Divorcing Jack:

Divorcing Jack Colin Bateman,1995 In Belfast reporter Starkey arrives in the apartment of his mistress a politician's daughter to find her dying from bullet wounds Her last words send him on a hunt for an audio tape pursued by various factions in the Northern Ireland war Irish politics Irish humor Voice and Discourse in the Irish Context Diana Villanueva Romero,Carolina P. Amador-Moreno,Manuel Sánchez García,2018-02-13 This book examines the intersection of culture and language in Ireland and Irish contexts The editors take an interdisciplinary approach exploring the ways in which culture identity and meaning making are constructed and performed through a variety of voices and discourses This edited collection analyses the work of well known Irish authors such as Beckett Joyce and G B Shaw combining new methodologies with more traditional approaches to the study of literary discourse and style Over the course of the volume the contributors also discuss how Irish voices are received in translation and how marginal voices are portrayed in the Irish mediascape This dynamic book brings together a multitude of contrasting perspectives and is sure to appeal to students and scholars of Irish literature migration studies discourse analysis traductology and dialectology Screening Ulster Richard Gallagher,2023-03-03 This book presents extensive research into the cinematic representation of the British identifying Protestant unionist and loyalist community in Northern Ireland and is the first time such comprehensive analysis has been produced Gallagher's research traces the history of the community's representation in cinema from the emergence of depictions of both nationalist and unionist communities in social realist dramas in 1980s British and Irish cinema to today through periods such as those focused on violent paramilitaries in the 1990s and irreverent comedy after the Northern Ireland peace process The book addresses the perception that the Irish nationalist community has been depicted more frequently and favourably than unionism in films about the period of conflict known as The Troubles Often argued to be the result of an Irish nationalist bias within Hollywood Gallagher argues that there are other inherent and systemic reasons for this cinematic deficit English Listening for ESL Students Book 1 , Jackie's Newport Raymond Sinibaldi,2019-06-01 Jacqueline Bouvier came to Newport when her mother married Hugh Auchincloss in 1942 Jackie married John F Kennedy in a most iconic Newport celebration This book will explore the less told anecdotes like the gown debacle that could have ruined the Kennedy nuptials Newport hosted the Kennedy's happiest times and the town holds dear memories of this American queen The tradition of tossing the bridal bouquet from the central stairs of Hammersmith Farm started with Jackie and continued long after Jackie and her family spent summers here even while the White House was their main address Men and Masculinities in Irish Cinema D. Ging,2012-12-03 Spanning a broad trajectory from the New Gaelic Man of post independence Ireland to the slick urban gangsters of contemporary productions this study traces a significant shift from idealistic images of Irish manhood to a much more diverse and gender politically ambiguous range of male identities on the Irish screen The IRA on Film and Television Mark Connelly,2014-01-10 The Irish Republican Army IRA has for decades pursued the goal of unifying its homeland into a single sovereign nation ending British rule in Northern Ireland Over the years the IRA has been dramatized in motion pictures directed by John Ford The Informer Carol Reed Odd Man Out David Lean Ryan's Daughter Neil Jordan Michael Collins and many others Such international film stars as Liam Neeson James Cagney Richard Gere James Mason and Anthony Hopkins have portrayed IRA members alternately as heroic patriots psychotic terrorists and tormented rebels This work analyzes celluloid depictions of the IRA from the 1916 Easter Rising to the peace process of the 1990s Topics include America's role in creating both the IRA and its cinematic image the organization's brief association with the Nazis and critical reception of IRA films in Ireland Britain and the United States Irish National Cinema Ruth Barton, 2004-07-31

From the international successes of Neil Jordan and Jim Sheridan to the smaller productions of the new generation of Irish filmmakers this book explores questions of nationalism gender identities the representation of the Troubles and of Irish history as well as cinema's response to the so called Celtic Tiger and its aftermath Irish National Cinema argues that in order to understand the unique position of filmmaking in Ireland and the inheritance on which contemporary filmmakers draw definitions of the Irish culture and identity must take into account the so called Irish diaspora and engage with its cinema An invaluable resource for students of world cinema Investigating Identities Marieke Krajenbrink, Kate M. Quinn, 2009

Investigating Identities Questions of Identity in Contemporary International Crime Fiction is one of the relatively few books to date which adopts a comparative approach to the study of the genre This collection of twenty essays by international scholars examining crime fiction production from over a dozen countries confirms that a comparative approach can both shed light on processes of adaptation and appropriation of the genre within specific national regional or local contexts and also uncover similarities between the works of authors from very different areas Contributors explore discourse concerning national and historical memory language race ethnicity culture and gender and examine how identity is affirmed and challenged in the crime genre today They reveal a growing tendency towards hybridization and postmodern experimentation and increasing engagement with philosophical enquiry into the epistemological dimensions of investigation Throughout the notion of stable identities is subject to scrutiny While each essay in itself is a valuable addition to existing criticism on the genre all the chapters mutually inform and complement each other in fascinating and often unexpected ways This volume makes an important contribution to the growing field of crime fiction studies and to ongoing debates on questions of identity It will therefore be of special interest to students and scholars of the crime genre identity studies and comparative literature It will also appeal to all who enjoy reading contemporary crime fiction The Media and the Tourist Imagination David Crouch, Rhona Jackson, Felix Thompson, 2005-06-15

Tourism studies and media studies both address key issues about how we perceive the world They raise acute questions about how we relate local knowledge and immediate experience to wider global processes and they both play a major role in creating our map of national and international cultures Adopting a multidisciplinary approach this book explores the interactions between tourism and media practices within a contemporary culture in which the consumption of images has become increasingly significant A number of common themes and concerns arise and the contributions included are divided between those written from media studies awareness perspective concerned with the way the media imagines travel and tourism written from the point of view of the study of tourism considering how tourism practices are affected or altered by the media that attempt a direct comparison between the practices of tourism and the media Incorporating case study material from the UK the Caribbean Australia the US France and Switzerland this significant text ideal for students of culture media and tourism studies discusses tourism and the media as separate processes through which identity is constructed in relation to space and place Contemporary British and Irish Film Directors Yoram Allon, Del Cullen, Hannah Patterson, 2001 The guide encompasses the careers of over 350 directors from the last 20 years A must for any film studies library it is a unique reference to the changing dynamics of these cinemas

Divorcing Jack Colin Bateman, 1998 This screenplay of Divorcing Jack finds Dan Starkey journalist and husband to Patricia involved with a beautiful student When she is found murdered Dan finds himself in a race against time to solve the crime and save himself and his marriage The Thirty Five Year Old Secret Karen Woods, 2018-07-17 What would you do if you woke up one morning and learned you had lived for five years with a serial rapist killer How would you react especially when you knew he had been your stepfather In this true story of Karen Woods a fifty something year old woman you will learn how she reacted to that knowledge When she was eight years old her birth mother met and married Willie Roy Jenkins a man who in 2013 was tried and convicted of committing the thirty five year old Texas cold case rape and murder of a young woman Enduring emotional and physical abuse from both it so traumatized Karen that she suppressed that reality for over thirty five years Testifying at Willie s sentencing trial brought it all out into the open plunging her into a raging depression that became full blown PTSD when she learned of his other victims In this candid account of her life she shares her sometimes rocky journey of healing given by the love of God Karen tells her story in the hope that others suffering trauma will also find healing through God s love Because with Him all things are possible Side-lights on English Society

Eustace Clare Grenville Murray, 1885 City Limits Stephanie Schwerter, 2022-01-13 Belfast Beirut and Berlin are notorious for their internal boundaries and borders As symbols for political disunion the three cities have inspired scriptwriters and directors from diverse cultural backgrounds Despite their different histories they share a wide range of features central to divided cities In each city particular territories take on specific symbolic and psychological meanings Following a comparative approach this book concentrates on the cinematographic representations of Belfast Beirut and Berlin Filmmakers are in constant search of new ways in order to engage with urban division Making use of a variety of genres reaching from thriller to comedy they explore the three cities internal and external borders as well as the psychological boundaries existing between citizens belonging to different communities Among the characters featuring in films set in Belfast Berlin and Beirut we may count dangerous gunmen prisoners wives soldiers and snipers but also comic Stasi members punk aficionados and fake nuns The various characters contribute to the creation of a multifaceted image of city limits in troubled times Down These Green Streets Declan Burke,2013-04-15 This book suggests crime fiction is now the most relevant and valid form of writing which can deal with modern Ireland in terms of the post Troubles landscape and post Celtic Tiger economic boom The book takes a chapter by chapter approach with each chapter and author discussing a different facet of Irish crime writing for example Declan Hughes discusses the influence of American culture on Irish crime writing and Tana French reflects on crime fiction and the post Celtic Tiger Irish identity This publication is aimed at both the academic and general reader Omnibus ,1998 Not Half Way, Not Your Way, But God's Way John Beresky,2018-07-24 Regarding faith a playwright once said Men still have faith but today men do not have faith in God Men have faith in the doctor That playwright lived to be ninety five years old We need to learn from God s people who lived long Ask yourself this question what did Noah or Abraham or Moses or Joshua do to achieve health and longevity I m sure they did nothing halfway or their way but they did things God s way The Cinema of Britain and Ireland Brian McFarlane,2005 A fresh concise but wide ranging introduction to and overview of British and Irish cinema this volume contains 24 essays each on a separate seminal film from the region Films under discussion include Pink String and Sealing Wax Room at the Top The Italian Job Orlando and Sweet Sixteen Funny Thing About Murder David Geherin,2017-10-11 Focusing on crime fiction and films that artfully combine comedy and misdeed this book explores the reasons writers and filmmakers inject humor into their work and identifies the various comic techniques they use The author covers both American and European books from the 1930s to the present by such authors as Rex Stout Raymond Chandler Robert B Parker Elmore Leonard Donald E Westlake Sue Grafton Carl Hiaasen and Janet Evanovich along with films from The Thin Man to the BBC s Sherlock series
