Measuring Heaven Christiane L. Joost-Gaugier, 2018-09-05

Surviving fragments of information about Pythagoras born ca 570 BCE gave rise to a growing set of legends about this famous sage and his followers whose reputations throughout Antiquity and the Middle Ages have never before been studied systematically This book is the first to examine the unified concepts of harmony proportion form and order that were attributed to Pythagoras in the millennium after his death and the important developments to which they led in art architecture mathematics astronomy music medicine morals religion law alchemy and the occult sciences In this profusely illustrated book Christiane L Joost Gaugier sets out the panorama of Pythagoras s influence and that of Christian and Jewish thinkers who followed his ideas in the Greek Roman early Christian and medieval worlds In illuminating this tradition of thought Joost Gaugier shows how the influence of Pythagoreanism was far broader than is usually realized and that it affected the development of ancient and medieval art and architecture from Greek and Roman temples to Gothic cathedrals Joost Gaugier demonstrates that Pythagoreanism centered on the dim memory of a single person that endured for centuries and grew ever greater inspired a new language for artists and architects enabling them to be modern

Making a Mark Andrew Meirion Jones, Marta Díaz-Guardamino, 2019-03-31

The visual imagery of Neolithic Britain and Ireland is spectacular While the imagery of passage tombs such as Knowth and Newgrange are well known the rich imagery on decorated portable artefacts is less well understood How does the visual imagery found on decorated portable artefacts compare with other Neolithic imagery such as passage tomb art and rock art How do decorated portable artefacts relate chronologically to other examples of Neolithic imagery Using cutting edge digital imaging techniques the Making a Mark project examined Neolithic decorated portable artefacts of chalk stone bone antler and wood from three key regions southern England and East Anglia the Irish Sea region Wales the Isle of Man and eastern Ireland and Northeast Scotland and Orkney Digital analysis revealed for the first time the prevalence of practices of erasure and reworking amongst a host of decorated portable artefacts changing our understanding of these enigmatic artefacts Rather than mark making being a peripheral activity we can now appreciate the central importance of mark making to the formation of Neolithic communities across Britain and Ireland The volume visually documents and discusses the contexts of the decorated portable artefacts from each region discusses the significance and chronology of practices of erasure and reworking and compares these practices with those found in other Neolithic contexts such as passage tomb art rock art and pottery decoration A contribution from Antonia Thomas also discusses the settlement art and mortuary art of Orkney while Ian Dawson and Louisa Minkin contribute with a discussion of the collaborative fine art practices established during the project

The Aesthetic Use of the Logical Functions in Kant's Third Critique Stephanie Adair, 2018-06-25 In the third Critique Kant details an aesthetic operation of judgment that is surprising considering how judgment functioned in the first Critique In this book I defend an understanding of Kant's theory of Geschmacksurteil as detailing an operation of the faculties that does not violate the cognitive structure laid out in the first Critique My orientation is primarily epistemological elaborating the determinations that govern the activity of pure aesthetic judging that specify it as a bestimmte type of judgment without transforming it into ein bestimmendes Urteil I focus on identifying how the logical functions from the table of judgments operate in the pure aesthetic judgment of taste to reveal the moments to which this power of judgment attends in its reflection CPJ 5 203 In the course of doing so a picture emerges of how the world is not just cognizable in a Kantian framework but also charged with human feeling acquiring the inexhaustible inchoate meaningfulness that incites much thinking CPJ 5 315 The universal communicability of aesthetic pleasure serves as the foundation that grounds robust intersubjective relations enabling genuine connection to others through a shared a priori feeling
