expanding boundaries of black politics and the persistent interests of the black community at large The anchoring symposium The Expanding Boundaries of Black Politics presents the scholarship of a cadre of young black political scientists actively engaged in the critical tasks of moving forward the study of black politics Their concerns include expanding the boundaries of black politics along the lines of epistemology and methodology especially in regard to core issues and areas within this field In an introductory essay by Todd Shaw the work of these scholars is situated within the context of temporal shifts in scholarly emphases Overlapping issues and concerns across time as well as black political scholarship as defined in the field since its beginning are addressed The second part of this volume entitled Maximizing the Black Vote Recognizing the Limits of Electoral Politics concentrates on serious lingering social concerns These include the policy significance of black mayors affecting the concomitant impact of the black vote the boundaries being pushed concerning the conjunction of black theology and sexual identity a gendered analysis of familial policies and the deepening social and economic plight of young black males including felon disfranchisement The Expanding Boundaries of Black Politics carries forth the search for an understanding of the relationship between religion the black church and black political behavior cross racial group coalitions as concerns matters of immigration growing multiculturalism and the impact on black politics maximizing the impact of the black vote focusing on voting rights enforcement the black vote in presidential elections and the voice of the Congressional Black Caucus

Critical Perspectives on Racial and Ethnic Differences in Health in Late Life National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, Panel on Race, Ethnicity, and Health in Later Life, 2004-10-16 In their later years Americans of different racial and ethnic backgrounds are not in equally good or equally poor health There is wide variation but on average older Whites are healthier than older Blacks and tend to outlive them But Whites tend to be in poorer health than Hispanics and Asian Americans This volume documents the differentials and considers possible explanations Selection processes play a role selective migration for instance or selective survival to advanced ages Health differentials originate early in life possibly even before birth and are affected by events and experiences throughout the life course Differences in socioeconomic status risk behavior social relations and health care all play a role Separate chapters consider the contribution of such factors and the biopsychosocial mechanisms that link them to health This volume provides the empirical evidence for the research agenda provided in the separate report of the Panel on Race Ethnicity and Health in Later Life

The Case for Affirmative Action on Campus Eboni M. Zamani-Gallaher, Denise O'Neil Green, David O. Stovall, M. Christopher Brown II, 2023-07-03 Marshalls the arguments for affirmative action Offers strategies for action Why is affirmative action under attack What were the policy's original purposes and have they been achieved What are the arguments being arrayed against it And for all stakeholders concerned about equity and diversity on campus what's the way forward politically legally and practically The authors explore the historical context the philosophical and legal foundations of affirmative action present contemporary attitudes to the issue on and off campus and uncover the tactics and arguments of its opponents They conclude by offering strategies to counter the erosion of affirmative action change the basis of the discourse and coordinate institutional support to foster inclusive college environments and multi ethnic campus communities This book analyzes the ideological and legal construction of colorblind legislation that has led to the de facto exclusion of people of color from institutions of higher education It addresses the role of the courts in affecting affirmative action in higher education as a workplace and place of study It documents the under representation of collegians of color and presents research on student opinion on race based policies at two and four year institutions It details the pervasiveness of the affirmative action debate across educational sectors and the status of race among myriad factors considered in college admissions Finally it considers affirmative action as a pipeline issue and in the light of educational policy

Black Pride and Black Prejudice Paul M. Sniderman, Thomas Piazza, 2021-02-09 Do black pride and black prejudice come hand in hand Does taking pride in being black encourage the rejection of a common bond with other Americans In this groundbreaking study two leading social scientists mount a challenge to those who would answer yes Paul Sniderman and Thomas Piazza probe these questions in the only way possible asking black Americans themselves to share their thoughts about each other America and other Americans Writing in a strikingly transparent style they open a new window on the ideas and values of real individuals who make up the black community in America today Contrary to the rhetoric of some black leaders Sniderman and Piazza show that African Americans overwhelmingly reject racial separatism and embrace a common framework culture and identity with other Americans Although the authors find that levels of anti-Semitism are notably higher among black Americans than among white Americans they demonstrate that taking pride in being black does not encourage blacks to be more suspicious or intolerant of others who are not black The higher levels of anti-Semitism are instead associated with a gallery of oversimplified and accusatory ideas including a popularized Afrocentrism and charges of vast conspiracies that have won substantial support in the black community Readers of this book will come away with an understanding of how African Americans while insistent on winning racial justice are deeply committed to the values of the American ethos and their identity as Americans

Voting the Gender Gap Lois Duke Whitaker, 2010-10-01 This book concentrates on the gender gap in voting the difference in the proportion of women and men voting for the same candidate Evident in every presidential election since 1980 this polling phenomenon reached a high of 11 percentage points in the 1996 election The contributors discuss the history complexity and ways of analyzing the gender gap the gender gap in relation to partisanship motherhood ethnicity and the impact of parental status on the gender gap and the gender gap in races involving female candidates Voting the Gender Gap analyzes trends in voting while probing how women's political empowerment and gender affect American politics and the electoral process Contributors are Susan J Carroll Erin Cassese Cal Clark Janet M Clark M Margaret Conway Kathleen A Dolan Laurel Elder Kathleen A Frankovic Steven Greene Leonie Huddy Mary Kate Lizotte Barbara Norrander Margie Omero and Lois Duke Whitaker
