Alone In Paris:

The Paris Law Courts, 1894 Paris, and Excursions from Paris. Illustrated with Numerous Maps, Plans, & views. [By C. B. Black.] Adam BLACK (Publisher, and BLACK (Charles) Publisher.), 1872 Paris in April Allan Dare Pearce, 2011-08-03
Canada's greatest military disaster gave rise to Canada's greatest love affair A biracial romance during the second world war centered around Canadian participation in the Battle of Dieppe the largest military disaster in Canadian history an Essex County white boy Aiken Day and one great looking black gal Paris Chase My Private Diary During the Siege of Paris Felix M. Whitehurst, 1875 The Paragreens on a Visit to Paris Giovanni Ruffini, 1869 Mademoiselle, 1980 The Beggars of Paris (Paris Qui Mendie). Louis Paulian, 1897 From Harlem to Paris Michel Fabre, 1991 This academic study uses accounts from more than 60 African American writers Countee Cullen James Baldwin Chester Himes et al to explain why they were more readily accepted socially in Paris than in America Fabre The Unfinished Quest of Richard Wright shows that French black American affinity started in pre Civil War New Orleans and not as the title suggests in Harlem when illegitimate mulattos with inheritances from French slave owners sent their children to Paris to be educated The book concludes that acceptance and appreciation of black Americans were based largely of French distaste both for white Americans whom the French found egotistical and for black Africans with whom the French had a bitter mutual colonial history Paris, and excursions from Paris [by C.B. Black]. Charles Bertram Black, 1872 The Earthly Paradise: September: The death of Paris; The land east of the sun and west of the moon. October: The story of Accontius and Cydippe; The man who never laughed again. November: The story of Rhodope; The lovers of Gudrun William Morris, 1870 Old and New Paris: Its History, its People and its Places (Complete) Henry Sutherland Edwards, A PARISIAN who is not rich enough to keep a distinguished chef of his own will occasionally order a dainty dinner to be forwarded to him from some hotel or restaurant and in these cases the repast as soon as it is ready is sometimes put into a hackney cab and driven to the house of the consignee by the cocher who is not unaccustomed to find this fare more remunerative than the fare he habitually conveys A glance at the cocher as another of the Parisian types of character may here be not inopportune As a matter of fact however the cocher is not one type but several The name applies to the driver of the omnibus of the fiacre and of the private carriage As to the omnibus driver he is more amiable more easy going less sarcastic than his counterpart in London Nobody would ever hear an omnibus driver in Paris say as one has been heard to say in London when a lady passenger requested to be put down at 339 Street Certainly madam and would you like me to drive upstairs Nor is the Paris cabman so extortionate as his London brother for the fare regulations by which there is one fixed charge for the conveyance of a passenger any distance within a certain radius precludes the inevitable dispute which awaits the lady or gentleman who in our metropolis dares to take a four wheeler or a hansom Already in the sixteenth century hackney carriages were driven in the streets of Paris and any differences arising between the cocher and his passenger were at this period referred to the lieutenant of the police The private coachmen attached to the service of the nobility found their position a somewhat perilous one in an age when quarrels were so frequent on the question of social precedence If two aristocratic carriages met in some narrow street barring each other's way the footmen would get down and fight for a passage Serious wounds were sometimes inflicted and even the master would now and then step out of his vehicle and with drawn sword join in the affray The coachman meanwhile prouder in livery than his master in braided coat remained motionless on his box in spite of the blows which were being dealt around It is related that when on one occasion a party of highwaymen attacked the carriage of Benserade poet wit and dramatic author his coachman sat calmly at his post and amused himself with whistling whilst his master was being stripped of everything From time to time he turned towards the robbers and said Gentlemen shall you soon have finished and can I continue my journey
