Of One Tree:

The Battle of One Tree Hill Ray Kerkhove, Frank Uhr, 2019 In 1840 Brisbane was the furthest outpost of settled Australia On all sides it was embedded in a richly Indigenous world Over the next few years mostly from across New South Wales northern plains a large push of pastoralists poured into the Darling Downs Lockyer and much of southern Queensland establishing huge sheep stations The violence that erupted welded many of the tribal groups into an alliance that by 1842 was working to halt the advance The Battle of One Tree Hill tells the story of one of the most audacious stands against this migration It concerns actions engineered by a father and son Moppy and Multuggerah In 1843 this culminated in an ingenious ambush and one of the first solid defeats of white settlement in Queensland The battle at Mount Table Top 128 kilometres west of Brisbane astounded many at the time The response was most likely the largest action of the frontier wars the assembly of some 100 or more officers soldiers police and armed settlers much of the region's white settlement drawn from hundreds of square kilometres This force sought to drive out the warriors but despite their best efforts resistance not only persisted but managed a few more victories A fort had to be established to protect travellers and brutal skirmishes massacres raids and robberies trickled on for decades The Battle of One Tree Hill introduces us to many of the flamboyant characters curious reversals of fortune and neglected incidents that together helped establish early Queensland This narrative work combines decades of archival research analysis reconstruction and interviews conducted by historians Ray Kerkhove and Frank Uhr

Heretic Eric Leland Saak,2025-06-15 This book is the second of a planned three volume systematic theology under the title Confessions of a Heretic Volume One which has the subtitle Philosophical Considerations was published by Archway in 2024 The project now turns to Theological Considerations with the forthcoming Volume Three being Ecclesiological Consideration Organized into three Parts Volume Two focuses on the theological endeavor and the doctrines distinctive to Christianity namely the Trinity Jesus Christ sin and salvation Based on the foundational distinctions and definitions explicated in Volume One the current volume seeks to ask what the philosophical considerations imply for basic traditional understandings and terminology of Christian theology including that of Jesus of Nazareth his crucifixion and resurrection The project as a whole adopts a trinitarian structure with this second volume focused on God the Son or as here termed God the Perfector The argument is that Christian Theology needs to shift from an anthropocentric to a theocentric approach recognizing human beings simply as creatures and having the courage to face what that entails Yet doing so necessitates a radical reconceptualization of the very foundations of Christian Theology itself in the attempt to combat idolatry An American Dictionary of the English Language Noah Webster, 1842
