African Americans in the South Hans A. Baer, Yvonne Jones, 1992 This volume reflects a new commitment by American anthropologists to engage in what has been called the anthropology of racism the analysis of systems of inequality based on biological differences Comprising nine papers and related commentary African Americans in the South examines racism class stratification and sexism as they bear on the African American struggle for social justice equality and cultural identity in the South The essays fall into three broad categories economic survival strategies health and reproductive problems and religious responses to the larger society Essays in the first category discuss African American teen pregnancy and mutual aid societies The second group focuses on health practices and knowledge among blacks in a Georgia town African American midwifery in North Carolina an AIDS education program in a Tennessee city and eating habits in rural North Carolina The essays in the last category emphasize the diversity of the African American religious experience by focusing on black Pentecostals Jews and Mormons in the South Together these writings constitute an important concerted first engagement of issues crucial to an understanding of the history and social life of the South

A History of African Americans in North Carolina Jeffrey J. Crow, Paul D. Escott, Flora J. Hatley, 2002 A Companion to African American History Alton Hornsby, Jr., 2008-04-15 A Companion to African American History is a collection of original and authoritative essays arranged thematically and topically covering a wide range of subjects from the seventeenth century to the present day Analyzes the major sources and the most influential books and articles in the field Includes discussions of globalization region migration gender class and social forces that make up the broad cultural fabric of African American history

We the Black People: Untold Truths of Black American History Jude A. Elliott, 2025-05-17 It is important to the survival of a people their culture to have an accurate complete account of their history For way too long in United States History African Americans have been subjected to whitewashing segmented telling of their history until now We the Black People Untold Truths of Black American History changes this We begin at 1441 tell as comprehensive a story about the plight of Africans in the New World United States through the present We cover well known little known topics as well as analyze the role of white supremacy in the struggle for African Americans throughout the history of the United States Despite the challenges there were many successes in the Black Experience We the Black People is a book long overdue to expose the American citizenry to an aspect of its history long overlooked Black Americans in Congress, 1870-2007, 2008 From the publisher Provides a comprehensive history of the more than 120 African Americans who have served in the United States Congress Written for a general audience this book contains a profile of each African American Member including notables such as Hiram Revels Joseph Rainey Oscar De Priest Adam Clayton Powell Shirley Chisholm Gus Hawkins and Barbara Jordan Individual profiles are introduced by contextual essays that explain major events in congressional and U S history Illustrated with many portraits photographs and charts African American Statewide Candidates in the New South Charles S. Bullock, Susan A. MacManus, Jeremy D. Mayer, Mark J. Rozell, 2022 African American candidates for state and federal office in the United States face unique challenges given the nation's complicated racial dynamics To date there have been only two elected African American governors in the country the first elected in Virginia in 1989 and the second in Massachusetts in 2006 While Black candidates running statewide have been elected in increasing numbers in many areas of the country there have been fewer successes in the US South The relative lack of success in the South for Black candidates is puzzling given that as a percentage of the population the South has the highest concentration of African American citizens This book examines the campaigns of Black statewide candidates in the South to untangle the factors that led to their electoral successes as well as the factors that continue to stymie positive electoral results Looking at broader regional demographic and political trends the authors project that the South is on the threshold of a major breakthrough for African American statewide candidates who will have a substantial role in not only fundamentally changing the political dynamics of the region but the nation as well This change will be driven not only by Black candidates and voters but a rising regional coalition of racial minority and white voters who are increasingly willing to vote for Black candidates
