Alcoholism Interdisciplinary Approaches To An Enduring Problem:

Alcoholism Ralph E. Tarter, A. Arthur Sugarman, 1976 Papers from experts in various disciplines covering the causes processes and treatment of alcoholism Alcoholism: A Multidisciplinary Approach J. Mendlewicz, H. M. van Praag, 1979-03-13 Recent Developments in Alcoholism Marc Galanter, 2013-03-09 The purpose of this series is to provide an overview of recent research developments in the field of alcoholism so that interested professionals and researchers may keep abreast of this complex multidisciplinary work These annual volumes will present a scholarly review and analysis of selected research topics prepared by leading figures in the field Where appropriate the attempt is made to present contrasting perspectives and views particularly on issues where there is ongoing controversy The American Medical Society on Alcoholism and the Research Society on Alcoholism have undertaken this collaborative venture because of the perceived need for such a comprehensive resource These groups are both component organizations of the National Council on Alcoholism a broad based coalition which supports alcoholism treatment training and research on a national and international level This professional network has enabled us to draw on a panel of Associate Editors and on authors of international prominence The series should reflect a sophistication that will allow it to serve as a standard reference for the field Alcoholism Peter E. Nathan, G. Alan Marlatt, 2012-12-06 This book contains the fifteen invited papers delivered at the NATO International Conference on Experimental and Behavioral Approaches to Alcoholism held August 28 through September 1 1977 at the Solstrand Fjord Hotel Os Norway The editors of the book were Co Directors of that conference As well 65 other scientists from 12 countries in the free world presented scientific papers on experimental and behavioral topics of relevance to alcoholism at the meeting A most receptive audience of almost 200 persons also participated actively in the discussions which followed every invited and contributed paper The beauty of Norway the hospitality of the proprietors of the Solstrand Fjord Hotel the aura of Grieg and Trolldhaugen the enthusiasm of the speakers and participants all combined to make the conference most memorable for those who attended it Many persons and institutions deserve special thanks for their part in the success of the conference Among these persons are Dr Alcoholism A. Arthur Sugarman, Ralph E. Tarter, 1976 Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse Among Women, Research Issues, 1980 Alcohol and Drug Abuse Among the Elderly, 1976 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Public Welfare. Subcommittee on Aging, 1976 The Biology of Alcoholism Henri Begleiter, 2012-12-06 The previous volume The Pathogenesis of Alcoholism Psychosocial Factors attempted to describe the interaction of biological psychological and social factors that lead to the initiation and perpetuation of alcoholism The preface to that volume presented our particular view of the biosocial interaction as a progressive process in which earlier developments produce new pathogenetic mechanisms which in turn lead to still other cyclical feedback activities Although influences from each of the three phenomenologic levels are at work during each stage of the clinical course it would appear that social factors are most significant in the early phase psychological factors at the intermediate level and biological ones toward the end. These differences are only relative; however, for influences of all three types surely are operative during all stages of the syndrome. This appears to be particularly true for the biological parameters of activity. Don Goodwin (1976) who has supplied much of the data that support the role of hereditary factors in alcoholism is wont to say that all living behavior is biological by definition. The operational evidence for this is perhaps more evident in alcoholism than in other syndromes. For example, the general social indifference of many Asians to alcohol may reflect the presence of an atypical isoenzyme of alcohol dehydrogenase rather than some independently derived cultural norm.

The Community Health Nurse and Alcohol-related Problems ... National Center for Alcohol Education, 1978 Causes and Consequences of Alcohol Abuse United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Governmental Affairs, 1989 Planning Alcoholism Counseling Education, 1982 Prevention, Intervention; and Treatment, 1982 Alcoholism and Other Drug Problems James E. Royce, 1996 Proceedings of the National Hispanic Conference on Alcoholism, Sponsored by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, September 7-10, 1980, San Antonio, Texas, 1981 Drugs and Crime in Lifestyle Perspective Glenn D. Walters, 1994-03-11

This volume explores the correlation between drug abuse and crime. In examining the thinking and behavioural patterns common to both, it proposes a new explanatory model. Seeing involvement in drug abuse and crime as overlapping lifestyles, the author considers four primary factors: conditions, choices, cognitions, and change. By comparing this new model with existing models, Walters provides new insight into drug abuse, crime, and their overlap.

Alcohol Research & Health, 1999 Adult Psychopathology Francis Joseph Turner, 1984 Alcoholism and Clinical Psychiatry Joel Solomon, 2012-12-06

It is well known that alcoholism continues to be one of this country's major public health problems. This issue is carefully documented by Dr. Gerald Klerman, Chief of ADAMHA, in the second chapter of this volume. In spite of the major role that alcohol plays in the health care issues of internal medicine, neurology, and psychiatry, the subject continues to fall between the cracks of the various disciplines. For this reason, it has become almost a discipline of its own; yet there are no academic departments of alcoholism because academic departments are unidisciplinary and alcoholism is clearly a multidisciplinary field within medicine. In spite of the many disciplines involved in the study and treatment of alcoholism, psychiatry continues to have a special, albeit often neglected, relationship to alcoholism, and it is the articulation of that relationship which prompted the Department of Psychiatry at the Downstate Medical Center to organize the conference upon which many chapters in this volume are based. Particular emphasis in selecting the topics to be covered was placed on the interface between alcoholism and clinical psychiatry, including affective disorders, schizophrenia, suicide, adolescence, the special problems of women, and psychotherapy, to mention only some of them.

Contested Meanings Joseph R. Gusfield, 1996. This work brings together a selection of the author's articles written over a period of 20 years, observing the place of alcohol in American culture. The text also contains several ethnographic studies of bars in San Diego and a study of court-mandated
