Divination And Healing Potent Vision:

Divination and Healing Michael Winkelman, Philip M. Peek, 2004-09 Divination is an important feature of cultures all over the world While some may still question the efficacy of divination systems they continue to serve their communities by diagnosing ailments prescribing healing treatments and solving problems Yet despite their universality there are relatively few comprehensive studies of divination systems This volume seeks to fill this gap regarding the use of divination in healing Here some of the world's leading authorities draw on their own fieldwork and participation in ritual to present detailed case studies demonstrating that divination rituals can have therapeutic effects As the contributors examine the systems of knowledge that divination articulates and survey the varieties of divinatory experience they seek to analyze divination as an epistemological system as a social process and as a therapeutic endeavor While some of their findings reinforce traditional assumptions about the importance of social control spirit relations and community support in the divination process the authors place these considerations within new epistemological frameworks that emphasize the use of alternative modes of knowing In this wide ranging volume readers will find coverage of classic Ifa systems Buddhist influenced shamanic practices in the former Soviet Union the reconciliation of Muslim beliefs and divinatory practices in Thailand Native American divination used in diagnosis Maya calendrical divination in Guatemala mediumistic and chicken oracle divination among the Sukuma of Tanzania Ndembu divination focusing on the process of collective healing and divination among the Samburu Maasai of Kenya featuring dialogues from actual healing sessions Together these contributions argue for new perspectives on the study of divination that emphasize not only the epistemological roots of these systems but also their multifaceted therapeutic functions Divination and Healing is a rich source of both data and insight for scholars of ritual religion medical anthropology and the psychology of altered states of consciousness

Moral Power Koen Stroeken, 2010-07-01 Neither power nor morality but both Moral power is what Sukuma farmers in Tanzania in times of crisis attribute to an unknown figure they call their witch A universal process is involved as much bodily as social which obstructs the patient's recovery Healers turn the table on the witch through rituals showing that the community and the ancestral spirits side with the victim In contrast to biomedicine their magic and divination introduce moral values that assess the state of the system and that remove the obstacles to what is taken as key self healing The implied sensory shifts and therapeutic effectiveness have largely eluded the literature on witchcraft This book shows how to comprehend culture other than through the prism of identity politics It offers a framework to comprehend the rise of witch killings and human sacrifice just as ritual initiation disappears

The Slain God Timothy Larsen, 2014 This book is a history of the relationship between the discipline of anthropology and the Christian faith It explores how leading anthropologists have come to believe that ethnographic findings and evidence made Christianity no longer tenable

The Making of the Pentecostal Melodrama Katrien Pype, 2012 How religion gender and urban sociality are expressed in and mediated via television drama in Kinshasa is the focus of this ethnographic study Influenced by Nigerian films and intimately related to the emergence of a charismatic Christian scene these teleserials integrate melodrama conversion narratives Christian songs sermons testimonies and deliverance rituals to produce commentaries on what it means to be an inhabitant of Kinshasa Ifá Divination, Knowledge, Power, and Performance Jacob K. Olupona, Rowland O. Abiodun, 2016-02-29 This landmark volume compiled by Jacob K Olupona and Rowland O Abiodun brings readers into the diverse world of If its discourse ways of thinking and artistic expression as manifested throughout the Afro Atlantic Firmly rooting If within African religious traditions the essays consider If and If divination from the perspectives of philosophy performance studies and cultural studies They also examine the sacred context verbal art and the interpretation of If texts and philosophy With essays from the most respected scholars in the field the book makes a substantial contribution toward understanding If and its role in contemporary Yoruba and diaspora cultures

Divination Dr Patrick Curry, 2013-06-28 Divination is any ritual and its associated tradition performed in order to ask a more than human intelligence for guidance A universal human practice it has received surprisingly little academic attention This interdisciplinary collection by leading scholars in the field is dedicated to fascinating new insights into divination and oracles arising from recent work in anthropology religious studies history and classical studies Central importance is given to the practical and theoretical perspectives of diviners as well as scholars of divination several contributors are both This book explores philosophical issues such as the nature of divinatory intelligence the relationship between divinatory and metaphorical truth the primacy of ontology over epistemology the importance of reflexivity in scholarly studies of divination and astrology as the principal Western form of divination The ethnographic and historical examples range from contemporary Nigeria urban Cuba Mayan Guatemala and the shamanic cultures of the circumpolar Arctic to classical Greece and ancient Judea Health and Wealth on the Bosnian Market Larisa Jašarevic, 2017-01-30 Larisa Jasarevic offers an unforgettable look at the everyday experiences of people living in post socialist post war Bosnia Not at all existing on the world s margins Bosnians today are concerned with the good life and are as entangled in consumer debt as everyone else The insecurities of living in an economy dominated by informal networks of trade personal credit and indebtedness are experienced by Bosnians in terms of physical ailments some not recognized by Western medical science Jasarevic follows ordinary Bosnians in their search for treatment from use of pharmaceuticals to alternative medicines and folk healers of various kinds Financial well being and health are woven together for Bosnians and Jasarevic adeptly traces the links between the two realms In the process she addresses a number of themes that have been important in studies of life under neoliberalism in other parts of the world Who Do the Ngimurok Say That They Are? Kevin P. Lines, 2018-04-12 How do missiologists describe the cosmologies of those that Christianity encounters around the world Our descriptions often end up filtered through our own Western religious categories Furthermore indigenous Christians adopt these Western religious categories This presents the problem of local Christianities described by Kwame Bediako as those that have not known how to relate to their traditional culture in terms other than those of denunciation or of separateness Kevin Lines's phenomenological study of local religious specialists in Turkana Kenya not only challenges our Western categories by revealing a more authentic complexity of the issues for local Christians and Western missionaries but also provides a model for continued use of phenomenology as a valued research method in larger missiological studies Additionally this study points to the ways that local Christians and traditional religious practitioners interpret Western missionaries through local religious categories Clearly missionaries missiologists anthropologists and religious studies scholars need to do a much more careful job of studying and describing the contextually specific phenomena of traditional religious specialists before relying on meta categories that come out of our Western theology or older overly simplified ethnographies The research from this current study of Turkana religious specialists begins that process in the Turkana context and offers a model for future studies in contexts where traditional religion and Christianity intersect

Archaeology of Religion Sharon R. Steadman, 2016-07 This textbook shows how archaeology interprets past religions including case studies from around the world describing religious practices of both foragers and ancient complex societies

Diederik Aerts,Hendrik Pinxten,Immanuel Wallerstein,Bart D'hooghe,2011-03-28 This volume is part of the Worldviews Science and Us series of proceedings and contains several contributions on the subject of worlds cultures and society It represents the proceedings of several workshops and discussion panels organized by the Leo Apostel Center for Interdisciplinary studies within the framework of the Research on the Construction of Integrating Worldviews research community set up by the Flanders Fund for Scientific Research over the period of time between 2005 to 2010 Further information about this research community and a full list of the associated international research centers can be found at www.vub.ac.be/CLEA/res/worldviews Afrikology, Philosophy and Wholeness. An Epistemology W.

Nabudere,2011-04-11 How do we understand and create knowledge Does scientific knowledge cover all knowledge Afrikology tries to answer these questions by tracing the issue of epistemology to the Cradle of Humanity in Africa and through such a reflection the Monograph establishes a basis for holistic and integrated ways of knowledge production that makes it possible to interface scientific knowledge with other forms of knowledge In this way Afrikology responds to the crisis created by the fragmentation of knowledge through existing academic disciplines Afrikology therefore advances transdisciplinarity and hermeneutics to a level where they attain a coherent basis for interacting with Afrikology as an epistemology which returns wholeness to understanding and knowledge production Supernatural as Natural Michael Winkelman,John R.

Baker,2015-09-04 This book provides a general introduction to the biological and evolutionary bases of religion and is suitable for introductory level courses in the anthropology and psychology of religion and comparative religion Why did human ancestors everywhere adopt religious beliefs and customs The presence and persistence of many religious features across the globe and time suggests that it is natural for humans to believe in the supernatural In this new text the authors explore both the biological and cultural dimensions of religion and the evolutionary origins of religious features Yoruba Traditions and African American Religious Nationalism Tracey E. Hucks, 2012-05-16 Exploring the Yoruba tradition in the United States Hucks begins with the story of Nana Osejeman Adefunmi's personal search for identity and meaning as a young man in Detroit in the 1930s and 1940s She traces his development as an artist religious leader and founder of several African influenced religious cultural projects in Harlem and later in the South Adefunmi was part of a generation of young migrants attracted to the bohemian lifestyle of New York City and the black nationalist fervor of Harlem Cofounding Shango Temple in 1959 Yoruba Temple in 1960 and Oyotunji African Village in 1970 Adefunmi and other African Americans in that period renamed themselves Yorubas and engaged in the task of transforming Cuban Santería into a new religious expression that satisfied their racial and nationalist leanings and eventually helped to place African Americans on a global religious schema alongside other Yoruba practitioners in Africa and the diaspora Alongside the story of Adefunmi Hucks weaves historical and sociological analyses of the relationship between black cultural nationalism and reinterpretations of the meaning of Africa from within the African American community The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to African Religions
