Harris, 1996 As Africans and descendants of slaves have sought to expand an understanding of their history focus on the African diaspora the global dispersal of a people and their culture has increased African studies have assumed a prominent place in historical scholarship and a growing number of non-African scholars has helped revise a discipline established over several decades

The six contributions in this volume were compiled as a result of the thirtieth Walter Prescott Webb Memorial Lecture held at the University of Texas at Arlington. The contributors, nationally recognized in the field, represent a collaborative analysis of the African diaspora from African and non-African perspectives. Joseph E. Harris discusses how the African diaspora influences the economies, politics, and social dynamics of both the homeland and the host country. Alusine Jalloh reconstructs the mercantile activities of the Fula in colonial Sierra Leone. Joseph E. Inikori argues that slavery and serfdom in medieval Europe provide greater insights into precolonial Africa than do standard New World comparisons. Colin A. Palmer examines the power relationships that undergirded American slavery in order to better understand the enslaved. Douglas B. Chambers reveals the enduring influence of Africanisms in the historical development of Afro-Virginian slave culture. And Dale T. Graden looks at African slavery in Salvador Bahia, Brazil, between 1848 and 1856, focusing on the Bahian elite and their response to slave resistance.

Afro-Brazilian Culture and Politics Hendrik Kraay, 2016-07-01. The essays in this book constitute an analytic survey of the last two centuries of Afro-Bahian history with a focus squarely on the difficult relationship between Afro and Euro-Bahia and on the continual Afro-Bahian struggle to create a meaningful culture in an environment either hostile or suffocating in its ability to absorb elements of Afro-Bahian culture.

Afro-Cuban Diasporas in the Atlantic World Solimar Otero, 2010. Afro-Cuban Diasporas in the Atlantic World explores how Yoruba and Afro-Cuban communities moved across the Atlantic between the Americas and Africa in successive waves in the nineteenth century. In Havana, Yoruba slaves from Lagos banded together to buy their freedom and sail home to Nigeria. Once in Lagos, this Cuban repatriate community became known as the Aguda. This community built their own neighborhood that celebrated their Afrolatino heritage. For these Yoruba and Afro-Cuban diasporic populations, nostalgic constructions of family and community play the role of narrating and locating a longed-for home. By providing a link between the workings of nostalgia and the construction of home, this volume re-theorizes cultural imaginaries as a source for diasporic community reinvention. Through ethnographic fieldwork and research in folkloristics, Otero reveals that the Aguda identify strongly with their Afro-Cuban roots in contemporary times. Their fluid identity moves from Yoruba to Cuban and back again in a manner that illustrates the truly cyclical nature of transnational Atlantic community affiliation. Solimar Otero is Associate Professor of English and a folklorist at Louisiana State University. Her research centers on gender, sexuality, Afro-Caribbean spirituality, and Yoruba traditional religion in folklore literature and ethnography. Dr. Otero is the recipient of a Ruth Landes Memorial Research Fund grant, 2013; a fellowship at the Harvard Divinity School's Women's Studies in Religion Program, 2009 to 2010; and a Fulbright award, 2001.

Art and Religion in Africa Rosalind Hackett, 1998-10-01. Africa's religious and artistic traditions constitute a primary example of its intellectual and cultural vitality. Artistic works play a vital role, especially where oral traditions dominate, in communicating ideas about the relationship between the human, spiritual, and natural worlds. This work is a comparative study of Africa's visual and performing arts, concentrating on their geographical material and gendered diversity and focusing on the relation of these arts to African religion The author combines ethnographic and art historical methodology but does not assume any prior knowledge of African art or African religion The text seeks a greater understanding of the philosophical and religious aspects of African art thus challenging western perceptions of what is important in terms of artistic representation This approach reveals the transformative capacities and multi dimensionality of African art The work also highlights the changes brought about by Christianity Islam and the newer religious movements in post colonial Africa

The Gèlèdè Spectacle Babatunde Lawal,1996 This remarkable study explores the use of the visual and performing arts to promote nonviolence and social harmony in sub Saharan Africa It focuses on Gelede a popular community festival of masquerade dance and song held several times a year by the Yoruba of Southwestern Nigeria and the Republic of Benin Babatunde Lawal an art historian and African scholar who has taught in Nigeria Brazil and the United States is himself a Yoruba and has taken an active part in Gelede He writes from the perspective of an informed participant observer of his own culture Lawal bases his book on extensive field research observations and interviews conducted over more than two decades as well as on numerous published and unpublished scholarly sources He casts significant new light on many previously obscure aspects of Gelede and he demonstrates a useful methodological approach to the study of non Western art The book systematically covers the major aspects of the Gelede spectacle presenting its cultural background and historical origins as preface to a vivid and detailed description of an actual performance This is followed by a discussion of the iconography and aesthetics of costume and an examination of the sculpted images on the masks The book concludes with a discussion of the moral and aesthetic philosophy of Gelede and its responsiveness to technological and social change The Gelede Spectacle is illustrated in color and black and white with over 100 field and museum photographs including a rare sequence on the dressing of a masquerader It offers in addition more than 60 Gelede song texts proverbs and divination verses each in the original Yoruba as well as in translation Lawal s interpretations of these pieces indicate the rich complexities of metaphor and analogy inherent in the Yoruba language and art

Pagan Theology Michael York,2003-04-01 This study identifies paganism as a viable religion exploring its practices and theology as they are expressed in religious communities across the world Long dismissed as a miscellany of fringe ideas and practices Paganism is one of the fastest growing spiritual orientations in the West In Pagan Theology Michael York reframes Paganism as a world religion He provides an overview of pagan theology and practice while expanding on the concept of paganism itself He demonstrates it to be a viable spiritual perspective one which he identifies around the world today in such forms as Chinese folk religion Shinto tribal religions and neo Paganism in the West While adherents to many of these traditions do not use the word pagan to describe their beliefs or practices York contends that they feature common characteristics for which the label pagan is appropriate After outlining these characteristics he examines many of the world s major religions which while not themselves pagan have pagan elements In the course of examining such behavior York provides rich and lively descriptions of religions in action including Buddhism and Hinduism
